Session 1923 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1923. No. 53.

SENATE

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1923.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair,

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God: We come to Thee this morning, thanking Thee for past mercies and asking for a continuance of Thy loving favor. Bless our homes and all who are near and dear unto us. If any are sick, lay Thy healing hand upon them . If any are in trouble, grant them relief. Bless our Nation and the President of the United States. Watch over our Commonwealth and prosper us as a people. Be with our Governor and bless the Legislature; and in a very special way let Thy benediction rest upon the members of the Senate, and guide them in all their deliberations.

We ask it in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO RECONSTRUCTION OF LEHIGH COAL AND NAVIGATION CANAL.

Mr. BUCKMAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 30, 1923.

Whereas, Efforts have been made by prominent citizens of Bucks County to foster a movement to enlarge the present Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company's canal, running from tide water at Morrisville to Easton, and on to Mauch Chunk, and

Whereas, The United States War Department, through its engineering department, has been directed by an act of Congress to determine the value of such a canalization plan for the Upper Delaware Valley, and

Whereas, The engineers suggest a commission be created to function and cooperate with the said War Department, with a view of purchasing such rights of way for the use of the United States Government in the reconstruction of the old canal into a thousand ton barge canal, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania endorses the movement to provide for the canalization of the Upper Delaware Valley, and the purchase of rights of way and reconstruction of a one thousand ton barge canal running from the head of tide water of the Delaware River at Morrisville to Easton and Mauch Chunk.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and to the Secretary of War.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I do not know what the resolution is about, and I do not want to vote for a resolution without knowing what it is.

Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President what is the purpose of the resolution?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the purpose of the resolution is to call the matter to the attention of the Congress of the United States. If the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Long, objects to its being considered now I have no objection to its going to committee, or I will answer any questions that he may ask.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I ask that the resolution be referred to committee.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Canals and Inland Navigation.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL NO. 43.

Mr. SCHANTZ offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 8, 1923.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 47, File Folio, entitled:

An Act to amend section eleven of the act approved June 13, 1840 (P. D. 1839, and for other purposes;" allowing constables mileage for advertising elections, and compensation for advertising elections where there is more than one polling place in a district. Said mileage and compensation to be paid by counties.

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION INVITING MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE TO ATTEND MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Mr. BROWN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to,

In the Senate, May 8, 1923.

Whereas, Memorial services in honor of the late William E. Crow, Senator from Pennsylvania in Congress of the United States and a former member of the Senate of Pennsylvania, are to be held in the Hall of the Senate today at two o'clock P. M. and the presence of the members of the House of Representatives is desired at said services, therefore be it

Resolved, That an invitation be extended to the Members of the House of Representatives to attend said memorial services by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 914, (House Bill No. 246), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section eleven of article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, as I understand this bill the Courts of Quarter Sessions now have all the powers that they are granted in this bill. The Courts of Quarter Sessions at the present time have powers to change election districts, create them, alter them, change their boundaries, and that is all that this bill does.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, my understanding of the law at the present time is this: That upon petition of the voters in any district where there has been an excess of 250 votes polled it is mandatory on the part of the court to split the district and create thereby an additional district. Under the proposed amendment it would leave that part of it open and the court itself would consider each petition on its merits. Or, in other words, some polling places have several thousand persons, others 500. Under the present law it is absolutely mandatory on the part of the court, upon petition, to create these divisions when there are in excess of 250 voters.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I do not understand that there is any provision like that in the Constitution at the present time. If it is a law certainly it does not take a constitutional amendment to change the law. There is no constitutional provision like that at the present time.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I think the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, will find that there is a provision of the character mentioned by Senator Vare, and that since women vote, in many of the election districts, it is absolutely necessary that they be divided. They are now operating unconstitutionally and to provide that the districts have 250 votes would make an endless number of election officers and increase the expenses of the elections. This is a perfectly good bill.

Mr. LESLIE. If there be a question or doubt, I myself not having read the resolution, but after adjournment last evening, I was under the impression that it would apply generally. I am familiar somewhat with the redistricting and dividing of boundary lines. I know of no constitutional provision that has any bearing on this other than the general election provision in the Constitution which is created by Act of Assembly, and I think, since there is still a doubt in the minds of the different members, who are lawyers, it would not hurt that the bill go over. So far as I am personally concerned I will vote for this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The bill has been read and it cannot go over in order. The Chair will entertain a motion to postpone action on the bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

HOUSE MESSAGES.

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 47.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate, as follows:

In the Senate, May 8, 1923.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 47, File Folio, entitled:

"An act to amend section eleven of the act approved June 13, 1840 (P. L. 683), entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'an act, relating to the elections of this Commonwealth,' passed the second day of July, A. D. 1839, and for other purposes;" allowing constables mileage for advertising elections, and compensation for advertising elections where there is more than one polling place in a district. Said mileage and compensation to be paid by counties." be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

RESOLUTION COMMENDING LIEUTENANT OAKLEY G. KELLY.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, May 7, 1923.

Whereas, Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly of the United States Army, a resident of Grove City, Penneylvania, in company with Lieutenant John A. Macready, on May third, successfully completed that heretofore unaccomplished feat of spanning the American Continent in a single non-stop airplane flight, and in this trip of over twenty-seven hundred miles from Hempstead, New York to Rockwell Field, San Diego, California, in less than twenty-seven hours, they broke all records for non-stop flights, and

Whereas, In assisting in this spectacular flight across the country, this courageous son of Pennsylvania has reflected lasting credit upon his native State, and has prominently written her name with his in the annals of aviation history, and

Whereas, Their success has added to the peaceful air victories of our Country, has demonstrated anew the pluck, bravery, stamina, perseverance and daring of her sons, and has given to the world notice of the power and resourcefulness of the air branch of her army; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the congratulations of the people of the State of Pennsylvania through her chosen Representatives in General Assembly met, be extended to her valiant son, the said Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly, and his companion, upon their remarkable and unprecedented flight, and that they be assured of the best wishes of the people of the State for the Success of their future attempts to establish new records and bring more glory to their Country, and be it

Further Resolved, That these resolutions be printed in the journal and a properly certified copy thereof be forwarded to the said Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly now at San Diego, California.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly,

HOUSE APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE.

He also informed the Senate that the House insists on its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 234, entitled:

An Act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto and has appointed Messrs. Whiteman, Eaches and Grover C. Meyers, as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, will state his question of personal privilege.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, in a recent discussion relative to changing the method of book keeping in the State Highway Department, the distinguished Senator from Bucks County asked me the question whether or not my motive was not that of desiring to change the method of appropriations in so far as the returns of Philadelphia County were concerned. I assured him that it was not. However, inasmuch as it would have a tendency toward raising the question as to the great help which the City of Philadelphia had given to the Commonwealth insofar as her financial relations were concerned, may I submit to the Senate, in connection with the improvement of the Port of Philadelphia; that between the years 1907 and 1921, the State of Pennsylvania has appropriated all told $1,600,000, whereas during the same time the City of Philadelphia, for that same purpose, has expended $22,853,260, or, in other words, the city has virtually expended for the improvement of the port, the great water gateway of this Commonwealth, twelve times as much as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Mr. President, I submit these figures with the one thought in mind that when the appropriations are being divided that there be proper equal recognition given to the great metropolitan City of Philadelphia insofar as state appropriations are concerned.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I move that all bills reported from Committees at to-day's session be read the first time.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The Senate met at two o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. T. L. Eyre) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT This being the time fixed by the resolution for holding the memorial services on the death of Honorable William E Crow, late United States Senator, the Senate will be in order and will be opened with prayer by the Chaplain.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and everliving God:

We have come together at this time to honor the memory of one who was a distinguished leader in this body, and who afterward represented our Commonwealth in the National Senate. That mysterious visitor, whom we call Death, who is never idle, who enters every home, and who, some day, will summon us away, has taken our friend from our midst. We thank Thee that so many of us were permitted to know him, as he came in and went out among us. We are thinking of him at this hour, and we delight to recall the excellencies which marked his life and character. He will not be forgotten by the multitude of his friends and colleagues.

Grant Thy comforting grace to the bereaved kindred, and in this time of their affliction, help them to learn the deep and abiding significance of the Beatitude of Sorrow: "Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted."

Remind us all of the brevity of life, and help us to so order our conduct that it may be in perfect harmony with Thy will; so that whenever Thou shalt call us hence, be it sooner or later, we may be found ready to go and dwell with Thee forever.

We ask it in the name of our Lord and Master, who died and rose again from the dead. Amen.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE WILLIAM E. CROW, LATE UNITED STATES SENATOR.

Mr. BROWN offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, On August second, nineteen hundred and twenty-two, Almighty God called from us the Honorable William Evans Crow, Senior United States Senator from Pennsylvania, and until recently, Senator from the Thirty-second District; and

Whereas, the Senate of Pennsylvania, which body he long honored by his membership and counseled in his wisdom, desires to express its high regard for his character and its sorrow for his loss, now then be it

Resolved, that in the death of Senator Crow, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has lost its most loved citizen, and one of its greatest and most useful sons; that this Nation was deprived of a unique opportunity to utilize the services, the genius and the life which he dedicated to her cause; that in every phase of life, be it as citizen, lawyer, public official or statesman, he proved himself a helpful and a loyal friend—a friend to others, to his community, to his state, and to his country, and by that friendship made better and happier the lot of his fellowmen; that, with power and prominence he was ever modest, affable and gentle, never losing the common touch; that by his qualities of mind and character he was particularly fitted for the brilliant yet unassuming leadership which was his; that the profund loss which was universally felt at his departure, is especially felt by this body and that, therefore, we, his former colleagues, hereby publicly express our genuine sorrow over his death. And it is further

Resolved, that the Senate of Pennsylvania cause a copy of these resolutions, duly engrossed, to be given to the members of the bereaved family of the deceased, as a token of our sympathy gratitude and esteem.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. It becomes my painful duty once more to preside over a memorial service for your friend and mine. To know the late Senator Crow was to love him and to have confidence in all occasions in which he participated. I am reminded, as I think of him, my comrade and friend, of a motto that hangs over my desk at my office:

When the one great scorer comes to write against your name
He writes not that you won or lost, but how you played the game.

Anybody who knew Bill Crow knows that he played the game in the open, on the square and with absolute fairness toward to all parties with whom he came in contact. I know of no man whose presence has been, or will be so much missed in the Senate of Pennsylvania as the departed Senator Crow. It is true that we would not have had him in this body this session had he not been removed by death, but he would have been a member of the higher legislative body and would always have been with us to counsel and advise us on those subjects in which we are interested. We must, however, get along without him. He has left us never to return, and it seems to me that if any of us, when our time comes to go to our last home, can have one half the honor shown at our funeral that was shown at the funeral of our friend, our families can feel that we did not live our lives in vain, but that we lived our lives to the profit of our families, our State and our Nation.

I am not going to say more at this time for lack of time, because there are a number of speakers who want to say a word on this occasion in tribute to our departed friend.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, we are gathered her to-day to do honor to one of Pennsylvania's most illustrious sons. T'was just a few months ago that we followed to the last resting place, the earthly remains of Senator William E. Crow.

Nothing that we may do here can in any way assuage the feeling of sorrow that gripped our hearts and minds when the Death Angel sounded his trumpet and called that great man from this world. It is not with the thought that this memorial might lessen our grief that these services are held, but rather do we seek to honor ourselves, and the people whom he so faithfully served thoughout his life. It is well that we should recall the lives and activities of such men as he, for it gives us a new conception of our own duties and a firmer determination to serve to the utmost our fellowmen. Well might we examine the life of William E. Crow for inspiration and for a genuine example of a true public servant. Surely in the annals of Pennsylvania there is no brighter example of the possibilities of attainment under our form of government that that depicted by the life of our friend. By his own efforts and his own sacrifices he trod the pathway which led to the United States Senate. What a laudable example we have in his life for the guidance of the future generations of this State. No man can claim the devotion and love of a people such as Senator Crow possessed, unless his life is worthy of emulation. I do not mean to express the thought that he was without fault, for in the history of mankind there has been only one perfect man, the Carpenter of Nazareth. Yet even the Senator's frailities endeared him to us. We loved him for his faults as well as for his virtues.

Who made the heart, 'tis He alone
Dicidely can try us,
He knows each chord, its various tone;
Each spring its various bias;
Then at the balance, let's be mute
We never can adjust it,
What's done we partly can compute,
But know not what's resisted.
"Robert Burns"

Perhaps it might be well that we should review the steps of Senator Crow's political life, noting the growth of his influence and power, until he stood forth as the political leader of the great state of Pennsylvania. Perhaps we could with profit and pleasure review his many legislative accomplishments, for no man has had a greater influence in the halls of Pennsylvania's Legislature than he. We might with pride recall the many humanitarian laws in whose passage he was such a factor. We might recount without number the laws upon our statute books which tend toward the betterment of the lives of workingmen and women, which were placed there, in a large measure, by the influence of Senator Crow.

Yet after all, it is not the memory of his political accomplishments, nor yet his statemanship, that remains green in our hearts, but it's William E. Crow, the man, our friend and counsellor. When the final summons came on August 2, 1922, the State of Pennsylvania and the Republic of the United States of America, lost a statesman and a patriot. But friends, we of Fayette County lost even more, for we were bereaved of one of the truest friends that God ever gave to a people. Heavy were our hearts on the day, when the word was passed from man to man that "Bill" Crow was dead. Even the children of our county realized that his death was a loss to them.

Perhaps some of my listeners, who were denied the opportunity of knowing intimately Senator Crow, may ask, what were the characteristics which so endeared him to the people of Fayette County. To answer such a question is to me a pleasure for it brings to mind an image of that bright, animated, pleasing countenance. Senator Crow possessed one of the strongest of personalities. He, without any conscious effort, drew men to him. What that peculiar power is, we cannot define, we can only note its manifestation. Such a power we find in men who have stood forth in the world's history. Socrates, as the thinker and teacher, had the peculiar power to attract young men, so that they followed after him to hear his discourses; Alexander, as the young warrior of Macedonia, by his personality, was able to lead the youths of his native land, far from their homes to the fields of conquest; Cromwell, as the statesman, possessed such a power over the minds of men that he was able to knit together the elements of a decaying nation and England again became a dominant nation in the world. Our own Lincoln, as the Great Emancipator, ungainly of form, yet with a heart as pure as gold, had such a power over the minds of men that this nation was willing to sacrifice the lives of thousands of its citizens in order that this might be a government of people, by the people and for the people. I might go on and recount man after man who has possessed this peculiar attribute of great men, the ability to develop the love and affection of their fellows. I beleive that I err not, when I say that William E. Crow possessed to the highest degress this peculiar quality. To know him was to love him; you might disagree with this point of view, yet this did not lessen your respect for him. Is it then difficult to understand why he became the leader of a great political party in Pennsylvania? This leadership brought with it a deep responsibility, a responsibility that exacted the highest toll of his physical being, strong and robust though he was. Yet he was a beneficient leader, one who sought the advice of his followers but once having determined the proper course of action, he was relentless in the achievement. Senator Crow was the type of leader, whom men delight to follow, leadership with him was a natural endowment. You accepted him as such, because the impeling forces of his character set him apart from other men. The great state of Pennsylvania owes a debt of gratitude which never can be repaid to the progressive practical and aggressive leadership of Senator Crow.

Senator Crow was a man of the common people. Though possessed of a brilliant mind and a dignified bearing, yet he was happy in his association with men in all walks of life. He gave to the most humble of men, the same attentive ear that he gave to those more fortunate in life. No matter how trivial a request might seem, if it were within his power, it was granted. The object of Senator Crow's life seems to have been to serve others. This was his joy; the recompense, some happiness for others. Is such a purpose not worth emulating? To serve others should be the geatest ambition of life. Recall to your memories the man whom you and the world honor to-day. Are they the men who selfishly gathered the wealth of Croesus, or conquered worlds; or enslaved peoples, or are they the men who sacrifice the most, who gave to the world their last full measure of devotion.

Another dominant characteristic of Senator Crow's life I would recall to your memories, was the quality of mercy and of kindness possessed by him. These qualities were not only manifested by him in his political and business life, but appeared in his everyday life. It is not for me to cite you instance after instance of widows helped, of orphans succored, of those discouraged or "down and out" who owe to him a new hope and a new vision of life. Neither was he harsh nor unforgiving. Senator Crow judged men not by their frailities, for his was a forgiving spirit. I do not know how to better express this thought than by recalling a passage from Shakespeare, for I beleive it truly represented the sentiments of his heart:

> The quality of mercy is not strained
> It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
> Upon the place beneath; it is twice blest:
> It blesseth him that gives and him that takes;
> 'Tis mightiest in the mightiest; it becomes
> The throned monarch better than his crown;
> His sceptre shows the force of temporal power
> The attribute to awe and majesty,
> Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings
> It is an attribute to God himself;
> An earthly power doth then show likest God's
> When mercy seasons justice.

I would go on and recount other virtues of him whom we honor to-day, but as the time alloted to me has expired, I shall close with just a few words reference to his hospitality. Did you ever visit him in his mountain home? What a welcome one received from him and his good wife. I speak from experience when I say, that it was a real joy to visit that home. And what a delight the Senator had in it. Here surrounded by vast mountains, shaded by great forests, the Senator found peace and quietness. He was a nature loving man and his heart thrilled with the joys of the great outdoors.

Senator William Evans Crow is dead, but his memory will ever remain green in the hearts and minds of the people of Fayette County and the great state of Pennsylvania. We will ever hold him to have been a great leader, a great statesman, but best of all, a great friend and lover of mankind.

> The sun is but a spark of fire,
> A transient meteor in the sky-
> The Soul, immortal as its Sire,
> Shall never die.

Mr. SISSON. Mr. President, Members of the Senate and friends, I became acquainted with Senator Crow in 1906, the session of 1907, when he came into the Senate as a new member. My associations with him from that time, until the time of his death, were very congenial, very pleasant and very agreeable. We knew that each had confidence in the other. He was a frequent visitor at Erie and I frequently visited him at his mountain home in Fayette County, and knew his family well. He was Chairman of the Republican State Committee from 1913 until he went into the United States Senate in 1922. My associations with him were of a character that made me appreciate him very highly. Like all Pennsylvanians, I regretted exceedingly when death took him from our midst, and with him went other great Pennsylvanians, about the time death took our United States Senator and other prominent people of Pennsylvania. I always regarded Senator Crow as an Abou Ben Adhem.

> Abou Ben Adhem (may his tribe increase!)
> Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace,
> And saw, within the moonlight of his room,
> Making it rich, and like a lily in bloom,
> An angel writing in a book of gold:—
> Exceeding peace had made Ben Adhem bold,
> And to the Presence in his room he said,
> "What writest thou?"—The vision raised its head,
> And with a look made of all sweet accord,
> Answered, "The names of those who love the Lord."
> "And is mine one?" said Abou. "Say not so,"

Replied the Angel. About spoke more low,
But cheerily still; and said, "I pray thee, then,
Write me as one that loves his fellow-men."
The Angel wrote, and vanished. The next night
It came again with a great wakening light,
And showed the names whom love of God had plessed,
And lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, members of the Senate and friends, we have assembled here today to do reverence to the memory of a departed friend.

"Friend after friend departs;
Who has not lost a friend?
There is no union here of hearts
That finds not here an end."
"Once in the flight of us here assembled
There lived a man."

A real man, a man of character, personality and ability, such was William Evans Crow, born March 10, 1870 and died August 2, 1922, in his fifty-third year. From a farm boy to a Senator of the United States—such was the achievement of William Evans Crow, an achievement made possible by the outstanding qualities of his heart and mind, which we, his associates in this Chamber, so well knew. Keen insight men and things, coupled with unfailing good nature, made him remarkable both for ability and for popularity. His great experience made him a political leader of wisdom invaluable to the counsels of the Republican Party. His career of mounting the political ladder from the lowest rung to one of the greatest offices within the gift of the people of Pennsylvania, made his leadership true leadership because it was based upon knowledge of the people of his State. No mere scholar or man accustomed to an easy path through life could have acquired his broad, tolerant and wise outlook, which grew from his experience, his love for his great State and his knowledge of her citizens, their virtues and their frailities.

I cannot bring my mind to dwell upon the sadness of his death, at a time when his life's ambition was in full flower.

"O Death,
What feast is toward in thine eternal cell,
That thou so many princes at a shot
So bloodily hast struck."

Men esteem and value nothing so much in this world as a real friend, such a one as if it were another self, such a character was our late friend. Every one trusted him, had confidence in him and he likewise made his presence, thoughts and company an everlasting pleasure to us.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I regret that I did not come here today prepared with a eulogy of the esteem in which I held Senator Crow. I esteemed his friendship and my regard and love for him was as strong as that of any other man. I consider William Crow one of the best fellows that I ever knew. When I came into the Senate in 1909, Senator Crow had served his first session. We became close personal friends from that time on. As you knew at the end of the session in 1909, he was elected President pro tempore for the recess, and at the convening of the session of 1911 he was made the President pro tempore for the session. I want to call your attention briefly to his biography as presented by his friend Congressman Crago in the memorial held in Congress:

William E. Crow, Republican, of Uniontown, Fayette County, was born in German Township, Fayette County, Pa., March 10, 1870; was reared on a farm and educated in the public schools, the Southwestern State Norman School, from which he was graduated in 1890, and Waynesburg College; was engaged in newspaper work for three years; studied law and was admitted to the bar of Fayette County in 1895; appointed assistant district attorney in 1896, and in November, 1898, was elected district attorney for a term of three years; was chairman of the Republican county committee in 1899, 1900, and 1901; served as a delegate to various Republican State conventions and to the Republican National Convention in 1916; was elected chairman of the Republican State committee in 1913, and reelected in 1914, 1916, and 1918; elected to the State senate in 1906; reelected in 1910, 1914, and in November, 1918; elected president pro tempore of the State senate at the close of the session in 1909, and was reelected in 1911; was appointed to the United States Senate by Governor Sproul, of Pennsylvania, to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Knox, and took the oath of office on October 24, 1921.

March 24, 1897, Senator Crow was married to Miss Adelaide Curry, of Fayette County, and to this union were born three sons, Evans Curry Crow, William Evans Crow, jr., and Warren Crow. Senator Crow passed away Wednesday morning August 2, 1922, leaving to survive him the widow and these three sons. Thus in this short recital of dates and events is encompassed a life so filled with work and action, and which when ended left a vacancy in the life of a home and in the affairs of the Nation.

I do not believe in our State we have any better illustration of the possibilities of a poor boy with proper ambition and industry than is shown in the life of our friend William Crow. I need not say to you fellow Senators who knew him well that I think he was the most friendly, the most affable fellow that I knew. I think that the secret perhaps of his political and business success was his wonderful personality. I knew him in sunshine, in rain and in storm. I knew him on all occasions, walked with him, talked with him and visited with him and there never was a cleaner better fellow ever lived, successful as a business man, an able lawyer, a good citizen, a splendid family man, with eminent love for his family, and the return of that affection from his family. Will Crow was no ordinary fellow; he was an extra-ordinary fellow. In my opinion he was one of those third degree fellows all of the time. If he had lived, with the passing of Senator Penrose, with the qualities that he had, he would have become and continued the prominent factor in our State politics, and then a prominent figure in the national affairs of our State. Senator Crow had the quality of friendship, sympathy and love beyond most any other man, and they were the essentials that would have kept him in public life and would have carried him anywhere. You never knew a man as a State Chairman, or in his position as State Senator, that so many men over the State were glad to do things for as they were for Senator Crow. It was a pleasure for them. He was a wonderful leader. As I think of it, since my coming into the Senate in 1909 we have held these memorial occasions every session, one or two of our good boys passing on, we are impressed with the sentiment of the poem which reads something like this:

They are passing away these sweet swift years
With never a break in their rapid flow.
We watch them as one by one.
They go into the beautiful past,
There are but a few years more to live.

Shall we waste them in envious taunts?
Shall we trample under our ruthless feet
Those beautiful blossoms, fair and sweet
By the dusty way of life?
There are but a few years more to live.

Oh, let not envious taunts be heard.
Make life's fair pattern or rare design
And fill up the measure of love's sweet wine,
But never an angry word.
Strew gladness along the paths of men,
You will not pass this way again.

That is what our good friend Senator Crow did, strewed gladness along the paths of men, and I am reminded by his death, by his loss, that there is a voice from the tomb that is sweeter than song, there is a memory of the dead to which we turn even from the charms of the living. These we would not want exchanged for the song of pleasure or the mirth of revelry.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, it is peculiarly fitting and appropriate that memorial services should be held in this Chamber for William E. Crow. Here he served as a Senator throughout eight sessions of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Upon the legislation here enacted he left an enduring impress. With those here associated with him he left the memory of a friendship that will be an abiding treasure of their lives.

Senator Crow was innately marked out for the public service. Whatever his gifts and capacity may have been in other realms, and they were varied and rich, his supreme gift was that of public leadership. Almost immediately upon his admission to the bar he was summoned by appointment to the office of District Attorney, and filled the place with such satisfaction that he was elected for the ensuing full term. He came to the Pennsylvania Senate when still young, and at an hour when it was graded by a veteran and able membership. From the outset he took rank among the strongest, so recognized by all, and at the end of his first term was selected for President Pro Tempore, and continued in this position during the next session, an honor that commonly comes only to those of longer service. No one ever knew this body better than he, had greater familiarity with its rules of procedure, more respect for its noble traditions, higher pride in its standing or clearer understanding of its vast power in shaping the destiny of the Commonwealth. He was a master in the handling of legislation. Whether in the searching and analytical work of the committee room or in debate and open discussion on the floor, he commanded attention by the thoroughness of his knowledge and the force of his utterance.

Senator Crow's services here covered a period signalized by legislation of the utmost consequence to the Commonwealth. Many new departments of government were created to meet the expanding activities and changing conditions of her social and industrial development. Laws safeguarding the work of the child and the woman, providing compensation for injured employes, and kindred nature, were passed. In all this constructive work, and in these humanitarian measures he exercised a real and, at times, controlling power. He spoke not merely for his own district, but voiced and represented the dominant party of the entire State. But as a legislator the partisan never controlled the statesmen. No majority leader was ever more considerate of the just rights of the minority, or readier to see that it had fair consideration. He loved his State and its whole people, took exalted pride in our matchless resources and industries, and out of such pride and love, sought to legislate for the betterment of all and was ever big enough and broad enough to yield his own opinion when convinced that the views of others might better promote the welfare of all. He was never the mouthpiece of any special class or the instrument of any special interest. He never mistook stubborness for firmness, nor self sufficiency for statesmanship.

His capacity for political management amounted to genius. His appraisal of the value of local organization was well nigh faultless, as his sense was unerring as to what issue most concerned the people. As Chairman of its State Committee he was the field marshall of his party in some of its most brilliant state victories. He succeeded to this position in an hour of party gloom, in the year following its severest National reverse, and when to many, it seemed riven forever. Political friend and foe alike must accord to him much of the glory and credit for welding its broken ranks here in Pennsylvania again into a disciplined army. While he fought to win, it was always without bitterness and with a fairness of which his adversaries had no just reason to complain.

All can rejoice that his life's ambition was realized. When a vacancy occured in a United States Senatorship from this State, and in accordance with settled usage it would be filled by one from beyond the Alleghenies, eyes turned to William E. Crow as the man at once fitted and entitled to the place. It must have been deeply gratifying to him that the appointment came from the hand of his beloved friend and long time fellow Senator on this floor, Governor William C. Sproul. The appointment honored them both, he who received and the knightly spirit of him who gave.

This honor came to Senator Crow, however, when the shadow of death was already upon him. Only those close to him can ever fully know the broken hopes that haunted those weary, wasting weeks as he battled so bravely, so patiently with the insidious malady that was bearing him to that farther shore. He had won many battles, but it was not to be for him to win this one. "God's finger touched him and he slept".

For a State to lose three United States Senators within the space of less than a year is perhaps unparrelled in American annals. It was not afforded to Senator Crow to gain in the Federal Senate that renown which haloed the careers of Senator Penrose and Senator Knox. We may be confident if he had been permitted to serve a considerable tenure there, that his trained legislative skill fashioned and strengthened here, his industry and fidelity brought to the discharge of every duty, and his extraordinary talent for leadership, would surely have gained him a national fame.

Today, as we pay our deserved tributes to his public worth and services, we are all thinking first and caring most for the man himself, his winning personality, his warm greeting, his charm, and those qualities of a great heart which outlast all else in the sweet remembrance of him we loved so well and now have lost.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate: Coming as I do from the City of Philadelphia and the County of Philadelphia, it being the largest county in the state, it is but fitting that some one representing that county should say a word or two about the late Senator Crow. Senator Crow was a man's man and his loss is not the loss of Fayette County, it is the loss of Pennsylvania, it is the nation's loss. He was a big man, a big man to the extent that his thoughts and ideas covered not only legislation of a county or of his state, but were bigger than that, they covered the entire American Continent. His ideas were large. He loved all the people of the United States. He loved its institutions, and above all things else he was a great patriot. He had those qualities that make of any man a wonderful man. He was a home loving man, he was a patriot and loyal friend and any man who has those three qualities can not be aught but successful. There can be no question but that he was a home loving man, for you could see on the floor of this Senate that home love and spirit of affection that he must have received in that home, surrounded by his wife and children, radiating to the various members of this body, and at times during political factional fights when men on this floor were at daggers points, one with the other, that the kindliness and that love of his fellow man, and with that calmness for which he was noted, just by the beck of the hand and the saying of a kind word or two, all the turmoil passed away and we then again would come down to a sane and sensible solution of the problems before us. As to his loyalty and devotion to his friends that is so well known by those of us who knew him that it will be almost unfair to talk about it. He loved his fellow man. He kept his word and he expected a man in return to keep his. I believe in all instances when Senator Crow exacted from a man a promise that promise was kept because every one knew that a promise made by Senator Crow was a promise written in the blood of a human being and meant all that was said. Insofar as his patriotism is concerned I had occasion on one time to talk to him in the little back room and he said to me "Sam, we live in a great country, we live with a great people, we are a great people and the time must come, as it will, maybe not in your time or mine, but the time will come when all nations of the world will be looking towards this United States Government, and from its laws, its institutions, all other nations must take their model, and in the near future this United States Government and its Constitution will be the government of all the world." He said "that may not come in your time, but it will come as sure as we are human beings." He believed in this great government, he believed in its people. On another occasion in speaking to him I found that not only was he a political student, a great lawyer, a business man of standing but that he was a reader of books, and among those authors that he thought most of was that great American poet, Longfellow, who he said had done so much toward elevating and educating the youth of this country, and the thought came to my mind when I looked over some of the words of Longfellow and I wondered whether or not some of the writings of that author had not had some effect on the character and the life and on the actions of the late Senator. In conclusion I believe that these two stanzas, taken from the Psalm of Life by Longfellow, had mlch to do with the younger life of the late Senator Crow.

> Lives of great men all remind us,
> We can make our lives sublime,
> And, departing, leave behind us,
> Footprints on the sands of time.
> Footprints, that perhaps another,
> Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
> A forlorn and ship-wrecked brother,
> Seeing, shall take heart again.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, members of the Senate and friends of Senator Crow: It is my privilege to repeat to you this afternoon the most beautiful tribute that I have ever heard rendered unto a prince among men, at the funeral services of the late Senator William E. Crow. To say aught it seems to me would be false to his memory, and to improve upon this would be impossible; therefore, I crave your time, just a few minutes, to read the eulogy by the Reverend W. Hamilton Spence.

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE PAID SENATOR CROW BY DR. W. HAMILTON SPENCE.

I am never called upon to perform a service like the present one—to do justice to the dead, which is among the highest obligations that devolve upon the living, without feeling that someone, who had been for longer and more intimately associated with the deceased, could more fittingly voice respect for the character of the departed, and more correctly appraise the services he rendered. I would not attempt an account of the career of so prominent a citizen as Senator Crow, in the presence of those who have been associated with him in various ways for almost a life-time; or presume to analyze the character of one whom so many present are now thinking of even more as a personal friend than as a public character.

My own associations with him were of an entirely personal nature, which naturally has to do with determining one's judgment; but these associations, always affectionate and confidential, were long enough and intimate enough to enable one to discover something of his inner self, the man within the man.

This, no subtility of mind was necessary to dscover, for it was frank and obvious.

The time and place of a man's birth, the character and extent of his education, his environment and inheritances, are but incidents and episodes, the arena on which he pursues his purpose, the instrument by which he accomplishes his will. An account of these is valuable in a biography, as exhibiting the conditions under which a life pursues its purpose and accomplishes its work; but the most valuable point in every biography lies behind and beneath a man's sayings and doings, in the central and controlling idea of the man himself. He is the real center of interest, his personality.

Personality, that vague, indefinable something that singles out one from the many, establishes distinction, is assertive yet attractive, giving an unmistakable sense of the possessor being all there, at every moment and at every point of his contact with people and affairs, one could not but feel that Senator Crow was a personality, a force within himself, compelling and virile; moved more from within than without; daring to think his own thoughts and repose upon his own convictions.

This qualified him for leadership; endowed him with initiative. Leadership came to him as a birthright. Nature intended him to be a leader.

He possessed personal qualities that drew people to him,—that, because he was lovable, kindly and sympathetic.

By these he led quite as much as by special abilities to command, exceptional though these were.

His large following was as much personal as partisan; and many drew to him, adhered to him, worked with him in the field of public life, because he was the kind of a man he was, because he was Will Crow, winsome, companionable, magnetic; and because his loyalty to those who attached themselves to him need never be matter of doubt.

He had the gift of making friends; and this gift was greatly his strength.

He possessed the instinct to divine how others feel and thought, the genius almost to an uncanny degree, to forsee how people would react. He could put himself in their place, think himself into others! And while never losing his own individuality, or becoming but an echo or reflection of others, it made others feel they belonged to him and he to them; that their interests were one.

An outstanding quality, universally conceded and generously admired, was his extraordinary freedom from malice. "He reviled not again". He was sensitive, like us all, could be hurt, often was, but the resentment felt could be restrained and the flash of anger not allowed to kindle into the nursed flames of hate. The sun went not down upon his wrath. Impulse was curbed this side of retaliation; and, upon many an occasion it was transmuted into an act of favor, converting the antagonists into friends. A more conciliatory and forgiving spirit we have not known.

And this can but suggest another quality many felt to be a high distinction in him: self control.

It was not wholly temperamental; for temperamentally he was not phlegmatic; he was alive all through, could flash under provocation like the most sanguine of us; but he learned to bank the inner fire, to silence the call of the blood. Knowing that one is unfit to be entrusted with responsibility; is unable to command the allegiance of others, who has not first come to possess and command himself, he schooled himself in that hardest of schools, self discipline, until self was well in hand, and had developed the power that belongs only to self-restraint. Strange, power, is it not, that a man can come to stand above himself, to command the uses of his own soul, as if two, two in one, himself the commander and the commanded. That power Senator Crow acquired in an eminent degree.

Kindly of his disposition by nature, he preferred to be generous, and to be attentive to the interests of others, a trait most easily misconstrued, especially in a public man, to be but a means to one's own ambitious ends! But those who knew Senator Crow well, and would impartially judge, knew that his kindliness was not assumed, nor motived by sinister purpose. It was his own disposition functioning naturally. Never too tired to listen to the wants of others; however humble of station, never too busy to make the attempt to relieve them.

I alluded to his gift of making friends. To be sure he had enemies, rather antagonists! But what of these he had were not personal but political, incidental to any man in public life. As such they were periodic rather than continuous; and as such were of the most forgetting and forgiving kind. The kind of enmities that were aroused came and went, leaving no racor behind; for he was a man hard to dislike.

His virtues were his own, were of the fiber of his own manhood; what faults were attributed to him as a public man, we shall be ready to say were mainly those of the system, the political environment amid which he worked and aspired.

I think that distinction may frankly, and must fairly be made, in varying degrees, with every one of us.

Every man is himself plus his environment; and it is within and by means of just that environment he must work out his life-accomplishments.

It is enough for us to prize and appraise the virtues that another has made his own, that he has fought for and accomplished, and to leave the rest with God, who will doubtless generously sift out the grain from the chaff and credit to us all the equity that our lives have accumulated.

Strong of will, fixed of purpose, and with so much to live for, a future seemingly but begun in a larger way, his ambition and dream, a future promising to become national as well as state, it is not easy for him to yield voluntarily to the last clear call.

But with the grace of God, he fought it out, and could say, "Thy will be done". When fought out there came to him a peace, a strength not his own, the resignation not of compulsion, but of trust in the wisdom of Him to whom no life is fragmentary or unfinished however seemingly foreshertened or brief. At fifty-two years of age he passed from our midst; dead too soon for himself and for us, but in the Sacred Book we are told that with God, the years of a man's life, as his acts—are not counted but weighed.

In conclusion I may say, as an efficient servant of the people, in his eminent sphere, the Commonwealth owes him its gratitude, and an enduring place in its public memory.

It may well be, too, that with no little pride this community may remember it fitted him for, and gave him to the Commonwealth, reflecting upon it, as he did, the lustre of a record many might envy, and leaving behind in it a vacancy not many can fill.

Mighty always is the hallowing influence of death upon us. His more than most.

In its presence, forgotten is every resentment, buried every defect. It causes us to recall the departed only at their best, and to bestow upon them only our charity and love.

Well should it induce us to bestow upon the living only our forebearance and aid.

Mr. President, this I ask to be spread upon the minutes of the Senate, so that it may be a perpetual record of tribute to this princely man.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, Members of the Senate Ladies and Gentlemen:

Since it was determined that I am to talk next to last on this occasion, I have assumed that certain phases of the life and public career of Senator Crow would be discussed by the speakers who have preceded me. It would, therefore, seem not to be proper on my part to traverse this ground again, but rather to speak of the personal way in which he impressed me, and attempt to draw some lessons which ought to be helpful to all of us.

I am certain, if he were sitting yonder in the seat he filled for so many years, modest as he was, he would hardly feel embarrassed by what I purpose saying; and, if he could know or does know what we are doing and saying here today, I am persuaded that he would not take serious exception to the form of this eulogy. He would not expect me to say, and I do not say that he was a perfect man, or that he did not make mistakes, some of them more or less serious. But I thoroughly agree with the statement of the Rev. Doctor Spence at Senator Crow's funeral last August, that his errors or mistakes were not of the heart, but of the system which had grown up through practically unnumbered years, whether you call it Republican, Democrat or what not.

To me he was the gentlest, kindliest and most obliging of friends. I think my friends will agree that ingratitude is not numbered among my sins. I loved him while he lived; and I shall always gratefully treasure his memory. It was not my privilege to see him after he became seriously ill. To have insisted on doing so would have been highly improper on my part, under all the circumstances. So my last recollection of him is as he stood yonder at the head of the main aisle on the day of final adjournment last session. It was generally known that I had been placed in the chairmanship of the Judiciary General Committee at the beginning of the last session, probably with some resulting embarrassment to Senator Crow, to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and other leaders of the party, not because of my insistence, but because some of my friends in Western Pennsylvania were determined I should have it, if it could be had. Of course, a man of my disposition would be keenly sentitive under such circumstances, and extremely anxious not to add to his friends' embarrassment by failure in the work. So I approached him to say good-bye, and when no one was listening, I said "Senator, I hope my management of affairs in Committee has not added seriously to your embarrassment as it existed at the beginning"? Then he put a hand on each of my shoulders, looked me in the eyes and said, "Boy, there's not a spot on you". Of course, we all know that was more than I deserved. And yet, can you realize how I treasure that over kind statement as the very last word to fall on my ears from my friend?

In these times of scorching and withering criticism by thousand of good people, intent on bringing about the millennium entirely by force without charity or love, I wonder if it would be improper to suggest that, from the standpoint of the test or standard set out in the 13th Chapter of 1st Corinthians, Senator Crow came nearer qualifying than many of them. I'm going to read it for you in the King James Version. I'm aware that the revised version replaces the word "charity" with "love". That's all right. But I still like to read it as it was when I was a boy.

"Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

3. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4. Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

5. Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;

6. Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth;

7. Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."

I wonder, if upon this occasion of a memorial to a man whom I dearly loved, I might not with propriety seize the opportunity to urge many of these well-intentioned persons to think of the futility of trying to induce people to be good by constantly abusing them. This was not the plan nor practice of the Galilean Teacher. As I remember His words, most of His denunciations were directed toward the self-righteous. He even wept over the great city that would not accept him. If He had been like many of us, with His power, He would have utterly destroyed the obdurate. But you say "His methods will not do now". Oh, is that true? Well then I withdraw my suggestion. It seems I am wrong. I hold no brief for the wrong-doer. Upon proper occasion he deserves to be punished. However,

"This ought ye to have done and not to have left for the other undone".

The plaintive sadness of the fate of Senator Crow in his unrealized ambition appeals to a nature like mine. Senator Daix in his address at the memorial to the late Senator Edwin H. Vare told us how Senator Vare, coming home from Senator Crow's funeral, had commented feelingly on "We are going down the valley one by one", one of the songs used upon that occasion. However, I was greatly moved by the singing of the other one "Oh Love That Will Not Let Me Go". It was most beautifully sung by the quartet, the baritone being almost indescribably beautiful and sad to me. I wondered if the song had been selected not only on account of the music, but also partly on account of the history of the poetry.

The words were written by George Matheson, a gifted young man, who seemed to have a most brilliant future before him, and was engaged to a young lady of fine mind and high social standing. Suddenly without previous warning, he began to experience great trouble with his eyesight. When he consulted the most noted eye specialist available, he was told that there was no hope for him and that in a very short time he must go totally blind. On his return home, he sent for his betrothed, told her the worst, and generously explained to her that, if it were not selfish, he could wish that it would make no difference between them, but his manhood compelled him to release her if she so desired. She told him that she would consider the matter and let him know. In a few days, he received her letter, telling him that upon reflection she felt constrained to accept his generous offer of release, and expressed her sympathy in his great affliction. After that he wrote this beautiful hymn, the first, third and fourth stanzas of which are as follows:

"O Love, that will not let me go,
I rest my weary soul in thee;
I give thee back the life I owe,
That in Thine ocean depths its flow
May richer, fuller be.

O Joy that seekest me through pain,
I cannot close my heart to thee;
I trace the rainbow through the rain,
And feel the promise is not vain
That morn shall tearless be.

O Cross that liftest up my head,
I dare not ask to fly from thee;
I lay in dust life's glory dead,
And from the ground there blossoms red
Life that shall endless be."

Although of a different character, this incident seems mournfully suggestive of the cruel fate, humanly speaking, that befell Senator Crow. The ambition of a life time was easily within his grasp, but the hand of fate rested on him even more heavily than was true in the case of Matheson, for nothing would stay the ravages of a disease which shortly resulted in death. That he would have succeeded in the United States Senatorship and that he would have been a credit to his State, I firmly believe.

It is not for us to question the ways of Providence. Surely

"God moves in a mysterious way
His wonders to perform."

The trial of the Lincoln blood from old England across the Atlantic to Massachusetts and Connecticut in New England, then to New Jersey, then to Pennsylvania, then to Virginia, then to Kentucky, and from Kentucky to Indiana and finally into Illinois and then to Washington, the capital of the Nation, is dotted all the way with cruel hardships, dissappointment, poverty and death, and yet who would dare to say that unless Abraham Lincoln had finally found himself in Illinois, he ever would have been President of the United States undoubtedly as God's chosen instrument for the particular time. No one, except a traitor, could or ever did justify the manner of his taking off. "It must needs be that offences cometh, but woe unto him by whom they come". This is literally true of the assassin who took his life; and, yet I have hidden my face hundreds of times from the scene I fear would have been enacted if he had lived to finish his second term. He had gone through a period of the most teriffic unpopularity any President of the United States had ever been called upon to endure. Thousands of people forget this fact now. Shortly before his death, he had emerged into a comparatively new atmosphere of kindness and consideration, but the storm was still rumbling against him. Sumner of Massachusetts, Stevens of Pennsylvania, Wade of Ohio and others in Congress, Wendell Phillips, and others out of Congress, were only waiting again to turn the full blasts of their condemnation against him on account of his merciful ideas of reconstruction; but I have never been able to get rid of the conviction that these overly righteous men set upon exact justice would not only in the end have broken his heart, but destroyed much of his usefulness and fame. It has always seemed to me that God wanted one strong outstanding character of gentle kindness for all time to stand forth as our typical American. And so he was called home at the height of his usefulness. Above everything else, we delight to think of him as Bryant describes him:

"O slow to smite and swift to spare,
Gentle and merciful and just."

So, above everything else in Senator Crow, the thing we cling to is his kindness, his gentleness, his lack of malicious hatred toward anyone, and we confidently look forward to a reunion in that upper and better world.

"Alas for him who never sees
The stars shine through the cypress trees,
Who, helpless lays away his dead,
Nor looks to see the breaking day

Across the mournful marble play;
Who hath not learned in hours of faith
The truth to sense and flesh unknown,
That life is ever lord of death
And love can never lose its own."

Mr. FRANK B. McCLAIN. Mr. President, Governor Pinchot, Lieutenant-Governor Davis and gentlemen of the Senate: At times like this when hearts are full, I feel I could be most eloquent in silence, or, by simply saying in the beautiful language of the good Irish poet.

"'Tis not the tear at this moment shed,
When the cold turf has been laid o'er him,
That can tell how beloved was the soul that's fled,
Or how deep in our hearts we deplore him,
'Tis the tear through many a long day wept,
Through lives by his loss all shaded,
'Tis the fond remembrance sadly kept,
When lighter griefs have faded."

Among the people of Ireland there is a venerable and beautiful custom, in the observance of which the traveler on the highroad upon meeting a funeral cortege, no matter what be his hurry, turns and for a brief distance, at least, walks with the solemn procession. It matters not whether death has knocked at the door of castle or cabin, this universal homage is paid by to-day's living and to-morrow's dead.

In this Senate of Pennsylvania a similar beautiful custom is observed in that, its members pause midst the hurry and bustle of lawmaking, resolve themselves into one family fold to express sorrowful regret at the loss of a colleague upon whom the shadows have fallen for whom the night has come. Today, we have gathered to paint upon the canvass of memory the virtues of a departed colleague, and long for "The touch of a vanished hand, and the sound of a Voice that is still."

It seems as if 'twere yesterday that he mingled with us, to-day the great dumb walls of silence rise between us, the gates of the undiscovered Land have closed behind him and we have with us, but a vacant chair the unfaded image of his kindly face, and the memory of a loveable associate. The hand which so often clasped ours in fellowship's greeting, is forever loosed from affection's clinging grasp. 'Tis hard to realize that his kindly beaming eye has, by the finger of Death, been closed in sleep, and his cheering voice stilled in the silence of the tomb.

To other tongues more eloquent than mine, I will leave the telling of his inflexible integrity, the patriotism of his public principles, the extremely valuable service he rendered as a member of this Body, his unusual ability, his commanding personality, neither will I rehearse his many kindnesses, his fidelity to his friends, and generosity to his enemies,—personal and political, except to say, that if everyone for whom he went far out of his way to do a kindly, manly, generous act, were to drop a single flower, upon his grave, that little mound on the hillside in Fayette County, would to-day be buried under a mountain of blooms.

In the death of William E. Crow, "Another boat has left the shore," another seat is made vacant at our fraternity table, let we who are still here find in his memory fresh bonds of brotherhood, and admonition to "Sit closer Boys, sit closer," Let us all reflect how vain are the strifes the partisan and factional contests and bitternesses in which we daily engage. Let us in the death of our colleague learn the lesson of how to live as he did with malice toward none and with good will and charity for all. Let each of us, when this Memorial Session of to-day adjourns, carry away and harbor in his heart, that sentiment which will prompt him should he come back here next Session and find one of his brother members here to-day, has "Crossed the Bar," to say, "I wish he was here."

I mean not to criticize the wisdom of a Divine Providence, that took him away, but knowing him, esteeming him, as I did, I cannot help but feel, "He should have died hereafter." Different from some of those with whom he disagreed and who bitterly opposed him in his political doings, he never made pretense to saintliness, he never wore a "I am more holy than thou," phylactery on his brow, but for all that—On the Last great Day, I'd rather take my chance with "Bill" as we affectionately called him, than with many of the self-styled purists who at times to serve their own selfish ends seemed to find delight in defaming him.

I will not trespass further upon the time of those who are to follow and lay their chaplet of affections upon the Altar of Memory. Turning to the place where he sat for so many years in this Senate House. By gone days like ghosts forgotten rise, and olden memories are again unsealed. I speak to him as if he were with us in the flesh, and pray that my voice may reach him in that far off Land of the "Beautiful Dead" when I say, "Good-by old Friend. In this drama of life we too will someday hear the prompter's call perhaps to fairer scenes and happier days, ere for us the curtain falls, good-by old friend, good-by, good-by."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION RELATING TO ALLEGED PAYMENT OF MONEY TO INFLUENCE LEGISLATION.

Mr. CLARK offered the folowing resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, May 8, 1923.

Whereas: On Monday evening, May seventh, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, in the course of remarks on a question of personal privilege in connection with ticket scalping legislation the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, made the assertion that charges have been made that "the last time that this bill was in the legislature, an amount of money equal to twelve thousand dollars had been paid to somebody, either in the House or Senate;" therefore

Resolved, That the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, be requested to lay before the Senate the full details of all information with respect to the aforesaid charge within his possession.

Resolved, further That if the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr comply with the above request, and the facts so warrant that a committee of three senators be appointed to investigate said charges and to report their finding to the Senate.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the resolution refers to my remarks in the record. You will find that the statement I made was that I had received a letter from a man in Philadelphia in which he stated that $12,000 had been paid to somebody for the stoppage of this bill. You will further find that I deprecated that statement and resented it, and you will further find that I said that I did not believe that there was a man in the House, and I knew that there was not a Senator in the Senate, that could be reached by money, but he could be reached by political influence, and that is what kept the bill in committee.

Mr. President, in my opinion that resolution is aimed at me from the standpoint of malice and I do not think that any Senator on the basis of that statement that I made should be subjected to such an attack as that.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, the statement made by the Senator from Allegheny is as follows: "I have some letters from Philadelphia that I received to-day in which the charge was loosely made, and I use the word "loosely" in its proper term, that the last time that this bill was in the legislature an amount of money equal to $12,000 had been paid to somebody, either in the House or Senate." That statement is either a fact or it is not a fact. If it is a fact it should be investigated, and if any member of this legislature accepted $12,000 he should be condemned for that sort of graft, and if he did not accept it, it seems to me, that that kind of gossip, should not enter this Senate Chamber.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Indiana.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Clark, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Indiana what he means by the statement that "it is either a fact or it is not a fact"? Does that mean to imply that I did not receive the letter?

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, no, sir, I made no such implication but if that is gossip it should not have been dealt in, it is too serious a matter.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I feel with the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Clark, that it is a serious matter and I have made myself plain on the floor of the Senate that I deprecated that kind of business and that kind of letter writing, but, nevertheless, it is going on and the charges are made, and the the charges are made loosely and this legislature is subject to just such things as that by virtue of the action of keeping these bills in committee. That is what does it.

Mr. President, I move that this resolution be referred to a committee.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. To what committee?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it is immaterial to me.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I think that this is unfair, that Senator Barr should be accused of saying that the legislature had been bribed in any way. I think that every man in this room knows that it is not his intention to imply anything of the kind. I think we will all agree that Senator Barr did say that he had received a letter and he also made it very plain to us that in his opinion it did not apply to a member of the legislature. I really think that this resolution should be withdrawn.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, if Senator Barr has received letters, I do not care whether they come from inside of the state or outside of the state, that $12,000 was paid to anybody connected with this General Assembly I think it ought to be investigated by a real committee. I am not talking anything about Senator Barr. If I had received a letter of that kind I would have immediately presented it to the bar of the Senate for action by the Senate. I find no fault with Senator Barr's statement. I think it was perfectly proper for him to say that to the Senate. I would have gone farther, I would have immediately taken that letter that I had received stating that anybody connected with the General Assembly had received $12,000 and presented it to the bar of the Senate for action, and, therefore, I think very emphatically that this resolution should be adopted and the investigation proceeded with by a real committee, not on account of what Senator Barr did, but on account of the author of that letter, communications flying around the State of Pennsylvania in general terms, or any other way, emphatically implying that anybody in connection with the General Assembly got $12,000 puts everybody under suspicion, and I think what Senator Barr did should be approved and the only criticism is that he did not go farther. I, therefore, think he ought to join in requesting the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, why take the time of the Senate and why waste time on a letter that has been received, mention of which was made and deprecated on the floor of the Senate? It is simply a statement was made in a letter and I repeated it as I got it. Now where are you going to get if you do investigate? Simply taking the time of the Senate, that is what you are doing, purely and simply, and again I repeat that it is my opinion that the resolution was put in on the basis of malice, not malice toward the fellow that wrote the letter, but malice toward the Senator speaking.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, you requested that there be included in the motion some committee. I make the motion that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Judiciary General for consideration.

Mr. CHRISTLEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

And the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I would like to know the purpose of committing a resolution of that kind to a committee? Should this committee make a preliminary investigation and find whether the resolution should be adopted or not? If you want to kill the resolution, refer it to this committee. What can this committee do? Make a preliminary investigation and then report back and have another committee appointed to make a real investigation? That seems to me a farce. If you want to kill the resolution I think you would adopt this motion; if not you ought to adopt the resolution introduced by Senator Clark.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, In answer to the Senator about referring the resolution to Committee, I would say that every thing else connected with this House in the matter of legislation, and business, practically all of it, is referred to a Committee to be considered by them and to report back to the Senate, especially a matter of this kind, and if this is of sufficient importance, it seems to me, on the part of some members at least, to be considered by the Senate, and this resolution should be considered by a Committee. Therefore, I insist upon the motion.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I remained silent last evening when this discussion concerning Philadelphia was before the Senate and I had intended remaining silent today, but with all due respect to both sides of this question and having a high regard for the Senator from Allegheny, I fail to understand why he did not name and give the address of that man. I take it that this ought to be a dignified body representing the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I believe it is not a proper place to bring in rumors or anonymous communications, or to read letters without giving the author of that letter.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I rise for information. As I understand the resolution, it provided for a committee of three to be appointed.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, May 8, 1923.

Whereas: On Monday evening, May seventh, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, in the course of remarks on a question of personal privilege in connection with ticket scalping legislation the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, made the assertion that charges have been made "the last time that this bill was in the legislature, an amount of money equal to twelve thousand dollars had been paid to somebody, either in the House or Senate;" therefore

Resolved, That the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, be requested to lay before the Senate the full details of all information with respect to the aforesaid charge within his possession.

Resolved, further That if the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, comply with the above request, and the facts so warrant that a committee of three senators be appointed to investigate said charges and to report their finding to the Senate.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, then I would understand the situation, first, the resolution calls upon the Senator from Allegheny to lay before the Senate the information that is in his possession; secondly, to be followed by a committee of three to make a further investigation. Therefore, I call the Chair's attention to the fact that the motion made by the Senator from Franklin County is not in order. I take the position that the matter before us is first the adoption of the resolution and second receiving the information from the Senator and third to proceed with the further investigation.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, It seems to me since I have heard the reading of the resolution my motion is very much more in order than I believed in the first place. The very purpose of the resolution is to find out the facts.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the motion is in order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to commit the resolution to the Committee on Judiciary General.

A division being called for 15 Senators voted in the affirmative and 11 in the negative, whereupon the question was decided in the affirmative.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from Committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LONG from the Committee on Elections, re-reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 802, entitled:

An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all offices of judges of courts of record; providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices, abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices; imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof, and the punishment of certain offenses.

BILL INTRODUCED.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LONG read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1163, entitled:

An Act to further amend section thirteen of an act aproved May 31, A. D., 1911 (P. L. 468) entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendent of highway, and a staff of assistants and employes defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads, connecting county-seats, principal cities and towns and extending to the State line, describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance, and repair of said State highways, solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expenses to improve or maintain in the same and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property or otherwise in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract except where the State highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns, with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways, and State-aid highways; and kinds of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department, and improvement of roads and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act" as amended by providing for the deposit of bankable securities by the contractor in lieu of the surety required on said contractor's bond.

BILLS ON FIRST READING.

Agreeably to order,
The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 536, (House Bill No. 551), entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the fourteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 312), entitled, "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising, amending, and consolidating the law relating to boroughs," by adding additional sub-section to section nine of article seven of chapter six thereof to empower boroughs without petition of property owners, to grade, pave, curb, macadamize or otherwise improve public streets, or parts thereof, and assess the entire cost thereof against the owners of the property abutting thereon when said streets or parts thereof do not exceed one thousand feet in length and connecting two streets theretofore paved and improved.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1923.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. B. Cox, offered the following prayer:
O Lord our God, we thank Thee for this day and all its blessings, for life and all it means to us, for soundness of mind and strength of will, for home ties and associations and fellowship. We are glad that our hearts are as an open book before Thee. Thou knowest all about us, and if we ever attempt to appear before Thee other than what we are, we pray that Thou wouldst forgive us. We pray that Thou wouldst enable us to escape that depravity of soul that comes to him who attempts hyprocrisy. Help us to despise sham, to avoid duplicity, and above all things, O God, help us to shun every and all appearance of pious cant and religious insincerity. Help us to hate as Thou dost hate every form of a lie. Save us from selfishness and make of us true men and true women, to the end that we may serve our fellowmen, and in so doing serve Thee. We ask it in Christ's name.
Amen.

In the House of Representatives, May 8, 1923.

Whereas, Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelley of the United States Army, a resident of Grove City, Pennsylvania, in company with Lieutenant John A. Macready, on May third, successfully completed that heretofore unaccomplished feat of spanning the American Continent in a single non-stop airplane flight, and in this trip of over twenty-seven hundred miles from Hempstead, New York to Rockwell Field, San Diego, California, in less than twenty-seven hours, they broke all records for non-stop flights, and

Whereas, In assisting in this spectacular flight across the country, this courageous son of Pennsylvania has reflected lasting credit upon his native State, and has prominently written her name with his in the annals of aviation history, and

Whereas, Their success has added to the peaceful air victories of our country, has demonstrated anew the pluck, bravery, stamina, perseverance and daring of her sons, and has given to the world notice of the power and resourcefulness of the air branch of her army; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the congratulations of the people of the State of Pennsylvania through her chosen Representatives in General Assembly met, be extended to her valiant son, the said Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelley, and his companion, upon their remarkable and unprecedented flight, and that they be assured of the best wishes of the people of the State for the success of their future attempts to establish new records and bring more glory to their country, and be it

Further Resolved, That these resolutions be printed in the journal and a properly certified copy thereof be forwarded to the said Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly now at San Diego, California.

Mr. BUSH asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the resolution.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend sec. 2, page 6, lines 5 to 22, by striking out the following:

For the payment of expenses incurred by and under the direction of the Governor in the suppression of crime, vice and banditry and for the enforcement of the laws of this Commonwealth, two years, the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000): Provided, however, That no part of this item shall be used for the payment of bonuses or special allowances of compensation for services rendered contingent upon the detection apprehension or conviction of persons violating the law. And provided further, That the provisions herein contained for the suppression of crime, vice and banditry and for the enforcement of law in the several counties of this Commonwealth shall be carried out in cooperation with the district attorneys of the several counties of this Commonwealth.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The chair hears objections and unanimous consent is not granted.

MOTION TO GO INTO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker I move that this House do now resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of considering special amendments to House Bill No. 81, file folio 6477.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. McVICAR. The motion in question does not specify the special amendments to be offered, as required.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the amendments are indicated by those just offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus, and the Chair rules that the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MARCUS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McVICAR. Is the special amendment which is referred to in the motion just made, the special amendment which you asked the unanimous consent of the House to insert in the bill?

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. It is.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are two principles which the people of this Commonwealth have decidedly stated at many times and in many ways, and that is that they are in favor of economy and in the candidate for Governor at the primaries in May last, favor of law enforcement. That principle was enunciated by and received the sanction of the Republican county. That principle of the Republican party is as well the principle of a great many members of the Democratic party, and was confirmed by the people of this Commonwealth at the election in November. In the inaugural address of the Governor that same principle was brought forth. This assembly a few weeks ago passed an act providing for law enforcement, and by their action the people of the Commonwealth confirmed this principle. Now in order to carry out this principle there was inserted in the general appropriation bill an item of $250,000 for law enforcement. That was submitted to the Appropriations Committee. The Appropriation Committee first reported against the inclusion of that item. The bill was referred to this House and this House last week referred the bill back to the Committee for the purpose of amendment, and one of the amendments as we all knew, was the insertion of this $250,000 item.

Now I take it, members of the House, regardless of what your stand might be on the original question, you have come to the point today where the Republican party and the Democratic party also to a large extent, have stood for a certain principle, confirmed by the members of the party in May, confirmed by the electorate of this Commonwealth in November, and confirmed by its representatives in the general assembly a short time ago. When that bill was sent back to the Appropriations Committee to make amendments so as to include the $250,000, the Committee did report it and did obviate, in a measure, the sniping which has been going on to prevent economy and law enforcement, and I therefore, ask the members of this House on the general principle of right and wrong, to meet this question fairly, and to refuse to go into a Committee of the Whole for the inserting of that which is opposed to all of the agencies which I have mentioned. Vote no on this question.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House. I am in favor of going into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of striking out the $250,000 item. When I say that I am voicing the objections of organized labor to this $250,000. I have had some experience in the detective work in West Virginia. I have had to battle against the detective systems, employed by the corporations but this is the first time that I have seen the State of Pennsylvania, or any State in the United States, asking to inject a detective system to enforce law. What are detectives? Practically every detective I have ever seen has employed law breaking methods in order to get to the law breaker. While this House was discussing the Prohibition measure, it was said that it was going to be a great bill. Now, we find one hundred different kinds of legislation coming around for the purpose of enforcing it.

I was on the sub-committee appointed by the Appropriations Committee to call upon the Governor, and we asked the Governor if he wanted this money to enforce the prohibition laws. He said, "Yes". We said, "Then why not say in the bill that it is for prohibition." We returned later that evening, and this is what he gave the sub-committee: "For the payment of expenses incurred by and under the direction of the Governor in the suppression of crime, vice and banditry and for the enforcement of the laws of this Commonwealth." Does that mean just for prohibition, gentlemen? No, but it means the organization of a private detective agency at the expense of the tax payers of the State for $250,000 and placed in the hands of one man. I say to you that I don't believe that Governor Pinchot would use that detective agency against organized labor, but I do know that if it is placed on the statute books of this State that if we appropriate $250,000 for this, maybe the next legislature will give $500,000. We will be establishing a bad precedent. I want to say to you that there is nothing that prevents this scheme that I read in the papers a few months ago when Mrs. Pinchot visited President Harding she suggested that it would be a splendid thing for the women to enforce this law. I can see this, that after that $250,000 was placed in the hands of the Governor we would have a beautiful political machine of women traveling through this State as law enforcement officers, but really nothing else than a political machine.

There were other amendments offered to the Appropriation Committee, after we had met with the Governor, but I was not called into that meeting. I do not know whether all other members of the sub-committee were called in or not, but I think that as a member of the sub-committee I should have been called in too. I want to say to you members of this House that it is up to us to appropriate money for hospitals; let us take care of the injured, and the sick; let us appropriate our money there. I want to say to you that from my district we have been coming here for 15 or 20 years fighting for the protection of our homes. Our homes have been going down in the coal mines, our children have sacrificed their lives. It is not safe for our children to go to the schools. We have come here year after year to ask for some remedy, and when we visited Governor Pinchot he said, "We can't afford it this year". He can afford $250,000 to inaugurate a detective system, but he can't let our bills come out of the committee so that the members can vote upon this matter. He cannot go along and say give us a bill to protect the children and men and women and our homes in the anthracite coal fields. I want to say now that my experience has been that detective agencies in various states have been used to club the heads of the working man. Two years ago, I made mention of a detective agency. I pointed ou the name of a detective, C. E. Libbey, and those who were here at that time remember that. I made mention of a detective employed by the Baldwin-Feltz Detective Agency, who was a man who had served time in the penitentiaries, a man who had committed various crimes. Now why was he hired? Because he knew the game, and that is the very reason you want a detective agency in Pennsylvania. You want a spotter, you want a sewer rat to work on the decent citizens of the State.

If the prohibition law is not strong enough to make decent citizens, then why do you have to employ the lowest kind of people to spy upon them. I make mention of this at this time. I made the statement then that this detective who had testified in the case against he working man had murdered a man in Waltonburg, Colorado. That stands as a matter of fact in the courts of West Virginia, that that very individual had murdered a man, and we brought the facts before the Court. I said that later on I would not be surprised if he would murder Mr. Hatfield. I made that statement here and in August of that very year he deliberately shot to death the very man I said on the court house steps. Detective Agencies. They have stood at the Court House steps and murdered men when they brought in their case for justice.

I say, as a member of organized labor, I shall not vote for this bill. I shall not go on record as voting for any measure that employs a detective agency.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, this is a matter of such state-wide concern, such state-wide interest, that I feel that this House, instead of the Appropriations Committee, should consider and decide this matter fully. Now, I am as much in favor of law enforcement as any other member of this House, but I do not see just exactly why it is necessary to set aside these $250,000 for this particular purpose. Now, let us look at the testimony of both ex-Governor Sproul and our present Governor on this matter. During the first week of this Legislature, while delivering his farewell address, Governor Sproul told us that in communities or in counties where the public sentiment was favorable to prohibition, it was an easy matter to enforce the prohibition law; but in communities where sentiment was hostile, it was a difficult matter. Now, I thought that a very fair and a very sane and reasonable statement of the facts, and I still hold to that view. A few weeks later the present Governor, in delivering his inaugural address, told us and told the people of Pennsylvania that his overwhelming vote as Governor of Pennsylvania was a mandate from the people for strict law enforcement. Now, then, let us see just why it would be necessary to have this extra money to enforce the law if the sentiment of the people of Pennsylvania is so overwhelmingly in favor of this law enforcement, then why cannot the regular enforcement agencies of the State take care of this enforcement? If I remember the figures correctly, the city of Philadelphia gave the Governor a majority of 185,000. Now, if the sentiment in the city of Philadelphia is so overwhelmingly in favor of law enforcement, if that majority for Governor Pinchot meant that the people of Philadelphia are so overwhelmingly in favor of this law enforcement, then why under God's sun do you want these $250,000? Then it will be the easiest thing in the world for the regular law enforcement agencies in Philadelphia to carry out the provisions of this prohibition law. The county of Allegheny likewise, has given a heavy majority to the present Governor. If in Allegheny County the people are there so overwhelmingly in favor of this law enforcement, then why is it necessary to send any snooping agents or any snooping detective into the county of Allegheny? Then, I see no necessity for it. On the Sunday after the vote was taken in this House on the present Snyder-Armstrong Bill, the Philadelphia North American had a map of the State of Pennsylvania published. That map represented, in white, the counties that were dry; it represented, in black, the counties that were wet. Now, when you look over this map, you will find that four-fifths of the State of Pennsylvania is considered dry. Now, that will mean that if four-fifths of the counties of Pennsylvania are dry, the regular law enforcement agencies can amply provide and amply take care of any enforcement that is necessary under the prohibition law. And in those counties that are represented as wet, a number of them have thrown heavy majorities for the present Governor so I assume that if the statement is correct and if these majorities represent such an overwhelming demand in favor of this enforcement, then it will not be necessary to have any extra force in those counties to take care of law enforcement. The only thing, then, would be a few of these which you might call bad democratic counties that would not give these majorities to the present Governor. Now, I submit to you ladies and gentlemen, that the Governor, during the last two months, used the State Police almost exclusively for this law enforcement, and I say to you that the State Police and the Federal Enforcement Agencies which are also in this Commonwealth, in our State, helping to assist this work, are these not sufficient to make these few mean democratic counties behave and obey the law? Consequently, I cannot see from his own method of reasoning why it should be necessary to create a special detective agency or a special law enforcement agency. Now then, also, there is the question of economy. During the entire session the cry has been from all over the State, "Keep down expenses; keep down taxes."

I know the cry is coming from my county day after day. Every week when I get home, people say, "Keep down the taxes; keep down the expenses; stand for economy," and so forth. Now, then, the Governor also, in his inaugural address, something like this: He said, "There is a widespread feeling that no sincere effort has been made, either by the national administration or by the State administration for the enforcement of the prohibition laws or the Eighteenth Amendment." Now, if that be true, ladies and gentlemen, if there is no sincerity, if our national administration has been a farce in prohibition enforcement and if our former State Administration has made a farce out of it, why should we, who are only a subordinate authority in this matter of prohibition enforcement, go to work and squander a great deal of money? If what the Governor has said is true, then these national law enforcement officers who have not been sincere in their efforts are only a set of leeches that are sucking at the life's blood of the people of Pennsylvania, and if that be true, why, then, shall we go to work and turn loose another set of leeches to keep on still further sucking up the life blood of the people of Pennsylvania? The federal amendment, or the Eighteenth Amendment, makes this prohibition question a federal question. The decisions of the Supreme Court on the Eighteenth Amendment when the concurrent powers were before it, virtually decided that this is a federal issue, that the amendments makes it a federal issue; and we have practically, or at least have little voice in this prohibition matter. We are only a subordinate authority, we can only play second fiddle when it comes to the question of prohibition enforcement or deciding what kind of prohibition we are going to have in these United States. Now then, if the statement of the Governor is correct, if the national administration has made a farce of it, if there has been no sincerity in prohibition enforcement by the national administration which is, after all, the real power behind the throne in all this prohibition legislation, then why should we, as a subordinate authority and as a subordinate power go to work and squander $250,000 of the money of the tax payers? There is a general law or principle in all legislation, that where there is a great deal of power, there is a great deal of responsibility; but where there is no power there is no responsibility. Now we have very little authority, we have very little power here as a Legislature in this matter of prohibition enforcement, and therefore I submit to you that we only have as much responsibility as we have voice and power in this matter. The main responsibility rests upon the federal government. It was made a federal issue when a majority of two-third of the states of this Union transmitted this question over into the hands of the federal government. They made it a federal issue and they placed the responsibility on the federal government instead of on the State government, and our responsibility only goes as far as our voice or our authority goes in this matter. Now, a few weeks ago, our Governor went down to Philadelphia, and he is quoted in the newspapers as saying, "Once in a while a solemn ass gets up in the General Assembly and says that the Eighteenth Amendment cannot be enforced." Now, I don't care what bad names the Governor calls us so long as he invites us to dinner every once in a while down at the executive mansion; but I want to say that I have not taken that statement very seriously. I rather feel that the Governor of this Commonwealth is under such continual pressure and under such arduous stress that when he gets away, when he gets one hundred miles away from Capitol Hill, he feels like a school boy out of school. He feels free to engage in a little fun and a little frivolity. We married men all do when we get away from our wives and our families. We just feel a little free when we are a hundred miles away and we like to engage in a little frivolity; and when the Governor is one hundred miles away from his wife and his family, why he feels more free to engage in a frivolity and a little fun, and that is the way I look at that. I have no hard feelings against the Governor if he does call us bad names or something of that sort once in a while. I think he is entitled to a little fun and a little entertainment, because I realize that the stress of his office is very arduous and that he must have some recreation once in a while.

Now, the gentleman from Northampton told us last week, in speaking of the King Tut bill that we in the present day no longer worship the bull, but that we sling the bull. Now, I think that this question of the solemn ass is simply a matter of slinging the bull. The Governor simply wanted to sling the bull when he came down to the city of Philadelphia and I have no hard feelings against him for that reason. But now, the thing that I want to leave with you is this; I think, coming down and laying all levity and all joking aside, I feel that this is, after all, a vital question. It is not so much adding to the present force as it is to get a body of men who are honest and sincere in the enforcement of this prohibition legislation. Now, I submit to you that if it is true, as the Governor has said, that there has been no sincere effort although this law has been on the statute books for more than three years, then I submit to you, the question is not of adding any more leeches to the present force of prohibition enforcers, but the question is to get an honest and a sincere enforcement. It is up to the Governor to see to it if possible, and not to him only, but to the people also to see that they elect men in their respective communities who really try honestly and sincerely to enforce the law. And if the Governor's statements in his inaugural address are correct that the sentiment of Pennsylvania, of Philadelphia, with its 185,000 in favor of this law enforcement, if this is correct, then why would these 185,000 people in Philadelphia not see to it that they have honest judges on the bench and that they have honest district attorneys; that they have an honest police force; that they have honest detectives; and why will they not see to it and enforce the laws with the agencies that they now have? I submit to you that if there is an honest effort, if there is a sincere effort to enforce this prohibition legislation, then we have agencies enough. We have our law enforcement agencies for prohibition the same as we have for other laws. In addition to that we have the State Police, in addition to that we have the federal enforcers; and if the sentiment of the people really is what it is represented to be, then I can see no necessity whatever for adding this extra burden on the backs of the people.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, as to why this House should not go into a committee of the whole and arguing as he does the fact that this has already been decided in the committee, I would say for one in this House, that if that had been fairly decided in that committee, I would be the last one to support a motion of this kind at this time. I was, as everybody knows. originally, in that committee, supporting this $250,000 appropriation for law enforcement, which I understood was for the purpose of enforcing the so-called enforcement bill that was passed here not long ago, you notice I say, the so-called enforcement bill. But when the Governor himself, in order to get the $250,000, garbled up this statement as he does without telling us what part of the $250,000 is going to be used for one place or another, I opposed it; and then when the tactics were used by the Executive of this grand Commonwealth that were used by the Executive and the way that this became a part of the bill, I say, for one, that I don't propose to stand for it. The same tactics that I have heard him denounce in other administrations we find him playing here at this time. I was very much suprised from the time, almost, that this session started, at the articles that had been in the newspapers and I might say, in the newspapers which are his organs and which are his mouthpieces, unrefuted at any time by him or at any time denounced as not coming from him. In the first place, we were told, as members of this House, mind you, that he was not going to make any appointment until after the session was over. What did that mean? He believed, as he says now through the newspapers, that the only thing we people are here for is the purpose of getting jobs for their friends back home. I want to serve notice on him at the present time that I never asked him for a job, nor do I want a job from him, and I don't want him to insult me with that kind of stuff, and I will not stand for it. As I say, all along the line, every Sunday you have seen in that paper the same threat, that the men in the House who are good will be remembered by the Governor when the session is over, and I want to read to you from that paper one of the things which struck me to the very marrow of my bones, and I wondered where we are living, whether we are living under a reform administration or whether we are living under the machine tactics that we heard of back in Quay's administration, and further back than that. And I refer and I want to read it to you: "The situation has reached a point where friends of the administration must declare themselves by acts as well as words. Pleasant platitude, cheap talk, poorly concealed efforts of obstruction and all the—"

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware is not discussing the motion.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I am the first one who has been on the floor so far, Mr. Speaker, who has been discussing the motion. I am giving my reasons for this motion at the present time, showing the tactics used in this committee for the purpose of getting this amendment in, and that is purely on the question and on the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point or order is well taken and the gentleman will confine himself to a discussion of the question before the House.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I again say that the discussion before this House is whether or not this shall be placed in. I didn't interfere with the gentleman; he went on discussing the bill, and it comes with poor grace from him at the present time when I attempt to tell you the truth as to what happened in this committee. In this committee it was in today and out tomorrow. It was a good deal like the fellow that was a conductor on the railroad. He had been handing in too lengthy reports and he was called down for it, and he finally sent in a report something like this; His train had gotten off the track and he had gotten it back on again, and his report read something like this: "Off again, on again, gone again. Finnegan." Now, the only difference between that and this was this: It was out again, in again, out again, in again, amendments. Now, that is the only difference, and what does that mean? That means this, that after a vote of this committee, this was cut out of this bill after the charges had been in the papers time and time again, which I hesitated believing, having heard them denounced by the Executive himself, we find three of the men whom he claims have been riding recklessly on joyrides, we find him all afternoon in his office with them. That night, mind you, that night an appointment was made, notwithstanding the Executive told us that no appointment was going to be made until after the session. We find an appointment made by the Executive, a $5,000 appointment, in the city of Philadelphia, and the very next morning we find faced about three men voting absolutely opposite as they had been opposite on the same bill, and voting against it.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is discussing something that happened in the Committee, the executive meeting of the committee.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken, that the transaction in the committee room are not to be discussed on the floor of the House.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I have not mentioned any names, I am simply telling you this so that the House might know what happened. But I want to read to you section 30, of Article of the Constitution: "Any person who shall directly or indirectly offer, give or promise money, or thing of value, testimonial, privilege or personal advantage to any executive or judicial officer, or member of the general assembly, to influence him in the performance of his public or official duties shall be guilty of bribery." Now, gentlemen, of course if you have renounced your reason it is no use of my talking to you, because you might as well give medicine to the dead as to argue with men who have renounced their reason. I say to you that if you are reasonable men and sent here to act as actors and not as mere puppets or solemn asses, as he calls us, or as rubber stamps, then let us be men and let us stand by our rights and not by the dictation of anybody, either by threats or inuendos or anything else. If he has patronage to offer, let him put it up and let him offer it to the highest bidder and let us know who is getting it and the price paid for it. I say, the House should resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole, and you and I will have an opportunity to vote upon it without any fear or favor as to whether this stays in or comes out.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Will you kindly state to the members of this House how you voted on this question when it was first presented to the committee as to whether or not this $250,000 should be included in this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. As I said in the beginning I not only voted to leave it in there, but I made a speech in favor of leaving it in there, and not only that I want to answer further, as I said before in the House, it was not until after the tactics used by the Chief Executive of this state, that I came to the conclusion that we should call a halt to this kind of a proposition.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Didn't you say you did not agree with the enforcement bill but since it was enacted into law, the governor should be given all the machinery necessary to carry it out.

Mr. ALEXANDER. No. I did not, what I said was this, as I said in the beginning of the session that I did not believe this enforcement law would do what he said it would do.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. This interrogation is a matter that belongs to the committee, and it was in secret session of the committee where this happened, and I think it is entirely out of order.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I waive the privilege on that.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the gentleman has a right to state his position whether in the committee or out of the committee. Therefore, the Chair rules that the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, what I said was this, that I did not believe, in fact, I knew from experience, both before and since the passage of this bill, that this was far from being an enforcement bill, and I do not propose to have him or any other man come back and say that I was trying to hamper him.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Then you changed your attitude because of the happenings since the time it was originally voted on.

Mr. ALEXANDER. No, but because I have lost confidence in the Governor, sir.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, we have heard this matter discussed all the way from Philadelphia to West Virginia. If you will indulge me for a very few minutes, I would like to say just a few words on the motion. I want to first call your attention to a few statements made by my friend, Mr. Sarig. He stated that for the state officials it was a very easy matter to enforce the law in a dry district and very difficult in a wet district. To my mind that argument is fallacious in that if the State is predominantly in favor of prohibition, then we do not need any enforcement machinery and the Governor is not entitled to any aid from the members of this House in the line of a monetary appropriation to enable him to carry out the law in those districts in which the sentiment was not in favor of it. I think that argument is fallacious. He further atsted, "Let the people elect dry officials throughout the State and they will enforce it." I ask you in fairness, how are you going to elect dry officials in a wet district that is absolutely and utterly opposed to the enforcement of a temperance measure of any kind? To my mind that is the sole argument and answers in favor of the appropriation which this bill carries to enable the chief Executive of this State to make such provisions to meet conditions in those particular districts in which the sentiment is against the enforcement of the law that it cannot be carried out and will not be carried out by the local officials. I do not think any member of this House or any one present is going to be misled in the least by the purpose of this resolution. Unfortunately, ladies and gentlemen, and we see it bobbing up at all times in this session and in every session, when a question of this kind is up it seems to me that we forget the fundimental and guiding principal that we ought to be led by, and that we ought to consider, and that we were supposed to consider since the time we opened this session, and that is our oath to support the Constitution of this State and of the federal government. I say, when an issue of this kind comes up we allow ourselves to be swayed right and left, not by the guiding principal that we swear to support but by local sentiment on these issues; and I say to you this is not by any means a wet or dry issue. It is the sole question of whether we are going to pass such legislation as will enable the Governor of this State to carry out the very thing that we, as a body, that we who did not vote for the enforcement of the bill, who did not stand by the constitution as much as those who worked night and day for the security to pass it, because we are all bound to support the constitution, I say we are bound to give the Governor every aid we possibly can and if we do not do that, we are not fulfilling our full obligations to the people, and we members of this House are bound to do that regardless of whether we are in favor of temperance or not. It is not a temperance question at this time; it is a question at this time of whether we are in favor of enforcement of the laws and of the constitution to which we have all been a party in adopting. I want to say further in regard to the enforcement machinery of this State that we have no enforcement machinery, as such, under the direct control of the State Administration, and I want to take this occasion to pay my compliments to the men who have been appointed from time to time as enforcement officers of the federal government in this State. I mean the men higher up. I say my own opinion is that we haven't had an honest-to-goodness enforcement officer since the Eighteenth Amendment has been ratified. I mean a man who is absolutely sincere to the bottom of his heart and strictly temperance, and used his best efforts to bring it about. I only refer you to the history, the unfortunate history of the enforcement of the State laws during the time that we have had those officials. You take districts where the sentiment is in favor of it, and it has been dry, but you take districts where the sentiment was the other way, and you know the history. For that very reason, I think that we should, by all means, give the Governor every aid that we possibly can, and the only thing he has asked us to do is to give him the small sum of $250,000, which is a small sum when it comes to carrying out such a big piece of work as enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment to our federal constitution throughout this great State in the face of tremendous opposition and handicaps which are encountered in many districts. For those reasons, and in view of the fact that the Appropriations Committee of this House has given this matter very careful consideration day after day the majority of those present on the occasion when this bill was reported out voted in favor of reporting it out because they thought it was the proper thing to do. And I ask you further, not to be swayed, or influenced by any personal feeling of any member of that committee who might have a personal grudge or a supposed grievance against the officials who must handle this enforcement without bias. That is neither here nor there; that is a personal matter. Our duty is to give them every aid to carry out the law which we, as members, placed upon our books a few days ago, and then if we have done that, the burden falls upon the administration of this State to carry it out and give the people the very best service. I therefore ask you to vote against this motion.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think the question with which we are vitally concerned right now is the passage of important bills which have been framed and recommended to us by the Committee, and in getting away from here. We are two weeks overdue now. I understand that a motion of this kind has not even been entertained or attempted for many sessions past and if we permit a motion of this kind to prevail now, we are liable to be here until the opening of the rabbit season on November 1st. I am a firm believer in majority rule and the backing up of our committees, when these committee reports have been made by a large majority. My friend from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, with whom I am in thorough accord, is not a member of the Appropriations Committee, and had he informed you exactly of what occurred there, his argument would have been stronger. When this item of $250,000 was first reached on the Appropriation bill it was passed without what might be called serious opposition. We had a relatively large committee at that time too. We had every reason to believe that that appropriation would stay put. Some days later at a very small meeting of the committee, which a number of us did not know was about to occur although it had been announced and we paid no special attention to it, the item was stricken out. At a final meeting, also a relatively large meeting, the item was put back by the committee with a majority of 32 to 15. That majority was so pronounced, I think this House should accept it and not permit this motion to pass. I think it would be the height of absurdity to pass a bill for law enforcement and create no funds and no machinery to carry it out. Gentlemen, I hope you will vote no on this motion.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I simply want to point out that if we place any reliance at all upon the argument of the gentlman from Delaware regarding deals we also must take into consideration the fact that we impugn the member and the integrity of the members of this House. Mr. Speaker, it always takes two to make a deal and when the gentleman from Delaware attacks the Governor for making a deal we also, if we place any reliance upon an argument of that kind, impugn the integrity of the members of our own body; and I don't think that anybody ought to vote against this motion on the argument that was presented by the gentleman from Delaware. Mr. Speaker, even though we have been on again and off again, we are on again now; even though we have marched up the hill and down again and then up again, we are up the hill now; and the committee on Appropriations has agreed by a large majority upon this proposition as it is now included in this bill. It is not the Governor's original proposition; it is an amended proposition, amended in conformity, and so as to meet the desires and the approbation of some of the members of the appropriations committee who had objected to it in its original form, and who, when it came to considering it in amended form, found that they honestly and conscientiously could vote for the amended proposition. Let's not try to camouflage this situation, Mr. Speaker and members of this House, it is not a question of economy, it is not a question of partisanship, it is not a question of law enforcement. This whole question has resolved itself into this motion now before the House, and is, whether you are for the Governor in endeavoring to aid him to fulfill a solemn pldge which he made or whether you are against the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and you can't get away from that proposition.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. McVicar, Vickerman, Weamer, Horne, Ludlow, Storb, Haws, Lucas, Dunn, Edmonds, Craig, Heyburn, Metcalf, Aston, Bidelspacher, Orr, Burd P. Evans, Lafferty, Bluett, Dilsheimer.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole?

The yeas and nays werer required by Mr. McVicar and Mr. Perry.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verfication of the roll.

The roll was verfied as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Speaker of the House act as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair states that the rules of the House provide that the Speaker shall appoint a chairman of the committee of the whole House. We quite naturally would not like to appoint ourself as chairman.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE.

Whereupon,

The House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole (Mr. George W. Williams) in the chair on said bill.

And after some time, the Committee rose, and

The Speaker having resumed the Chair,

The Chairman of the Committee of the Whole reported the bill as amended in accordance with the instruction of the Committee of the Whole.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the report of the Committee of the Whole?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. This amendment being a strike out, the bill is before the House for consideration.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

An Act to amend section twelve of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand forty-three) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties as amended."

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will declare a recess until 8:00 o'clock P. M. Are there any objections? The Chair hears none.

Whereupon at 2:20 P. M. the House took a recess until 8:00 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 8:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER, (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

SENATE MESSAGF

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 8, 1923.

Whereas, Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly of the United States Army, a resident of Grove City, Pennsylvania, in company with Lieutenant John A. Macready, on May third, successfully completed that heretofore unaccomplished feat of spanning the American Continent in a single non-stp airplane flight, and in this trip of over twenty-seven hundred miles from Hempstead, New York to Rockwell Field, San Diego, California, in less than twenty-seven hours, they broke all records for non-stop flights, and

Whereas, In assisting in this spectacular flight across the country, this courageous son of Pennsylvania has reflected lasting credit upon his native State, and has prominently written her name with his in the annals of aviation history, and

Whereas, Their success has added to the peaceful air victories of our Country, has demonstrated anew the pluck, bravery, stamina, perseverance and daring of her sons, and has given to the world notice of the power and resourcefulness of the air branch of her army; therefore be it Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the congratulations of the people of the State of Pennsylvania through her chosen Representatives in General Assembly met, be extended to her valiant son, the said Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly, and his companion, upon their remarkable and unprecedented flight, and that they be assured of the best wishes of the people of the State for the Success of their future attempt to establish new records and bring more glory to their Country, and be it Further Resolved, That these resolutions be printed in the Journal and a property certified copy thereof be forwarded to the said Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly now at San Diego, California.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 926, file folio 1739, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-three of an act approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" was defeated on final passage on April 30, 1923, be reconsidered.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to explain to the House why the Auditor General would like to have this bill reconsidered and put back in the Ways and Means Committee for amendment. There were certain sources of opposition, all of which he has ironed out, or at least hopes to iron out, and all I am asking of you is the courtesy to the Auditor General to put this in a status that it can be returned to the Ways and Means Committee for the amendments which he has in mind.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, and 85 members having voted in the affirmative, and 36 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 926, passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. LAFFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 926 be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. LAFFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 827, file folio 5523, entitled:

> An Act to amend section six of the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and eighteen) entitled "An act relating to the appointment of persons to the police department in cities of the third class providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employees of said department and providing a method for fixing compensation" as amended was defeated on final passage on May 1, 1923, be reconsidered.

Mr. LABAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon a division was called for, and 72 members having voted in the affirmative and 49 members having voted in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the Bill pass finally?

Mr. MOFFATT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was acted upon a week ago tonight, the first of May. I believe that there was a misunderstanding which led to its defeat at that time. It is a civil service bill applicable only to third class cities. The only amendment that is proposed is that in case a municipality should decide for the purpose of economy to reduce their police force that that reduction would be made by the dismissal of the last men appointed under the civil service rules. Under the civil service rules everyone receiving an appointment as policeman must pass very stringent examinations and when once upon the police force they can be removed only for cause, except in case the municipality desires to reduce its force of policemen for the purpose of economy. Under the present laws the municipality is permitted to discharge anyone on the force. The policemen feel that this is unjust, and that in case a reduction is made for the purpose of economy that the last members appointed should be the ones to be removed. That is the only amendment in this bill and I think it should be reported.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I do not think there are many men here who employ labor who would like to be hampered by a regulation of this kind. In ordinary life, ordinary business, a man discharges, if necessary when he comes to a reduction in force, the one of least service to him, and I think it should be so in public life. I do not think this bill should be reconsidered.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. DUNN

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 36, entitled:

> An Act to regulate the practice of Chiropractic and to provide for the appointment and maintenance of the Board of Chiropractic Examiners To define the powers and duties of said Board of Chiropractic Examiners To provide for the examining and licensing of Chiropractors in this State and provide for penalties for the violation of this act

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, a small explanation might be necessary with reference to the manner in which this bill left the Committee. Two weeks ago tomorrow, when the committee in its executive session saw fit to take some definite action, the committee at that time in going over the bill with various amendments of the chiropractors and the physicians of Pennsylvania, the bill was so disarranged that we hardly knew it to be

36. With all respects to the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Dunn, I suggest to the committee that in all fairness to him we would vote to bring the bill out on the floor of the House to have it reprinted, that we might possibly by having it reprinted be enlightened as to the proposed amendments in it, and if for any reason we felt that the amendments should not be agreed upon by both the sponsor of the bill and the sub-committee, we would again replace the bill back in the committees hands. This plan was followed and the bill came on the floor.

I received an amendment suggested by one of the chiropractors of Pittsburgh. I submitted it to Mr. Dunn, the sponsor of the bill, and he in turn submitted the amendment to the proponents, and they accepted it. I told them at the time that it was not the amendment from the State Medical Society but was rather from the chiropractors. I again went to Mr. Dunn yesterday, and I gave him the amendments which we thought the bill ought to carry with it. Mr. Dunn took these amendments, so I am informed, to the proponents of this bill, and he later returned them to me with the information that the friends and proponents of the bill were not in accord with those amendments. Now, in all fairness to the committee I believe that Mr. Dunn should have submitted these amendments, or at least have the bill recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of discussing the amendments asked for by the Pennsylvania State Medical Society. Therefore, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire to offer amendments to House Bill No. 36.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

On the question, recurring

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 36 passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendmnets as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 10, by inserting after the word "licensed" the following: "as a drugless therapist"

Amend section 2, page 3, line 1, by striking out the words "this act "and inserting in lieu thereof: "the medical practice act of one thousand nine hundred eleven as a drugless therapist."

Amend section 6, page 10, line 3, by reinserting after the word "character" the following: "has obtained a preliminary education hereinafter provided.

Amend section 6, page 10, line 13, by striking out the word "not"

Amend section 7, page 11, lines 27 and 28, by striking out the word "confirming" and inserting in lieu thereof: "conforming."

Amend section 10, page 12, line 27, by inserting after "aminers" the following "including the standard of preprofessional education."

Amend section 11, page 13, lines 8 and 9, by striking out "satisfactory to the said board"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears objection, and unanimous consent was not granted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move you that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I ask you, as members of the House, to vote this motion down. At the public hearing on this bill some four or five weeks ago, the State Medical Association, or their representatives, presented to the chairman of the meeting at that time a set of amendments to be placed in this bill. Those amendments were referred to a sub-committee of which I was a member. We carefully considered those amendments. Three different meetings were held, and the final result was that we accepted almost all the amendments, and the recommendations of the committee were the most liberal recommendations towards these people that have ever been made to this General Assembly on any bill like this. But, unfortunately, in arranging the amendments to go into this bill, the gentleman who prepared them failed to strike out the most important thing, and when we find the bill on our calendars, we find the amendments that permitted these practictioners of our State to take the same advantage as any other cult which has come before this Body and asked for this privilege, was stricken out, and that part of the bill that was to permit those who were practicing in the field for three or five years would be given a license upon the passage of this bill. I prepared an amendment to include what we intended to go into the bill, and the gentlemen of the committee agreed to the amendment that should go into the bill. I submitted it in all courtesy to the chairman of the Health and Sanitation Committee and I said, "This is what we agreed to regarding the mistake that has been made in the bill," and he said to me, "I have an amendment which a chiropractor in Pittsburgh has given to me, and I asked you to consider that amendment." The members of the committee and myself considered that amendment, and we decided to accept the amendment offered by the chairman of the Public Health and Sanitation Committee and ignore the amendment which gives the right and privilege to these people to have a license without an examination and to place them under an examination. We accepted of the amendments produced by the medical association of the State 95% of what they gave to us, and I believe if we had accepted 99% of what they gave us to insert into a bill like this they would still come before this body and object to that one per cent that you were granting these people in fair consideration. Now if you propose to put this bill back into the committee again, it is only the delay that has been customary in all bills like this ever since I have been a member of this House, due to the State Medical Association of this State, because they are opposed to any other cult, it doesn't matter how important it is to the people of this Commonwealth. From the time that they first were granted a bill of their own up to the present time, they had opposed any other cult or practicioners of the healing art to receive the necessary legislation to protect them. They think the medical organization of the State is the guardian over every other cult or healing art and they object to anybody coming into this State who can prove their worthiness. And before this bill passes, I propose to show to the members of this House their worthiness, their work, by petitions here from over ten thousand patients of these people who have been benefited by their work, and I want to say it is only the natural delay of the state medical organization to put this back into the committee, not for the purpose of honest amendment, no, but in the hope that within two or three weeks or a month this session is going to come to an end, and then they will go out and say, "We have accomplished one more thing for two more years. We have prevented a body of citizens from receiving protection from the Commonwealth," and these citizens are just as good, just as honorable, just as worthy of consideration and proven to the people of this Commonwealth that they are worthy of consideration, and all that they ask is protection of their own profession. All that they asked is that the State of Pennsylvania will not be a dumping ground for the other forty-seven states surrounding this State who had granted them a license and protection. I only ask, in honesty to these people, Pennsylvania citizens, honorable, intelligent and educated, that you don't put this bill back into the committee.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if the chiropractors the men and the women who are to be benefited by this are satisfied with this bill, why need the medical profession worry about it? Now, the medical profession have their own examining board so that when they get a certificate everybody knows what it means. The osteopaths have the same thing. The chiropractors are only being put in the same position. Now, why should they be handicapped? In other words, all they mean is this, that under this bill when they put their sign up it shows that they have had a certain course or have undergone a certain examination. It is to protect you if you believe in chiropractors or it is to protect me or somebody else so that when they go along the street and see the sign that means just what it stands for, and that means that they have to have an examination under this bill. Now, why is this medical profession continually, and I am not objecting to the medical profession, to them having what they please, but what would they say if they prepared a bill here and we lawyers woul stand up and commence to criticize their bill and say they shouldn't have it. The chiropractors simply want to be in a position where they can protect themselves and their profession, and protect you against quacks. Now that is all there is to it, and why should this bill go back to this committet when we are able to pass on it tonight? We understand the bill, and therefore I would oppose this return.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't like to take up your time, but I feel that there is some explanation necessary. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, what Mr. Alexander has said is true regarding the medical profession. We have a board, so do the osteopaths. Now those amendments that we are supposed to put into this bill will make the same regulation. It is for the purpose of ascertaining whether the men who are now practicing chiropractics are really qualified to practice chiropractics. It carries with it the professional standards of osteopathy mechanotherapy and electrotherapy. We are asking that this board do the same thing and that the board shall be composed of such men and ladies who have already received a certificate through the medical license act of the so-called drugless therapy. I will promise this House and the sponsor of this bill that if this bill be referred back to the Committee that the bill will be acted upon favorably regarding these amendments and the bill shall come out tomorrow again. It only means a delay of a day or two, and then when the bill comes up for final passage we can act on the amendments here. I see no reason why these red flags should be going up and members be scared to death. Nobody is trying to crowd these men out. We appreciate that they have some virtues; but we feel that they ought to be put in the same catagory of education and I am sure that if Mr. Dunn will just reason this thing out, he and his friends, and if the committee does not agree with my amendments, I assure you that the bill shall come out of the committee tomorrow.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative, and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this cult or healing art that is coming before you tonight and asking for this legislation have a right to ask for legislation that will give them protection, that will clean out the State of Pennsylvania of any incompetent, inefficient people who are claiming to be practictioners in this particular line. Thirty-five states surrounding Pennsylvania have adopted this law and have given these people the right to license and govern themselves. Pennsylvania today is the dumping ground for these other states who refuse to license an incompetent, inefficient, incapable chiropractor. Why should this great Commonwealth one of the greatest within the Union be permitted, by preventing a piece of legislation like this from passing, to be made a dumping ground for twenty-three or twenty-four other states? I ask you this, that if you give them this protection, I will guarantee that inside of a year the incompetent people, those who received their education through a correspondence school, or a three months' college course, will be wiped out in Pennsylvania, and Pennsylvania will be placed on a level with other states in dealing with this particular healing art. I have here petitions from ten thousand patients who are depending on these people for health, to bring them back from a condition in which, very often, the medical profession has left them, left them on the dump without any help or without any assistance. They have gone to these people and received treatments and been brought back to health and happiness. And is it not worth while then, when ten thousand alone in this State are appealing to you to give these people the right to practice under the protection of this law? We propose in this act to do something that no other cult has ever done, and that is, we propose to put every chiropractor in Pennsylvania under an examination. No other state has required that, no other cult in Pennsylvania, not even the doctors, were required in the first act passed by them that they should be put under an examination and questioned as to their ability. All other cults that apply to this Legislature and are granted a bill similar to this have been granted a license to practice in this State if they practiced from three to five years, but we propose to show that every one of these, after this act is passed, we propose to show you they are educated, because a person who is not educated, who has not received a college education cannot pass this examination, and I will say that I believe fifty percent of the doctors who today are practicing medicine cannot pass that examination, but we are going to put our men to this test. We only ask that the preliminary education, that is, the high school education, be eliminated in the case of boys that are in college today whose parents are sending them there to be educated. They are there now, and we can't force on those boys who are there and are spending their money to be educated in this science of the healing art, the requirement that they must pass the four year high school course. We asked that it be eliminated, but when the boys come out of college, we propose, under this act, to put them under an examination as to their ability, their knowledge of the right to practice in the State of Pennsylvania, and I only ask you, for these four or five hundred who are in Pennsylvania today, every one of them an American citizen, everyone of them qualified to practice and some of them having been practicing for ten or fifteen years, I only ask you to vote favorably on this bill. Why should they be persecuted, persecuted by the medical society? Two years ago I had a similar bill up in the House and through the maneuvering of this state medical society certain amendments were inserted, which made it practically useless and we refused to accept it. What was the result? The State Medical Society engaged detectives giving them one hundred dollars for each case that they could detect. How were they doing it? They were sending a man to the office with another man, and when that chiropractor saw him he might say there was something the matter with the heart or the lungs, the chiropractor might say "You may have lung trouble" and immediately a warrant was sworn out for these people to take them before a magistrate, and taken into court for practising medicine without a license. That is the only ground that they can have for arresting them. In May of last year, this detective who never practised medicine, who was employed by the state Medical Society was trapped, and was trapped in Montgomery county in the town of Trappe. He went to a chiropractor and he said I can get $100.00 from the medical board which is checking you, and in Philadelphia I can get twenty-five. Now, I can get $2500.00 from the Medical Society of Pennsylvania to take them into Court, but if you give me $500.00 a piece I will guarantee not one of them will go into Court. We put the District Attorney in Philadelphia on it and used his detectives and they sent him up to Trappe where a chiropractor was. He goes in there and he tells them, they have a dictograph in the other room, and this doctor was in the profession which we all consider the highest in the country, this doctor deliberately says, "Give me $500.00 and no arrest will be made through me as their detective." "No," they said "we cannot give you that, we will give you $100.00 now and later on we will give you $500.00 additional". That money was marked. He accepted the $100.00 and when he went out on the highway the city detective grabbed him with the marked money in his hand and he was taken before the Montgomery county court and put on trial for accepting a bribe. While there one of the most prominent men in the state Medical Society went on the stand and tried to protect this man from being prosecuted, and tried to keep his case from going to the jury. The judge of the court said, "I am surprised to see one of the most eminent men of Pennsylvania high up as a professional man, come into this court and try to have a man released who deliberately did this thing." The man served three months in jail and they have not arrested any more since that time. They only ask for protection so that they will not be prosecuted any more in the state of Pennsylvania, if you give them a license to protect themselves.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise at this time not so much exercised over chiropractors as my good friend the gentleman from Philadelphia would have you believe. The bill before us for consideration, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I feel in all fairness to the medical profession in Pennsylvania, the medical profession in general, is not the kind of a bill that safeguards people against quackery, and men whom I know personally to have graduated from chiropractic schools who took but a course of three months. Those men from the day of their graduation until the present time never practised one hour in chiropractics. I know blacksmiths and I know shoemakers, and I know men in other walks of life, who went to the Pittsburgh school of chiropractics, came out of there in three months and put up a sign "doctor of chiropractics" and two weeks afterwards tore it down and went to the workshop. Under this bill you license every man who knows not an iota of his profession, that is the condition that we wanted to correct in the amendments that were offered, but in the wisdom of this House you saw fit to reject those amendments. I ask it in all fairness to the men, to the doctors in general in this great country, and this great Commonwealth, who have done so much and who have sacrificed so much in life for the welfare and the benefit of humanity in general. I am willing to accept the challenge of the gentleman from Philadelphia when he says that possibly one doctor may for $500.00 have done what he says, but remember, gentlemen, in the legal profession and in the medical profession and every other profession, as well as the clergy, there are a lot of cheaters. We don't deny that. We know that we have some men who absolutely should not be practising medicine. I want to say, ladies and gentlemen of the House that it has been said by the proponents and the sponsor of the bill that it will protect the people of Pennsylvania from the influx from the various states of the Union, if they have an opportunity, they will come here and make a dumping ground of Pennsylvania. We don't want that man accepted as a member of the profession here unless he is qualified. There are many of them for whom I have the kindest regard and the greatest respect, who are serious in the practice of chiropractics and who, I know, would not deviate one iota from the practice of chiropractics, but I ask you, members of the House, where is the line of demarkation between osteopathy and chiropractics, as it is practised by some of the men in chiropractics. I take myself, as an example, for I went to a chiropractor and I went to an osteopathist. The line of treatment was so very similar that I did not know which was chiropractics and which was osteopathy, because they did not stop at simply spinal manipulation, not all of them, I am generalizing, I don't mean every one of them, but the majority, and it is only for that reason, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that we cherish and respect our profession to such a degree, that we want men and women to be recognized in the profession of chiropractics in such a way that we know will be a safeguard to the people in this great state.

Ladies and gentleman, this is a more serious problem than you may realize. How many of you members have ever stopped to think of the sacrifice that the men in the medical profession have made personally for the welfare of the people of this great nation. Men who have permitted themselves to be infected with the malaria germs, yellow fever, bubonic plague, consumption of unfiltered water in the prevention of typhoid. Have they done that for the purpose that the doctor may enrich his finances? No, if that were to continue the doctors would be better off, there would be more typhoid, there would be more malaria, there would be more bubonic plague, and then this element wants to come in here into this state and be recognized as physicians. I say that this is just a stepping stone as was argued on the floor of this House in 1909 when the osteopaths became licensed men. He received his board, and he on the very floor of this House said that "we no longer want medicine". Four years ago the osteopaths came into this House and asked that they be permitted the privilege to prescribe medicine. Why, I ask you? Because they know that the application of thereapy, whether that be osteopathy or chiropractics, is only an alleviation and they know they need medication. In this session the osteopathists have gone in the Senate and asked that they be permitted to practice surgery. Now, this same line or cult comes in and wants their own board. We do not object to the chiropractor who is qualified. We do not argue against the virtue of chiropractics, but we are arguing for the safety of the people. If they qualify the same as any other student of medicine who has to go out into the world to make diagnosis of diseases, and in the establishment of a diagnosis, after he has done so, he then applies his remedy. We don't object to this chiropractic thereapy, but we want them to be qualified. We want to know that the examination board is composed of men of qualifications, or ladies of qualification, and that is what the amendments that I presented tonight carried with them. In all fairness, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I ask you to vote this bill down.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that it would be unfair to me if I were not to say just one or two words in favor of this bill. I am related to a party that had suffered with rheumatism for years and years. They procured the best of medical treatment, the best that they could find, and without any result; and from year to year she was gradually growing worse, until they had practically given her up, but through the advice of a friend the suggestion was made to her to take this treatment. And I want to say to you that when this lady went under this treatment she could not even move a finger, not a finger. Now, I don't know that I can say to you that she will ever again walk, but the pain was something terrible. Today she has no pain, she can move her fingers, she can move her arms and she is not in any way distressed, and she is not taking a particle of medicine. One year ago I would have let this bill go by unnoticed by me, but after I have seen the results that have been accomplished through this healing art, I feel it my duty to say to you that I believe that this bill should have fair and proper consideration. I believe there is no reason in the world why these people should not be licensed. There is evidently a reason why the professional men are opposed to it. I don't know what the reason may be, but I do know that these people are giving beneficial results to our people, and I believe that they should be justly considered.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, just what my friend here has said from Delaware county, is true of a number of others. Now when my friend from Allegheny talks about these men getting out of the grocery store one day and being a chiropractor the next, there is no doubt about that being correct and about them making mistakes. There is no doubt about that being correct. Lawyers and doctors all make mistakes, and the only difference in the mistakes is that the lawyers' mistakes are six feet above the ground and the doctor's mistakes are six feet under the ground. Now there are too many mistakes; there are too many tombstones; there are too many grave yards filled by the mistakes of doctors for them to come here and tell me that they have the exact cure for every ill that there is. And it is not correct, it is not right, it is not fair even, for the medical profession to stand here and object to this bill or this profession, protecting themselves against the many vices that he speaks about. I know there are men on this floor tonight that are talking against it and men who say they studied chiropractic and they don't want this bill because they will have to take an examination and they can't pass this examination, and therefore they can't put up their shingle and invite you people in to be treated when they become chiropractors and naturally they are now lobbying in the back part of this House against this bill. They can't practice, they can't pass this examination. This will stop the man from taking a four months course and then hanging up his shingle, but after this bill is passed, it protects everyone of them and it protects you. Now you know if you want a medical man you can get him; if you want an osteopath you can go and get him; if you want a chiropractor you can go and get him; but you want to know when you see a sign up, either an M. D. or a chiropractor's sign or an osteopath's sign, you want to know that that stands for the fact that that man has taken a certain examination, has come up to certain requisites and is ready and fitted to treat you. And I cannot understand why this medical profession don't want them today, when they can get some assistance, whether it be from the chiropractor or whether it be from the osteopath, God knows from somebody at least who can help to save humanity from dying if you possibly can. They have been trying to treat cancer for the last one thousand years and they don't know any more about it than they did before, and then they come here and ask you and me to come to them alone and to nobody else and to give no other profession a chance to try help cure these ills. I say there is something wrong with it there is something wrong with their profession, that they don't want these other people to help them.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I only want to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether this amendment, in regard to putting these people under an examination, that he submitted to me has been incorporated into the bill at the present time?

Mr. STEEDLE. On what page?

Mr. DUNN. On page 8.

Mr. STEEDLE. What line?

Mr. DUNN. Starting on line 4 after the bracket:

"Any person engaged in the practice of Chiropractic in this Commonwealth prior to the passage of this act and desiring to continue the practice thereof after January first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four who shall file with the Secretary of the said State Board of Chiropractic Examiners upon appropriate blank to be furnished by said secretary an application verified by oath that the applicant is not less than twenty-one years of age is of good moral character and a graduate of a legally incorporated or chartered school or college of Chiropractic shall be entitled to take an examination as to his or her qualifications for the practice of Chiropractic which examination shall include the subjects of anatomy physiology chemistry diagnosis pathology sanitation hygiene neurology symptomatology and the principles of Chiropractic and shall further require the prospective licentiate to give a clinical demonstration of the vertebral palpation and adjusting."

That is the very amendment you offered to me, and I inserted it in the bill. Don't you approve of that?

Mr. STEEDLE. I approve of that, yes.

Mr. DUNN. You agree to that amendment? You are the one, then, who is the sponsor, who put a chiropractor under an examination and specifies that they take an examination, and every man or woman who takes that examination must be a graduate from a college and must have the education, or they cannot pass the examination.

Mr. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, there is one thought that has not been brought out in connection with this discussion. The proponents of the bill talk about this being an attempt to stop the practice of chiropractic. That is not so. My friend from Philadelphia has presented the petition of 10,000 patients. These patients could get their chiropractors the same as before. The drugless therapy act covers the law now. And the gentleman from Delaware says that the doctor's mistakes are six feet under ground. If the doctors have made mistakes in diagnosis, after having gone through seven years of schooling before they can practice, and then pass their state board examination, if then they make mistakes, how much more careful should we be about licensing any particular cult, or whatever you may call it, and allow them to practice when they have not had the advantage of that much learning. We are not trying to knock them but we are trying to regulate them and protect them from their mistakes. This bill does not offer that security to the public which we would like to have them offer, and for that reason I would ask the members of this House to vote down this bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Allman, Asbury, Aston, Baker, Bluett, Blumberg, Bromley, Burns, Bush, Colville, Conner, Coyne, Diehm, Dilsheimer, Dunn, Eaches, Earley, Evans, Burd, P., Fields, Flynn, Frazier, Gibbon, Golder, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. MATHAY,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 850, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand twenty-four) entitled "An Act to protect the public health and welfare by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments with respect to the hours of labor and the conditions of their employment by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, and others, by prescribing penalties for violation thereof, by defining the procedure in prosecutions and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof," as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MATHAY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is an amendment to section three of the act of 1913 commonly known as the woman's hour bill. The purpose of the amendment is to reduce the hours from fifty-four per week to forty-eight per week and from ten hours per day to eight hours per day, with the proviso, however, "that for the sole purpose of making a shorter work day on one day in the week any female may be employed by such establishment on each of the other five days of the week for a period of time not exceeding eight and three-quarter hours."

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I recognize that labor is the foremost domestic problem confronting the American people today. One of the most important problems of that is the problem affecting the men and women in the question of hours. This question is very important for the reason that in the United States there are employed over twelve million women and in the State of Pennsylvania there are employed close to half a million women, and so you will see, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that this bill is vitally important to the State. This legislation is not new, there are states having this legislation and it is working very well. The Supreme Court of the United States has passed upon this question, holding that the regulation of the hours of the women is subject to the police powers of the State. The United States Supreme Court has held in upholding the California Act along this same line that fixing the hours of labor at eight hours per day is a reasonable exercise of the police power. So, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you will see that this question is not a new one. It is a question which has been interpreted by the highest court of the land and has been upheld as a valid exercise of the police power. Industry at the bottom is essentially a question of human power. The question of importance in industry is human power. There are two kinds of power in industry, machine power and human power. There is no regulation to the machine, but the only regulation we have is the regulating of human power and this State in the exercise of its police power has already recognized the fact that the health of its citizens must be protected, and especially is this true of the women. Women demand more protective law than men, women are differently constituted than men, and therefore, this State, the State of Pennsylvania, has already recognized the fact that there must be regulation for the hours of women in industry in Pennsylvania, and the act of 1913 was passed by this Legislature fixing the maximum hours at fifty-four hours per week, and ten hours per day.

We will hear argument no doubt to the effect that if we curtail the hours of labor in industry that it will affect production. That is a fallacy, Mr. Speaker and members of the House. Statistics have shown us that with a shorter working day production is in no way hampered; that industry is able to produce more with a shorter working hour day than with a long working hour day. The best test of that is the test in Massachusetts. Massachusetts has a forty-eight hour week, and the law in Massachusetts is working very well. Let me just read for the information of the members of the House a few of the stock dividends paid by the Massachusetts mills, because the question will be raised here that if we reduce the house of labor that industry will be hampered, and the result will be that industry will be driven from the State of Pennsylvania. These figures I am giving you from our Massachusetts mills are taken from the United States census. The Pacific Mills of Massachusetts in 1920 paid a stock dividend of one hundred per cent; the United States Bobbin and Schuttle Company paid a two hundred per cent. stock dividend; and the Durfee Mills, Fall River, paid two hundred per cent. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to read here a long list showing that the industries of Massachusetts where they have the same law have not been affected. We will hear also the argument on the other side of this bill, that probably the competition of the south will affect the mills in the north. I want to say right here, Mr. Speaker, that the south, although they have no limitation on the hours of labor, that the statistics I have gathered from government statistics show that in competition with the mills of the north, that the northern mills can take care of themselves. For instance, in 1920, the State of Massachusetts with a forty-eight hour law in one hundred and ninety-one mills produced goods to the value of $686,171,106 as compared with North and South Carolina where they have a sixty-hour week and four hundred and fifty-six mills the total production was $546,440,000. So Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it will become apparent that in Massachusetts with a forty-eight hour law for women they more than hold their own. Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is an old saying that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link; and so with the women in industry, the future of this country depends upon the women of the nation, and as strong as the women of the nation are, so strong will the nation itself be. So, I say, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is absolutely necessary that we pass legislation of this kind effecting women especially. I call your attention to the fact also that the men have labor organizations, they have organizations taking care of their hours of labor, but women have no such organizations, therefore, it is incumbent upon us as members of the Legislature to pass a bill along this line.

The greatest element in labor, hampering industry, is fatigue, and nothing is more harmful to the individual and the worker than fatigue. A human being can work just so long, and when they work so long their energy is exhausted and fatigue comes along and says, "If you work any longer, you are going to impair your health." It has a dangerous effect. On the other hand the machine in competition with human labor knows no fatigue. The machine starts and the machine stops, and when the machine is worn out they buy new machines. Not so with human labor, especially with women. When the woman's health gives out we cannot replace woman labor, she becomes a drug upon society, and the state must take care of her, and so that state in recognizing exercising its police power has recognized the fact that legislation of this kind must be assed to protect women in industry.

Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I can frankly say that in many instances in Pennsylvania the hours adjusted by this bill are now being worked daily and work no hardship I think that we owe it to the women in industry to pass this bill and cut the house hours of labor down from fifty-four per week to forty-eight per week, and the maximum from ten hours per day, to eight hours per day. Therefore, members of the House, I ask your earnest support of this bill.

Miss GRIMES. Mr. Speaker, I feel obliged to oppose this bill because I feel it to be class legislation and unconstitutional, and I believe in the second place it is bad economics. First, I wish to say that I do not want to be understood as opposing anything that improves the condition under which people work. I mean that for all of us, because all of us should work. I know that the conditions under which people work make the difference between that which is drudgery and work which is joyous self-expression, so what I would like to do is to urge things that improve the condition of work, but I do not believe that this bill does. I believe in the first place it is unconstitutional. It provides a different number of hours for women than those provided for men. Since women are now equal with men, after having clamoured for years for equal rights, we should accept equal responsibilities with men, and work under the same condition as men work. I believe that these woman's organizations who are behind laws of this kind are hampering and limiting woman in her desire to meet men on an equal basis and to fight the battle of life equally with them. Women are no longer in the class of children and imbeciles. We are now under the law equal with men and we should take our chances equally with them. I believe this law to be bad economics because in many places where men and women work together in industries, the work of the men and women is complimental and supplemental, and if the hours for women are changed, it decreases the working day for men and increases the cost of production by limiting production. In many cases where women work by the day, they do not want this change in the law because they want to work as many hours as they can and earn as much money as they can. They do not want to be limited or restricted to eight hours a day because they want the money, and you know that where their hours are restricted their earning capacity is limited and the cost of living will increase not only to them but to the rest of us. Now take the big industries in Pennsylvania, particularly throughout the western part of the State. I know something about the condition that exists in the big industries, and a great many of them are doing work to improve conditions under the Welfare Department in the industries, doing everything to improve the conditions under which the women work, and a law like this upsets the organization in industries of the State. It is a fact that in our industrial life it is the spirit of co-operation between the employer and the employee that is working out a great many of the problems for women. They have their hospitals and their recreation classes and many other things that the women could not possibly get for themselves. I believe this eight-hour provision for women is a very bad thing in large industries and not in the interest of the women themselves. I therefore ask you to vote this bill down.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise in favor of this bill, due to the fact that my grandmother was a coal miner, and that my mother also worked in a coal mine. I just want to go back to the year 1609. That is a long way back, but I want to say to you that under the English Law that the women of England, Scotland and Wales were playing in those years the part that mills and electricity are now playing in America. In the year 1609, women, men and children were compelled, under the laws of Scotland and England, to work in the coal pits. They dragged cars of coal like the mules now drag them in this country. Until 1775, the laws were then changed, whereby the women and children of Scotland, England and Wales were not given their freedom until they had served seven years for the corporations. They were then working sixteen and seventeen hours a day. Many of the men and women who fought the battles of that time swung from the gallows in the defense of the labor movement. Until the year 1842, when Lord Ashley passed a law in the Parliament of England, were the women and children freed from the mines of England. I have thought many a time when I have gone over the history of our states whether we are going to go back to the old days. I want to say to you that under the laws of our day there is no person in this Hall who can intelligently stand upon this floor and say that the eight hour work day has not been well received in this country. Leave me just say to you, the statistics are not mine, but they are federal government, if you please: The anthracite coal region of this state, prior to the war employed 168,000 men and boys. They produced in two hundred seventy-two days, 70,000,000 tons of coal, working nine and ten hours per day. During the war, and we heard much of that this morning, during the war 45,000 men and boys gave up their employment in the anthracite coal industry and went into the trenches of France and into munition factories of this country, and with 45,000 less men and boys, working on an eight hour basis, they produced in two hundred seventy-two days, 102,000,000 tons of coal. Did the eight hour day injure the production of coal? I want to say to you and to the men who are familar with anthracite industry that during the years when I was a boy they were mining seams of coal anywhere from six feet to a hundred feet in thickness. During the war they were employed in a vein twenty-seven inches to six feet of coal and produced over 20,000,000 more tons of coal working on a wage of a $1.00 per day. With 45,000 less employees, we can see this was a great year in our shops and in our industries. I was a member of this committee when the hearing was held in this very room, when there appeared upon the floor of this House a man that couldn't speak the English language, who absolutely admitted that he had only been in the country ten years, and was here representing the industry of this state, and he was telling us that we should work sixteen hours a day if we wanted to. My friends, if the men of this state are entitled to an eight hour day, then I say to you the women of this state are also entitled to an eight hour day. Why should they not be? The industries of this state, taking the silk industry, if you please, I know my wife was a silk waever, and she was employed in the silk industry and where she was running one loom seventeen years ago, that same girl is running six looms today. And why should they not have an eight hour day? I say to you that if the women of seventeen years ago was running one and two looms in a silk industry where a woman today is running five or six looms in the silk industry, she is certainly entitled to an eight hour day.

Fatigue, and we have heard a great deal of it; I stood in this Hall in 1917 when Governor Brumbaugh had called a conference of the great industrial agents of this state and Samuel Gompers was here on that occasion, and he so intelligently presented the argument before Governor Brumbaugh and before that efficiency conference that I am absolutely convinced that the eight hour day is absolutely necessary. The question was put forth in this House as to how many men and women were at work in this state after three o'clock in the afternoon, and the statisticians throughout the United States and throughout the world, my friends, proved that sixty percent of the people that were killed and injured in the state of Pennsylvania and in the United States and throughout the entire country were injured after three o'clock in the afternoon, proving absolutely that fatigue was the cause of the injury. My position was a coal miner. Many a day I have had the painful duty of carrying home a man who had been killed in the coal mines, and I had the painful duty of helping to feed widows and orphans and I can truthfully state that nine out of every ten cases that I helped to carry home from the coal mines were killed in the mines after three o'clock in the afternoon. It has been attributed, my friends, that it is due to laziness and blamed upon the worker. That is not true. It is fatigue, and I can truthfully say to you and I know from my experience in this House that men have sat around me and they couldn't sit eight hours in this House to save their souls and pass on third reading bills, because they were afraid of fatigue. It doesn't need to be manual labor, but there is fatigue of the mind as well as physical fatigue, and I say to you in defense of the women of this state, that I believe the women of Pennsylvania are as deserving of as much consideration as the women are receiving by the federal government. It has been said that we should follow the federal government in all things. The federal government has given the eight hour day to its employees, and if we are going to follow them in one thing, let us follow them in all things, and let us give to the working women of this great state an eight hour day.

Mr. MANGAN. Mr. Speaker, as I was chairman of the committee through which this bill passed, I desire to make an explanation to the members of this House. The bill was introduced on March 19th. Having in my entire career in this House, of five terms, voted in favor of every piece of labor legislation that was introduced in this House, I felt very kindly to the measure. On the afternoon of March 19th I presented the bill to this House for its consideration. Immediately upon presentation to this House, those opposed to the bill and other members of this House presented themselves for a hearing. I went to the sponsor of the bill and had it recommitted for a hearing. We had that hearing in our regular room, but the room would not hold us and we went to the caucus room, but the caucus room would not hold us. The Speaker of the House was away at the time and we took a chance on taking this House for a hearing. I might say we had the biggest hearing I have seen in the House this session. We listened to both sides of it, and as chairman of the committee I carefully listened to the opponents and proponents of the bill. I held the bill for one week. I went into a committee and we asked the committee to allow the people from the western end of the State to be granted a hearing, but due to the fact that the girls in the western end of the State did not have enough money, they could not appear at that hearing and oppose the bill. There is no industry west of the Allegheny mountains that does not oppose this bill. There is no department store in Allegheny County that does not oppose this bill. I am just as much for an eight-hour day as my friend from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, and I will vote for an eight-hour day if they will grant it for every woman in this State. Many of these women west of the Alleghenies are working fifty hours a week and they work five days a week and they have one day a week off so they are opposed to this bill on those grounds. There is another reason for opposing this bill. In these industries west of the Allegheny Mountains men are employed in these industries and these men can work fifty-four, fifty-six and sixty hours a week if they want to. If this bill passes women can only work forty-eight hours while the men will work sixty. If you call that equal rights, all right, but I don't. I feel that if this bill would apply to all women, those in domestic service and in hospitals and otherwise, I would be for it; but I am not for some individual corporations such as the silk mills and textile mills in the eastern end of the state having an eight-hour day and the women and the men as well in the western end of the State working sixty hours a week. I feel that this bill ought to be voted down.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. MATHAY. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, the provisions of this bill are not sufficiently elastic. They forbid five days' employment at ten hours each day during any week, an arrangement which permits a whole day's rest on Saturday. This practice already prevails in many industries throughout our State——in some during the entire year and in others during the summer months only. The bill, if passed, would prevent this.

Again, the bill recognizes no distinction between unhealthy and confining kinds of occupation and those in which the conditions surrounding the work done under existing law are deemed by the women themselves to be most desirable.

The conditions affecting adult women in industry and those affecting child labor differ very materially. As to the latter, I have voted consistently to protect the child in industry, regarding the health and well being of the child of today as a fundamental prerequisite to that of the grown-up of tomorrow.

However, economic reasons and reasons affecting the political status of adult women in industry have not been sufficiently studied in the preparation of House Bill No. 850

For these reasons, I vote "no".

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file the following reason for voting "no" on House Bill 850. Personally I favor a 48-hour week but I find that a large number of women employed in my district desire to work 9 hours per diem in order that they may have a short Saturday.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. ALLEN J. STEVENS.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 751,(Senate Bill No. 40), entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of the prothonotary in counties of the eighth class and providing for the payment of all fees and commissions into the county treasury

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. ALLEN J. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Counties and Townships for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. STEEDLE.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1434, (Senate Bill No. 685), entitled:

An Act to amend sections one, two, three, five and seven, as amended of the act approved May 1, 1909 (P. L. 321) entitled "An Act to provide for State registration of nurses, to establish a State Board of Examiners in connection therewith, and to provide penalties for the violation of certain provisions regarding such registration;" by providing for a change in membership of the Board, for a change in salary of the secretary, treasurer, educational director and of the members of the Board

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

RESOLUTION No. 15.

Mr. VAN ALEN asked and obtained unaminous consent to call up resolution No. 15, file folio 6143.

The resolution was read as follows:

Whereas There is now at the Homeopathic State Hospital for the Insane at Allentown certain electrical equipment no longer of use at such institution by reason of a change from an alternating to a direct current system and

Whereas The Department of the Adjutant General can make use of said electrical equipment at the State Military Reservation at Mt. Gretna therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the board of trustees of the Homeopathic State Hospital of Allentown is authorized to transfer to the Adjutant General of the Commonwealth for use at the State Reservation at Mount Gretna one one hundred K. V. A. Motor Generator Set the switch board equipment for the same and the transformers and motors for the above equipment

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. METCALF.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 825, entitled:

An Act for the protection of owners of electric storage batteries upon which the word "rental" or any other word mark or character is printed painted stamped or attached to identify the same and providing penalties

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recuring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 3, page 2, line 16, by inserting after the word "recharge" the words "except in cases of emergency"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. LYNCH.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1004, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fourth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two (Pamphlet Laws forty) entitled "An Act supplemental to an act entitled 'A Supplement to acts relating to incorporations by the courts of common pleas' approved on the ninth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six" providing for the publication of notice and the mailing of notices to stockholders in case of dissolution proceedings

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WHITEHOUSE,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 135, entitled:

An Act regulating the hours of labor of policemen in cities of the third class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have very little interest in this bill for the reason that in the city of Chester, which I have the honor to represent, our police work but 8 hours a day, and I see no reason why this body should pass a law which will affect some forty odd cities of the third class. I believe that the various city councils are thoroughly competent and able to pass such laws as might be required in the different cities. This bill is entirely opposed to our home rule principle, and I sincerely trust that you will vote this bill down.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House we are not asking any 44 or 48 hour law, we are asking for a 56 hour law, 8 days in the week, and we are asking for greater efficiency in the police force that will work for greater efficiency for the people. I ask you to vote for this bill.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not like to oppose legislation of our dear friend from Schuylkill, but it seems to me that the cities of the third class should be permitted in matters of this kind to regulate the hours of their own police forces. Now we all know that if this bill should pass it would very greatly add to the expense of the cities of the third class because it would require at least three shifts of policemen. There are many times when the safety of a city demands that the policeman work more than 8 hours. For example when there is a large affair it is absolutely necessary to have the policeman on duty more than 8 hours. There are many occasions during the year when it is necessary to have policemen in service more than 8 hours a day, and if you pass this bill you limit the police power of third class cities. For that reason it seems to me to be very unwise for this legislature to impose this burden on cities of the third class, particularly since cities of the third class should have the right to regulate the number of hours that policemen work, themselves.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. MORRISON, The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1429, (Senate Bill No. 746), entitled:

An Act relative to the disposition of fines and forfeitures in counties of this Commonwealth of the fourth class and authorizing the expenditure of a portion of all of said fines for the support and maintenance of a law library in said counties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MORRISON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 5, by inserting after the word "existing" the words "or future"

Amend section 1, page 1, line 7, by inserting after the word "forfeiture" the following: "in such proportion as said court may direct"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on House Bill No. 1392 (Senate Bill No. 600), file folio 1049, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and fifteen) entitled "An Act to fix the salaries of the deputies in the offices of the clerk of the courts county controller recorder of deeds county treasurer chief deputy sheriff and chief clerk to the county commissioners in counties of this Commonwealth having over two hundred and fifty thousand population and less than four hundred thousand population by changing the manner of fixing salaries and prescribing the minimum thereof and making the act apply to counties of the third class on page 16 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed be extended five days.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. CHAPLIN,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1454, (Senate Bill No. 775), entitled:

An Act requiring supervisors and commissioners of townships to apply for county aid in the construction and maintenance of roads upon application therefor by property owners

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS.

Mr. MOFFATT. Mr. Speaker, I move that an extension of five days time be granted on House Bill No. 819, file folio 6069, entitled:

> An Act to amend section six of the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one hundred thirty-eight) entitled "An Act relating to the appointment of persons to the fire departments in cities of the third class constituting a civil service board in relation thereto providing for and regulating examinatoins the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing for fixing compensation of a secretary" on page 13 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. STORER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1164, entitled:

> An Act amending an act entitled "An act for the better and more impartial selection of persons to serve as jurors in each of the counties of this Commonwealth" approved the tenth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven Pamphlet Laws page sixty-two

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the sponsor to explain this bill.

Mr. STORER. Mr. Speaker, this bill applies to counties of the second class and was drawn at the request of the judges of Allegheny County. The only change in the bill is that when the names of the jurors submitted, the names of the persons who are to serve as jurors are submitted to the jury commissioners, they send out a card with a return card upon which the person drawn as a juror will state his preference as to what season of the year he desires to serve. The year will be divided into three seasons. Those who fail to make this return, their names will be placed in the wheels at the judgment of the commissioners. The purpose of the bill is to give those who are called for service an opportunity to state their preference as to which season of the year will suit them best. Conditions now are such that at least fifty to seventy-five per cent of the persons called to serve as jurors have to be relieved. The names will be placed in three different wheels. The persons requesting to serve the first part of the year will be placed in wheel No. 1, those who desire to serve in the second part of the year in wheel No. 2, and those who desire to serve the latter part of the year will be placed in wheel No. 3.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Storer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STORER. I will.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if the caption or the title of the act does not refer to all counties in the Commonweath.

Mr. STORER. It does not, it refers to counties of the second class.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The title says that it is to amend an act entitled "An act for the better and more impartial selection of persons to serve as jurors in each of the counties of this Commonwealth."

Mr. STORER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was drawn by a man who was not familiar with the new rules, and he quoted the old act.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1923. No. 54.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1923.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father: We thank Thee for another day of life, and do Thou help us to spend it well. Everything we possess is from Thee. We may not all have the same number of talents. To some Thou givest five, to some two, and still others may have only one. But help us to take what Thou hast given and use it to the best of our ability, remembering that those who are faithful over a few things, Thou wilt make ruler over many things. May we redeem the time; may we do with our might what our hands find to do; and in all the business of life, may we seek to be workmen that need not to be ashamed.

We ask it in the Redeemer's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

The CHAIR asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Berks, Mr. Norton.

COMMUNICATION RELATIVE TO PROPER ENGINEERS REGISTRATION LAW.

The Chair laid before the Senate the following communication:

MH NORFOLK VA 1155A MAY 9 1923

The President of Senate, Harrisburg, Pa.

Whereas the health and safety of the Public require the safeguard which result from a proper engineers registration law and whereas the Legislature of Pennsylvania has before it a bill for repealing its Engineer registration act which has not had a proper trial to determine its value to the public Therefore be it resolved that the American Association of Engineers in convention assembled urges with the strongest emphasis that the state maintain its forward stand and retain this law on its statute books.

Section 2 Before the issuance of any execution process on the judgment obtained upon said first mortgage or the accompanying bond warrant or other obligation secured by it seizing and intending to sell the real estate so mortgaged as aforesaid the said first mortgage or his assignee shall give a written notice of intention of issuing such execution process to the said second mortgagee as herein provided for

Section 3 Notice required by this act may be made by personal service of said notice on the second mortgagee if an individual if a corporation then upon one of its officers or in either case by mailing a registered letter postage prepaid to the address of the said second mortgagee as noted on the margin aforesaid

Section 4 Before any execution process mentioned above shall be issued by the clerk or prothonotary of any court an affidavit of any person setting forth the manner of said service shall be filed with the clerk or prothonotary of the court in which the said proceedings are pending The affidavit shall set forth a copy of the notice so served as herein provided for and shall be made by the person making the service and shall set forth how the service was made and show a compliance with the provisions of this act and the prothonotary or clerk shall note on the docket the said proof of service and file the same in said proceedings

Section 5 Before the said execution process shall be issued an affidavit shall be filed with the clerk or prothonotary of said court setting forth the name and address of the second mortgagee noted on the margin of the record of said first mortgage and if there be none setting forth such fact and it likewise shall be filed with said proceedings

Section 6 For making such notation the Recorder of Deeds shall charge and collect a fee of one dollar and fifty cents

Section 7 This act shall not go into effect until the first day of August one thousand nine hundred and twenty three and shall not apply to any mortgages given and executed prior to that date

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Will you please explain the purpose of this bill?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill atbefore you at the present time is Bill 1173. The bill has been offered by me, but it is not, however, my creation. Some gentlemen from Pittsburgh came down and offered a bill with reference to second mortgages and other liens. That bill was referred to the Judiciary Special committee and we negatived that bill, but told him that we could go along with him part way, so that the bill before you now is the result of his thought. The bill provides for a new policy in Pennsylvania. The policy in Pennsylvania heretofore has always been that when a first mortgage was placed on a property, and the first mortgage was foreclosed no notice need be given to the second mortgage holder or other liens or encumbrances, so that not invariably, but it happened on many occasions that a property was sold out and bought in by the first mortgagee and the second mortgagee lost everything, notwithstanding the fact that there was a large equity in the property. Now this bill is as toothless as it can be made. I realize that it is an entirely new policy, and I have tried to make it as simple as possible so it would not conflct with our practice of years standing. The bill provides in the first place that a second mortgagee may take advantage of the law or he may not, as he sees fit. A second mortgagee when he presents his mortgage of record may say, "The first mortgage on this property is recorded in book so and so, page so and so, and I ask you to write on the margin of the first mortgage my name and address." Then the bill next provides that should the first mortgagee foreclose or should sue out the mortgage on the accompanying bond and warrant, that before the prothonotary issues the writ directing the sheriff to sell the property the first mortgagee must send a letter to the second mortgagee, to the name and address as given on the margin of the first mortgage, and that he must file with the prothonotary an affidavit saying that he did that. Now the bill does not say that the second mortgagee must receive it. It simply puts the burden on the first mortgagee, or his lawyer, that is foreclosing it, that he must mail that nótice to the second mortgagee, to the name and address given. Now, I don't see any great burden imposed on the first mortgagee in doing that, and I don't see a great burden imposed on the lawyer to do that.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor further.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will proceed.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Sowers, do you not have a sheriff's sale and insurance company in Philadelphia to protect the second mortgagee.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in Philadelphia we have title companies that for $5.00, or $3.00 will guarantee to the second mortgagee that they will give him notice ten days before the sale of the property mortgaged. Now, when the country members came before the Judiciary Special Committee with their bill, I said there was absolutely no necessity for this bill, that in Philadelphia for three or four dollars we could protect ourselves against this evil, and I said, cannot you do it up in your counties? What do you want to bother us with this for? And they said "No, we don't have such things. We want this." There were two or three lumber merchants appeared before the committee and they said they were now engaged in a campaign of building, and that they would furnish their lumber, that there was a shortage of dwellings, that they wanted to put up their money on second mortgages and they wanted to have some notice from the first mortgagee, and that the facilities that we enjoyed in a large city they did not enjoy in the country, and for that reason I have gone with them and favored this bill.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no desire to oppose anything that would be of any benfit to anybody who is loaning money, but it seems to me that this bill does put an uncalled for burden on the first mortgagee. Under the law at the present time, if you loan money and have a first mortgage and come to foreclose it there are quite a lot of technical details that must be complied with before you can foreclose your mortgage. You must make an affidavit of ownership; you must make an affidavit of default and you have to watch the technical procedure all through the sale before you can get a good title. Now this bill puts a lot more requirements on the first mortgagee before he can foreclose his mortgage. He must give notice to the second mortgagee or as many of them as there are. After he gives notice he must file an affidavit as to the manner in which that notice given that must be accompanied by a copy of the form of notice, but if he fails in any of this it is a question whether his sale is valid or not. I merely call your attention to the provisions of it. Personally I do not think it is proper that we should put these additional requirements on the first mortgagee. If people are willing to take second and third mortgages, the burden should be upon them to look after their interests. The additional burden is placed upon the first mortgagee who believes his mortgage on record is absolutely clear. It seems to me that it would be a question whether we should put all this additional burden upon him in order to protect the second, third and fourth mortgagees or men who are willing to place their mortgages in that position. If these men are willing to take second mortgages the burden should be upon them to look after their own interests. It is a matter that I merely call to the attention of the members of the House, and you can use your own judgment. Personally I feel I cannot support this measure.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have discussed this bill with my friend from Beaver and I agree with the sponsor of the bill. I think it is a proper and a good bill. and I will tell you why. I want to give you a certain instance at the present time. I represented, some time ago, a women who had a second mortgage on a property. She was fearful that the first mortgagee would issue an execution or a sci. fa. on the first mortgage and cause her to pay in order to protect herself, something like $125.00 extra over and above what she would have to pay. I went to the holder of the first mortgage and wrote him a letter and ask him if he wouldn't give me notice of any time when the motgagor defaulted in the payment of interest so that we could take care of that interest and save that money. He promised me he would, but the trouble is when they defaulted, he went to one of the attorneys who are anxious to collect an attorney's fee and instead of his giving me notice he issued a sci. fa. and gave me the notice afterwards. And before we could get the matter settled we went into court, and it cost that women seventy-five dollars to settle the cost of the attorney's fees before we could do that. Now, there is no reason why it shouldn't be done at all. Anybody that has a first mortgage is concerned about getting his mortgage interest and principal. Why shouldn't he, if somebody else is interested in the same property, if he has a chance to get his money; why shouldn't he give a notice to the other side and give them a chance to save themselves? The fact that he hasn't any right to loan on a second mortgage is no argument. If the property is worth it you have a right to accommodate a man if you want to and loan him a second mortgage, and I think it is no more than proper and no more than right that this should prevail.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to say just a few words on this bill from the standpoint of a treasurer of several building and loan associations in Philadelphia who handle very many second mortgages. When building and loan associations are organized, they sometimes are organized by men who are not always thoroughly adapted to the requirements and the rules and the regulations of building and loan associations. They hadn't that great amount of experience at all times that other officials of building and loan associations have had. They are not qualified at all times to understand the underlying principles and knowledge of building and loan association affairs that they should have had to properly conduct a loan association. I will admit that in Philadelphia with our land title and trust companies, and so forth, we are well protected, as has been said, but I believe that up in the country districts where you do not have land title and trust companies to keep you posted on these matters, that second mortgage holders should receive some protection. I can't, for the life of me, understand why there would be any great amount of burden upon anybody to write a letter to a building and loan association or to a second mortgage holder to notify them that they are about to foreclose their first mortgage, by reason of the fact that they want the money or that the interest has not been paid. I don't think that it is necessary, members of the House, to say anything further on this matter. It is simply a case of one man trying to protect another and I think we owe it to one another and I feel that if I am going to foreclose a mortgage and I know that the building and loan association holds a second mortgage made up of poor people whose money is in the building and loan association, I think that money should be protected, and it is a good way to protect it by notifying the loan associations that the first mortgagee has foreclosed, and I hope that this bill will pass on those grounds.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, in reply to my friend, Mr. Marshall, I want to call the attention of the House to two thoughts. My friend argues to you as though every man who took a first mortgage foreclosed on it. I don't believe that one in a thousand first mortgages are foreclosed. So, how much labor is that? Now, my friend makes another proposition that it would be a very heavy and undue burden on the first mortgagee. Now let's see what it does. It says, "notice in either case by mailing a registered letter, prepaid, to the address of the second mortgagee, as noted on the records." Now, how much work is that, buying a ten cent stamp, writing the letter, and putting it into a mail box? If any lawyer is too lazy to do that he ought to go out of business.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Storb, Ludlow, Weimer, Vickerman, McCaig, McCann, Miss Grimes, Messrs. Glasgow, Bluett, Joseph C. Marcus, Goehring, Craig, Alexander, A. I. Fowler, Hazlett, Heffernan, Post, Bromley, Burns, Dilsheimer, Haws, Lucas, Dunn and others.

Provided That two returns of nihil habet shall be equivalent to personal service in writs of scire facias to revive judgments entered in personal actions

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. Parkinson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PARKINSON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman, in the event the cause of action occured we will say, in the county of Philadelphia, and the man who was injured lived in Erie, is there anything in this bill to prohibit the action being brought in Erie against the man living in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr PARKINSON. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman to direct his inquiry to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Westmoreland if the cause of action arose in the city or county of Philadelphia and the person injured happened to reside in the county of Erie, will not this bill permit the resident of Erie to bring suit against a resident of Philadelphia, can he not commence the action in the county of Erie?

Mr. KUNKLE. I think not, Mr. Alexander. If you will notice the Act, it was originally made to change the words "in which the writ issues", but that has been amended by striking that out, so that the act, as it stands now, with the amendment, does not change the Act as it has been heretofore.

Mr. ALEXANDER. What is the purpose of the amendment, then?

Mr. KUNKLE. The purpose of the amendment is merely to get better service. For instance, a Pennsylvania corporation may have property, as was the case in a case in Greene County, and they maintained no office and no officer or director lives in the county where the property is located, and the purpose of this is to get same place to serve a writ and bring suit where the cause of action arose. The purpose is to give, in a case of that kind, where there is no office maintained and no director or officer can be reached, a better service in that case, and the Act has been amended so that it does not change any existing law.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The trouble is, it has been amended so often that I could not understand it, and that is the reason I am asking the question. You think the amendment is no broader than what you have stated.

Mr. KUNKLE. I am sure of that.

Mr. EDMONDS Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. KUNKLE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I not ask the gentleman if the situation he hasin mind was notcorrected dy a bill that we considered and passed a couple of weeks ago, where the defendant had realty in the county but no corporate organization.

Mr. KUNKLE. Not to my knowledge.

Mr. EDMONDS. I thought that was a bill that you introduced.

Mr. KUNKLE. No, that was a matter to obtain service when suit was brought on a general warranty deed, to bring the action in the county where the land was located, so it does not affect this, this is different. I might just add a word in case some of the members did not hear what I said. This simply amends the Service Act by adding another section to permit service on corporations in the State of Pennsylvania where they maintain no office, where the president and directors and officers are not located in the county where the property is situated, where the cause of action arose, and it permits service in that case by serving the Secretary of the Commonwealth and provides for such service. To my mind it is a good Act because the Pennsylvania corporations ought to maintain what they started out to maintain, an office, and they ought to have some place in the State to serve writs upon them, and if they do not maintain such an office then they can be served by service on the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the same way that they get service on foreign corporations. I think the bill is meritorious and should pass.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO HON. PETER KLINGENSMITH.

Mr. STEEDLE offered the following resolution which was read as follows:

> Whereas, this is the anniversary of the birth of Honorable Peter Klingensmith, who, in the turbulent days of the Revolution, left the old world to fight for Freedom in the new; who held the tiller of the boat which George Washington crossed the Delaware; who received at the hands of Lafayette the decoration of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor; who, at the conclusion of the war, crossed the Allegheny Mountains on foot with several trusted companions, smoothing the trail as they went so that those, who followed could travel easier;
> Whereas, despite the fact that the Honorable Peter Klingensmith aided materially in the growth and development of Pittsburgh, the great city of the western part of his state, where his descendants, including Representative Harry A. Little, live to this day, his achievements have received little mention in written history; therefore
> Be It Resolved, that when the House adjourn tonight it do so in honor of Peter Klingensmith.

The SPEAKER. This resolution is referred to the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1421 (Senate Bill No. 268), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article four section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania prohibiting after adjournment the appointment to office of any person whose nomination the Senate failed to confirm

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I rise to inquire whether there is anyone here sufficiently familiar with the purpose of Senate Bill 268 to explain it to us.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of this amendment is as follows: At the present time there is nothing to hinder an appointment, or in other words, the constitution provides now that every appointment must be confirmed by the Senate. There have been instances when an appointment has been made and the Senate has refused to confirm it. Then, immediately after the Senate has adjourned the appointment has been made irrespective of the desires of the Senate. Now, the purpose here is to carry into effect the law, and make it of some account. What is the use of having a Senate to confirm if the appointive power is going to pay no attention to it and go around it. The purpose therefore is, that the Senate must confirm an appointment, and if the Senate does not confirm, then the party cannot be appointed.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, if he does not think the language of the amendment is broader than he attempted to have. I would feel with him that where the Senate had refused to confirm that there perhaps the appointment ought not to be made in the recess. But here the language is that if the appointment was not confirmed by the Senate, that may be because the Senate has failed to take any action. Don't you think that the language ought to be limited to such case where the Senate has refused to confirm.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of House Bill No. 1421, (Senate Bill No. 268) be postponed for the present.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker. I move that the vote by which House Bill 1456, (Senate Bill 570), file folio 1525, entitled:

An Act providing for the merging of moneys held in certain special funds in the State Treasury with moneys in the general fund providing for the use of all moneys in the general fund for the payment of appropriations and for the payment from the general fund of moneys appropriated and dedicated for special purposes which was defeated on Wedensday, May 2, 1923, be reconsidered.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?
The Speaker declared the ayes appeared to have it

Whereupon a division was called for, and 60 members having voted in the affirmative and 55 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, may I say just a word in explanation of this bill. I am afraid there is an impresion in the House that this bill takes away special funds and diverts them from the purpose for which they were intended. That is not the case, it only provides that for fiscal purposes these funds in the State Treasury shall be merged in a general fund. I hope the members will vote to postpone the bill, and give it a fair hearing.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as the gentleman from Elk has spoken, I presume I have the same right. This bill does more than that. The bill makes no provision for returning these funds to the fund from which they were taken, and until it does that, I think that it is a bad bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that this discussion at this time is hardly in order. There can be a proper discussion when the bill comes up for final passage.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
The Speaker declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon a division was called for, and 78 members having voted in the affirmative and 52 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1460, (Senate Bill No. 793), entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved May tenth, one thousand eight hundred seventy-one (P. L. six hundred sixty-seven) entitled "An act to empower the school directors of Tuscarora and Spruce Hill townships, in the county of Juniata, to annex certain lands in Spruce Hill Township and Tuscarora township, in the county of Juniata, for school purposes."

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LAUVER. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of House Bill No. 1460, (Senate Bill 793), be postponed for the present.

Mr. HARTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1446, (Senate Bill No. 285), entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Cottage State Hospital situated in Connellsville Fayette county Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO CONDITION OF HIGHWAYS AND STREETS.

Mr. HORNE asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution, which was read as follows:

Whereas, many City Streets and Highways are breaking down under Heavy Motor Vehicle Traffic, because they were never constructed to carry such weights as are now permitted by the laws of the State of Pennsylvania.

Whereas, unless the weights which trucks can legally haul over our City Highway is fixed at a less amount than the present Motor Vehicle Laws permit, great loss and damages will be suffered by the taxpayers of our City, therefore,

Be It Resolved, by the Mayor and Council of the City of Johnstown Pennsylvania.

That they join in a petition to the Legislature and to the Governor to have the present Motor Vehicle laws amended so as to reduce the weights that may be legally hauled by Motor Vehicles over Public Highways of our Cities, and

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Senator and each Member of the House of Representatives, at Harrisburg, of the City of Johnstown and the County of Cambria.

Adopted in Council April 17, 1923.

Jos. Cauffiel,
Mayor.

Attest:
Jno. W. Cramer,
City Clerk.

PROTESTING AGAINST REPEAL OF ENGINEER'S LICENSE LAW.

The CHAIR laid before the House a telegram which was read as follows:

Norfolk, Va., May 9, 1923.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Whereas the health and safety of the public require the safeguards which result from a proper engineer's registration law, and

Whereas, the legislature of Pennsylvania has before it a bill for repealing its engineer registration act which has not had a proper trial to determine its value to public,

Therefore be it resolved, that the American Association of Engineers, in convention assembled, urges with the strongest emphasis that the State maintain its forward stand and retain this law on its statute books.

American Association of Engineers,
A. N. Johnson, President.

Which was referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 14, 1923. No. 56.

SENATE

MONDAY, MAY 14, 1923.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God: We are very thankful that we are acquainted with Thee. Thou art not only the Creator, the King, the Lawgiver and the Judge, but Thou art our Heavenly Father. Thou dost invite us to come to Thee as a child comes to an earthly parent, with our joys and sorrows, our hopes and fears, our burdens and troubles, and to tell Thee everything. We fear Thee but we are not afraid of Thee, for we trust Thee and we love Thee; and we know that Thou wilt do for us far more exceedingly than we can either think or ask. We commit ourselves and all our interests to Thy protecting care. Keep us in perfect safety till "the day break and the shadows flee away." For the sake of Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGES.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which were read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 439.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 9, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor Senate Bill No. 439, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 439, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the bill by adding the word "Monday" after the word "first" in line 23 on page 2, and by striking out the word "day" in line 24 of page 2, and by adding after the word "following" in line 24 of page 2 the following: "Provided, That on the Second Tuesday of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six (1926) county superintendents shall be elected as herein provided to serve from the first Monday of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six (1926) until the first Monday of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty (1930).

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

VETO OF RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 472.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 11, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith. without my approval, concurrent Resolution introduced in the Senate May 7, 1923, which reads as follows:

"Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 472, File Folio 1153, entitled 'An Act to amend Section one of an act, approved the eighteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws, one thousand and seventy-two), entitled "An Act providing a method of establishing title to land acquired at a sale for unpaid taxes, "Extending the provisions of said Act to all such sales,' be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment."

Said Senate Bill was signed by me before the Resolution recalling the Bill reached my office or came to my attention. It seems, however, that after the introduction of this concurrent Resolution it was found by conference between the sponsor of the Bill and the Attorney General's office that there is no occasion to recall the Bill for amendment because the Bill is good both in form and substance.

For these reasons the resolution is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the resolution be postponed for the present.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to?

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 47.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 9, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor Senate Bill No. 47, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 47. RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I voted"aye".

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Section 1, page 2, line 21, by inserting after the word "elections" the following: "but not more than fifteen dollars ($15.00) for this purpose for any one election."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

VETO OF SENATE BILL No. 645.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 9, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 645, entitled "A Supplement to an act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Appropriation Acts page one hundred and forty-two) entitled "An Act making an appropriation to the State Industrial Home for Women at Muncy" reappropriating certain appropriations heretofore made to the State Industrial Home for Women at Muncy."

On account of insufficient State Revenue, this bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. DeWITT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL No. 297.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 11, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 297, entitled "An Act to quiet the title to real estate and to enable citizens of the United States and corporations authorized to hold real estate within this Commonwealth to hold and convey title to real estate which has formerly been held or conveyed by, to or for corporations not authorized by law to hold the same".

This Bill carries the same title as House Bill No. 233, which was approved March 20, 1923, Act No. 17. While the wording of the Bill itself is slightly different from Act No. 17, the same purposes would be accomplished under either Bill. Being a duplication, I see no reason for its enactment.

For this reason the Bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objection of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION URGING GOVERNMENT TO PROVIDE HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATIONS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN NEAR PHILADELPHIA.

Mr. VARE offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Whereas The United States Government has, on short notice, closed U. S. Veterans hospital No. 49 in Philadelphia, and transferred more than 200 patients, all ex-service men, to Washington, D. C. and Perryville, Md. and

Whereas A majority of these patients, whose infirmities are the result of their service in the World War, are residents of Philadelphia and near-by towns and are thus removed far from their homes and families, and

Whereas both these unfortunate men and their families are entitled to all the consideration a grateful government can give them,

Therefore be it resolved That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby urges the United States government to provide proper hospital accommodations for these patients in or adjacent to Philadelphia.

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Senate to the proper government officials.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 11-B, page 8, line 16, after the word "hospital" by inserting the following: "approved by the Osteopathic Surgeons' Examining Board;" also page 10, line 20, after the word "years" by inserting the following: "prior to the passage of this Act."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 889.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 889, (House Bill No. 1), entitled:

An Act fixing the pay of election officers and clerks in cities of the first class was defeated.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I voted "no".

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I voted "no".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, this bill failed of a constitutional majority last week, due to a misunderstanding of the question involved. The facts of the case are these: That the House had amended the bill making the pay of the judge of election covering the period of three days, increasing the pay from $15.00 to $20.00, which was an increase of $5.00 on the three days. The Senator from Allegheny County had misunderstood the purport of the bill and as a result the bill failed to receive a constitutional majority. My understanding of the matter is that the bill only affected Philadelphia, is entirely satisfactory and I hope the bill will pass.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILLS OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1018, on third reading, entitled:

> A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section seven of article three of the Constitution of Pennsylvania go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1037, (House Bill No. 428), on third reading, entitled:

> An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-first day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and sixty-eight) entitled "An act relating to police pension funds in cities of the third class and directing such cities to appropriate certain moneys thereto"

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Delaware.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. MacDade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President for what reason does the Senator from Delaware wish this bill to go over?

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, this matter came before the last session. I was consulted about the measure and at that time the Governor of the Commonwealth was opposed to the signing of bills granting pensions to a policeman, using the phraseology then in the bill before the Senate. Upon investigation it was found that it required the councilmanic body of the third class cities, in a mandatory way, to appropriate so much money to the pension fund, at least one percent of the tax received, and that was found to be a burdensome proposition so far as the third class cities were concerned, and the bill was amended to read, "not to exceed one percent." The gentlemen who were interested in the bill, as they ar now, were very well satisfied to employ the phraseology of the Act of 1921. At this time it is mandatory, so far as this bill is concerned, that at least one half of one percent of the taxes shall be appropriated to the police pension fund. Personally, I am not opposed to a police pension fund, but I think it ought to be left to the municipal authorities to determine for themselves as to how much money, up to one percent, that they desire to appropriate to that fund. I have asked that it go over in its order so that we may confer with those Senators who have third class cities in their districts and see if this bill cannot be amended so as to be satisfactory to all of us.

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I am satisfied.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1045, (House Bill No. 1264), entitled:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE SUSPENDING RULE 21 FOR BALANCE OF SESSION.

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, In the Legislative Journal of May 2, page 2425, the Senate took action on Rule 21 and passed a motion to suspend Rule 21 for the balance of the session. For the information of the Senate, Rule 21 reads as follows:

"That the vote on concurring in bills amended by the House or on adopting reports of committees of conference, shall not be taken until said bills and reports have been placed on the files of Senators, and particularly referred to on their calendars".

I call the attention of the Senate to the fact that we are now coming to the closing days of the session, when business is more or less congested and, it seems to me, that these Conference reports should be laid on the desks of the members in order to be voted on intelligently, and I move, therefore, that the vote by which Rule 21 was suspended be reconsidered.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

of the State Highway Commissioner to reject any or all bids if the prices named for the work or materials to be used are higher than the estimated cost or for any other reason appearing to said commissioner Every person firm or corporation before being awarded any contract for the construction or improvement of any State highway or State-aid highway under the provisions of this act shall furnish a bond with sufficient surety or sureties acceptable to the State Highway Commissioner in a sum equal to fifty per centum of the contract price of the work conditioned that the contractor shall well and truly and in a manner satisfactory to the State Highway Commissioner complete the work contracted for and shall save harmless the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from any expense incurred through the failure of said contractor to complete the work as specified or from any damages growing out of the carelessness of said contractor or his or its servants and shall well and truly pay for all material furnished and labor performed in and about the construction of said highway and any person firm or corporation who has furnished labor or materials used in the construction or improvement of any State highway or of any State-aid highway under the provisions of this act and payment for which has not been made shall have the right to intervene and be made a party to any action instituted by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on the bond of the contractor and to have their rights and claims adjudicated in such action and judgment rendered thereon subject however to the priority of the claim and judgment of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania If the amount of the liability of the surety on said bond is insufficient to pay the full amount of said claims and demands then after paying the full amount due the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the remainder shall be distributed pro rata among said interveners If no suit should be brought by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania within (six) three months from the completion of said contract and final settlement with the Commonwealth then the person or persons supplying the contractor with labor and materials shall upon application therefor and furnishing affidavit to the State Highway Department that labor and materials for the prosecution of such work have been supplied by him or them and that payment for the same has not been made be furnished with a certified copy of said contract and bond upon which he or they shall have a right of action and shall be and are hereby authorized to bring suit in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for his or their use and benefit against said contractor and his sureties and to prosecute the same to final judgment and execution Where suit is instituted by any of such creditors on the bond of the contractor it shall not be commenced until after the complete performance of said contract and final settlement thereof with the Commonwealth and shall be commenced within (one year) six months after the performance and said final settlement of said contract and not later Where suit is so instituted by a creditor or creditors no other action shall be brought by any other creditor but any other creditor may file his claim in the action first brought and be made party thereto within (one year) six months from the completion of the work under said contract and not later If two or more actions be brought on the same day the action in which the largest claim is demanded shall be regarded as the first action Any creditor who has brought an action within (one year) six months as aforesaid but after suit brought by another creditor or on the same day may intervene in the suit first brought within the (year) six months notwithstanding the fact that the intervention in such case be after the expiration of the (year) six months provided said intervention be made within thirty days after the expiration of the (year) six months If the recovery on the bond should be inadequate to pay the amounts found due to all of said creditors judgment shall be given to each creditor pro rata of the amount of the recovery The surety on said bond may pay into court for distribution among said claimants and creditors the full amount of the surety's liability to wit the penalty named in the bond less any amount which said surety may have had to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by reason of the execution of said bond and upon so doing the surety will be relieved from further liability In all suits instituted under the provisions of this act such personal notice of the pendency of such suits informing them of their rights to intervene as the court may order shall be given to all known creditors and in addition thereto notice shall be given by publication in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county or town where the contract was performed once a week for at least three successive weeks Provided however That when such suit has been begun within three weeks of the end of the (year) six months within which suit may be brought said notice by publication shall be only for the period intervening between the time instituting such suit and the end of the (year) six months

Provided That in lieu of the surety or sureties to the contractor's bond as hereinbefore provided bonds of the United States of America or of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of any county city borough school district or other municipal sub-division of this Commonwealth or such bonds as are authorized as legal investments for Savings Institutions in Pennsylvania the ready market value of which shall in the discretion of the State Highway Commissioner and Commissioner of Banking be equal to the total obligation of such bond may be deposited with the State Highway Commissioner as collateral security for the performance of the terms and conditions of said contractor's bond The State Highway Commissioner shall have the power to require the contractor to substitute other bonds for bonds pledged or to deposit additional security in order that the ready market value of the securities pledged shall at all times equal the amount of the obligation under the bond

All securities when deposited must be payable to or run in favor of or be transferred to the State Highway Commissioner All interest dividends and other income on such securities shall until disposed of as hereinafter provided be payable when received to the contractor upon demand made by him but the State Highway Commissioner shall not be subject to any liability for failure to collect the same

Upon the entry of any judgment on said contractor's bond the State Highway Commissioner may forthwith sell at public or private sale without advertisement or other notice thereof the securities so deposited with him or such amount thereof as is necessary for the purpose of paying all such judgments principal costs and interest including judgments rendered as aforesaid in favor of the Commonwealth material men or labor and shall apply the proceeds of such sale to the satisfaction of said judgments in the order of priority of payment as hereinabove set forth

When the estimates paid to the contractor on any such contract equal twenty-five per centum of the contract price the obligation of the bond accompanying such contract shall be automatically reduced twenty-five per centum and the State Highway Commissioner may upon demand of the contractor return to him twenty-five per centum of the securities deposited with said bond

Corresponding reductions in the obligation shall and corresponding returns of the deposited securities may be made when the estimates paid to the contractor equal fifty per centum and seventy-five per centum respectively of the said contract price

Upon the final release of the said contractor's bond the State Highway Commissioner shall return to the contractor all such deposited securities remaining in his possession after deduction of the amount used in satisfying judgment as aforesaid unless notice in writing shall have been given to the State Highway Commissioner of the entry of any suit upon said contractor's bond in which case said deposited securities shall be held to await the outcome of said suit and subject to any liability on account of any judgment entered thereon

The State Highway Commissioner however is hereby authorized and empowered in his discretion to construct build or rebuild by the agents servants and employes of the State Highway Department any highway or highways for the construction building or rebuilding of which he may contract under the provisions of this act

MONDAY, MAY 14, 1923.

The House met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. B. Cox, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and eternal God, ruler of heaven and earth, we would pause a moment in the mad rush of life ere we take up the duties of the hour that lies just before us, and lift our hearts and our voices to Thee as we silently stand still in Thy presence, that we may hear Thee speak. Give to each a hearing heart, the disposition of will and purpose to do Thy will. O Lord, God, grant that Thy spirit may guide and direct in all the affairs of this hour. To this end, bless the Speaker of this House, the Governor of the Commonwealth and the members of this Assembly. We ask it in the name of Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, May 10, 1923.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

(SPECIAL ORDER)

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I call for the order of the day.

The SPEAKER. The special order of the day having been called for the Chair lays before the House the special order of the day at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1041, as follows:

An Act to amend sections one and two of an act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand twenty-one) entitled "An act imposing a State tax on gasoline and all other liquids containing any derivative of petroleum or natural gas produced prepared or compounded or usable for the purpose of generating power by means of internal combustion and sold in this Commonwealth except for the purpose of resale providing for the collection of such tax and for the distribution and use of the revenues derived therefrom making an appropriation and fixing penalties" by imposing an additional emergency tax for two years

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand twenty-one) entitled "An act imposing a State tax on gasoline and on all other liquids containing any derivative of petroleum or natural gas produced prepared or compounded or usable for the purpose of generating power by means of internal combustion and sold in this Commonwealth except for the purpose of resale providing for the collection of such tax and for the distribution and use of the revenues derived therefrom making an appropriation and fixing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That the word "gasoline" as used in this act shall include the liquid derived from petroleum or natural gas commonly known or sold as gasoline and all other liquids by whatsoever name known or sold containing any derivative of petroleum or natural gas and produced prepared or compounded for the purpose of generating power by means of internal combustion or which may be used for such purpose A state tax of one cent a gallon or fraction thereof is hereby imposed on all gasoline sold in this Commonwealth for any purpose whatsoever except for the purpose of resale In addition to such tax a further emergency State tax of one cent a gallon or fraction thereof is hereby imposed on all gasoline sold in this Commonwealth for any purpose whatsoever except for the purpose of resale during the two fiscal years commencing on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and ending on the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five The (tax) taxes hereby provided for shall be collected by the person firm association or corporation selling gasoline to purchasers who purchase for purposes other than resale and shall be paid by the said person firm association or corporation into the general fund of the State Treasury in the manner and within the time hereinafter specified

Section 2 That section two of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 Fifty per centum of all taxes collected under the provisions of this act except the additional emergency tax imposed by the provisions of this amendment shall be credited to the county where the tax was collected and shall be used only for the purpose of the construction reconstruction maintenance and repair of roads and highways and for the payment of the interest on county bonds issued for road purposes and shall be paid over to such county semiannually on the first day of August and February of each year

The whole amount of the additional emergency tax imposed by the provisions of this amendment shall be paid into the general fund of the State Treasury for the use of the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, if the members of the House will give me their attention for a few minutes, I will endeavor to clear up somewhat the fog that seems to surround the financial question of the State, especially with respect to this program which is presented to you raising revenues, which has been reported from the Ways and Means committee. There are two things that seem to be very much misunderstood. The first question is whether or not the $29,206,000.00 deficiency and appropriation liability can be extended over a period of four years; and the second is as to whether or not we actually do need any new revenues, as to whether we need the $20,000,000.00 which the Ways and Means Committee by its program arranges to raise.

All of us who have thought this thing thru are ready to agree that the Governor's position against extending the $29,200,000. deficit and appropriation liability, by any proposal whatever, over a period of four years, is entirely sound. To attempt to thus temporize with the State's serious financial situation would certainly mean these very unwelcome results:

1. Continuing the fiscal mess of nearly $15,000,000 overdue debts, consisting of warrants piled up on the desk in the Treasurer's office and of requisitions held in the departments or in transit to the Treasurer's office.
2. Greatly crippling, if not all but destroying, a vital part of the road program for the next two years.
3. Throwing a large deficit in the Teacher's subsidy fund, in the last part of the biennium, upon the School Districts of the State to be carried in borrowed money at Banks on which the Districts must pay interest, until the 1925 Assembly provides for a possible deficit.
4. Neglecting, in an unpardonable way, the care of our poor, our sick, our injured and our defectives and unfortunates.
5. Weakening the arm of the law in dealing with offenders against laws enacted to support the Constitution and in maintaining law and order.
6. Breaking faith with the folks living on some eighty thousand miles of dirt road who are promised State rewards by law, or refusing State aid to counties, six millions of which has been unpaid four years.

It is high time that the people of this great Commonwealth came to a full understanding that the far greater proportion of the $29,200,000 is debts due, debts overdue on promises and pledges of Acts of Assembly to school districts, counties, townships, State Institutions and needed public projects and enterprises. Because the State forcibly withholds from these people, and thus borrows from them without paying interest, many millions in money, there is a great injustice done. There is little wonder many people of the Commonwealth are even inclined to lose faith in the fiscal pledges of this Assembly.

There should be no argument needed to show that, to clean up the fiscal mess, and enable all activities of the State to function properly, at least twenty millions in new revenues are needed.

We are cutting to the bone, on the Governor's plan, in every essential State activity. We are preparing to enable the Governor to save public money to the uttermost in his re-organization program. We are about to retrench until it hurts. We are going to see that the Governor has a chance to provide that the people's money is well and honestly spent to get the best results in building highways, educating our children, taking care of the poor, the halt and the blind, and keeping up in a proper way public service of every sort.

But even after we have done this, the Governor cannot clean the slate on present estimated revenues of $115,000,000 or even on the devoutly hoped for $120,000,000 which many believe will be collected under the present levies in the next biennium.

Our inherited deficit and liability of $29,200,000 must be entirely wiped out now because—

1. On June 1st, $15,660,000 of this liability will be plain matter-of-fact debt as we have pointed out.

By reason of these deferred payments it is estimated that Colleges receiving State support, local school and road officials, and trustees of State and semi-State Institutions, have been compelled to borrow and pay interest to banks on over $6,000,000. The interest paid by school districts alone, thus forced to become bankers for this rich Commonwealth, will reach $360,000 a year.

State Institutions, unable to pay cash for purchases or take discounts, because of deferred payments from the State, suffer a loss of at least $200,000 a year, and this does not count the loss to merchants who are bound to carry large accounts of these institutions for long periods without interest.

The State's Sinking Fund alone lost $85,000 in interest because the State appropriation to this fund has not been paid. The State owes this fund $1,026,590.

Reports made by the State Treasurer May 1st, 1923, showed that the State was then forcibly borrowing from its creditors, $11,100,000. Of this amount $8,679,000 was due and payable to school districts on Teachers' salaries, and all of it was three months overdue. Just when payment of this sum will be completed, no one can tell. Does anyone want this wrong fastened upon us for another four years?

2. But, it is urged, why not lapse the entire $13,542,000 of the unexpended appropriations which form the balance of the $29,200,000 liability.

The ready answer is that of this sum $11,980,000 belongs to the Highway Department and all of it either has a contractural or moral obligation attached to it. It may not be disturbed without either breaking faith with the people who have planned on it or been pledged it for new construction, state aid, or dirt road reward money, or, seriously hampering the road program and possibly causing the loss to the State of the $5,000,000 offered by the Federal Government on condition that the State provide at least $10,000,000 for new road work.

The $1,562,000 balance of the unexpended appropriations (or the difference between the total of $13,542,000 and $11,980,000 highway department money) is to the credit of some twenty odd projects, representing needed capital improvements in state institutions and developement and memorial enterprises. Nearly all of these projects can and will be refered, but the Governor has already calculated on this and wil use the money or needs under the budget.

Beyond all doubt, the most ardent advocate of spreading the $29,000,000 over the four year period must give it up in utter despair.

Let us pay our debts and speedily get ready to pay-as-we-go.

Added reasons for new revenues now are found that in the next biennium, we shall pay $12,883,000.00 more to local school districts under the Edmond's Act than was paid under this Act in the present biennium. Add to this the $7,528,000.00 which is the sum we are preparing to pay out of the general fund for roads in excess of what was paid for the same purpose in this biennium, and we have a total of $20,431,000.00. This represents a burden we are preparing to carry, for exactly the same purposes, in excess of the burden for roads and schools carried in the present biennium.

This sum of $20,431,000.00 is even in excess of the amount of new revenues and another interesting fact is that it represents about $9,000,000 less than we shall actually be able to save to the State in the next two years under the Governor's budget plans and Administrative Code by which, it is expected real economy and efficiency will be introduced into the conduct of the State Government. The remaining $9,000,000.00 I estimate to be in the form of postponement of necessary buiudings and other capital improvements.

But we must pay the price of real retrenchment and sacrifice just as the Governor has started out to do. It is not our inference that he $29,000,000.00 of possible saving to the State in the next two years will result entirely from less costly administering of the Government, but we all know that about $20,000,000.00 will thus be a real matter-of-fact saving. We must frankly admit however that some of the saving will be made up by deferred capital improvements in our institutions and by the laying aside of all except strictly essential and sorely needed State activities and enterprises.

While the hope is held out that revenues from present rates of levy may run much in excess of $115,000,000.00 in two years, we have no official word on this hoped for increase and should it reach $120,000,000.00 we must take note of the fact that in estimating the need of $20,000,000.00 new revenues we have actually calculated upon an estimate of $119,000,000.00 rather than $115,000,000.00. This is because our total estimated sum needed is found by adding the $29,000,000.00 deficit to the $90,000,000.00 named in the Governor's budget, and adding to this the $20,000,000.00 needed new revenue, giving us a total of $139,000,000.00.

While we are considering this, we must also reckon with a prospective increase in appropriation for our poor, our sick, and our injured. None of us want to see our Hospitals stinted, but unless we provide more funds than the $20,000,000.00 this result is possible.

Should we refuse to raise any new revenues it will assuredly not mean that our schools will not be taken care of under the Edmond's Act, for, under an Act passed by this Assembly, the State is liable for $38,806,000.00 in two years, whether the cash is set aside or not. If complete appropriation is not made it would simply mean a deficit would have to be taken care of in 1925, or money would have to be taken from the road and other funds, thus robbing these funds of needed cash.

Our need of revenues now is clearly EMERGENCY.

We need new revenues only because we have liabilities handed down to us. If we had no deficit and liability now we would be able to carry all expenditures and have $9,000,000.00 or $10,000,000.00 left.

Hence our revenue program is, as a matter of course, self-repealing June 1, 1925. Each of the Bills 1041, 521 and 972, is for two years only.

In selecting subjects for taxation we have adhered strictly to the policy of choosing such as will logically fit into this program. We regard levies not suited for emergency purposes as not only unfair, but unwise at this time.

Besides we should levy nothing except an emergency tax at this time, because it is generally agreed that we shall provide for a study of our revenue system the next two years, with a view of making needed changes. A Revenue's Commission should by all means be created by this Assembly.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentleman of the House, I realize that practically every member of this House has made up his or her mind as to how they are going to vote on this question, and I shall not take up a great deal of your time in discussing it, but when we go into the thorough consideration of these tax problems, we ought to know the principle that has been followed in suggesting these taxes. I feel that there should be at least some underlying principle by which we are guided in distributing the burden of taxation in this Commonwealth. If the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee has been correctly quoted last week, he has said before an audience of women here in Harrisburg that here in Pennsylvania we pluck the goose that produces the least amount of squawk. Now I want to know, ladies and gentlemen of this House, whether we are going to agree, whether this House stands willing and ready to place itself on record before the people of Pennsylvania as saying that we are going to tax only the fellow who is helpless, who is not organized, and who is unable to fight off taxation, regardless of whether it is equitable or whether it is just or whether it is fair. I believe to relieve this distribution of the burdens of taxation, we should consider first the equity of it, we should consider the fairness of it, we should be guided by some fundamental principle. I cannot believe, moreover, that this House is ready and willing to place itself on record by simply saying, "We are going to place the tax here," or, "We are going to place it there, because that is the line of least resistance," and not because the tax is equitable and because it is fair and because it is just. Now, let us see how this tax affects the people of Pennsylvania. We collect for school and local purposes about $300,000,000 a year in Pennsylvania. Of that $300,000,000, about $235,000,000 are collected by local taxation. In other words, those $235,000,000 now rest on the real estate of Pennsylvania. In our farming districts, the tax rate has gone up to as high as thirty, forty, fifty, and in some cases seventy, and in a very few cases, eighty to eighty-five mills on the dollars. Now this tax again places a large part of the burden back on the farmer and on the rural districts. It taxes his gasoline, not only for his automobile and for his truck, but the farmer uses gasoline also for tractors; he uses it for his stationary engine, for threshing and for other farm work. In other words, for the running of his farm machinery. Now, are we going to still increase the taxes on our farmers? There is not one man here, especially from the rural districts, who does not realize the situation as it exists today among our farming population. We all realize that Pennsylvania is a great industrial and commercial State, and we all realize that the industrial and the commercial interests have been so strongly organized that they have been able to dictate, practically, much of the legislation that has been enacted here on the Hill. Now, are we going to say that we are still further going to place the burden back on the farmer and on the rural districts and exempt the rich industrial and commercial interests who have so long escaped their just share of taxation? Today, all but about $65,000,000 of the money that is collected in Pennsylvania is collected from real estate, and much of that falls back on the home owner. Now, we come here and we say that the farmer doesn't squawk. He has taken the burden so often that we say, "We have plucked him in the past and we are going to pluck him again, because he doesn't squawk." He doesn't resist, he isn't organized, he isn't able to fight off this taxation the same as the other big interests are able to fight it off. Only a few minutes ago, this House tabled a motion to bring before this Body the manufactures' tax. Now, we all know that the manufactures of this State are among the most properous class in the Commonwealth, and if anybody can pay this tax and carry this burden without any sacrifice, it is the manufactures of Pennsylvania. In the levying of taxes, I feel that this matter of sacrifice should be the guiding or the fundamental principle. During the war, we always looked upon the question of patriotism as a question of sacrifice, and I say to you that the men who can pay this tax with the least amount of sacrifice are the ones who should bear this burden. We know that the manufactures and the big commercial interests have been cared for and aided by the high tariff. We all understand that they have been favored at one end and they have been favored at the other. They have been given this protection through tariff and they have been favored at the other end by exemption from taxation. The farmer has gotten it in the neck at both ends, while the manufactures have been exempted at both ends; and now you come again and ask for this additional revenue, and you say you are going to exempt the interests that have so long escaped taxation and you are going to put the burden back on the farmer. I realize that you have already made up your minds how you are going to vote on this bill, but I ask you seriously are we going to put ourselves on record as saying that this House has no higher principle in levying taxes than the principle of plucking the goose that squawks the least, or that produces the least, or that produces the least amount of squawk? Have we no higher principle than that in the Legislature of Pennsylvania? Or are we going to stand up and say we are going to distribute this burden according to the rule of justice, according to the rule of fair play, and according to the higher patriotic Principle which says that those who can bear this burden with the least amount of sacrifice are the ones who should bear it. I leave this question with you, but I cannot believe, ladies and gentlemen, that we should go to work at this hour and say to the farmer and to those who have been proposed, here that we are going to tax them simply because they are not organized, and because we are not afraid of them, and then we turn around and say we are afraid of the big commercial interests, and we are afraid of the big industrial interest, but we are not afraid of the little fellow who is unable to protect himself, and who is unable to speak for himself on the floor of this House. I believe that this tax bill should be defeated, and I don't propose to be one of those who will be goaded into voting for any measure of this kind. In the same way as we were goaded into voting for the inheritance tax in the 1917. I remember in the year 1917 when the tax measures were before this House, every tax measure practically was defeated.

Every tax measure which would have placed a tax on the big interests went down to defeat and then they came to us with the plea and said, "Vote for this direct inheritance tax, or go home without any money for your schools and your hospitals." I was one of those who voted to take the last penny from the poor widows and orphans under that direct inheritance tax, and I have been ashamed of it ever since. I believe there is time enough here now, to decide on a tax system that is fair, that is just and that is equitable, and that we should not at this time in this way permit ourselves to be goaded, to be driven into voting for a system of taxation simply because other systems have been defeated and the club held above our heads saying, "You must vote for this or go home and be empty handed for your schools, be empty-handed for your roads, be empty-handed for your hospitals." I believe that we should vote down this bill and agree on some system that is more just, more fair, and more equitable to the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise with no desire to dissuade any member in this House from voting for this bill, neither is it my desire to criticize the wisdom of the Ways and Means committee for its action in having amended it so completely. I do think, however, Mr. Speaker, in fairness to myself as sponsor of this measure, it is due me to say that many of the thoughts, the important thoughts, which I had in mind when I introduced this bill have been eliminated from it and have been changed. I don't intend to go into those changes, or to explain the thoughts which I had in mind, that is water that has gone over the dam. I simply ask you to give me the privilege of expressing my great regret that my thoughts could not have been incorporated into this bill and voted upon tonight, and yet, notwithstanding this, Mr. Speaker, I have made up my mind that I am going to vote for this measure as a means to an end. It will mean for this Commonwealth between five and six millions of dollars in additional revenue, and it will mean that amount of revenue collected from men and women in this State owning and driving automobiles, men and women in this State for whom this Commonwealth, through its Highway Department, expects to expend $56,000,000 during the next two years. The bill is a means to an end, it means revenue and it means a tax in direct proportion to the extent to which people make use of the roads which this State plans to keep up and further improve.

Mr. CHAPLIN. Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen of the House, during the recent primary and general elections I have no doubt but that the majority of the members of this House ran on a platform of economy. I remember very distinctly of hearing the story out in Cambria County, that ten years ago the appropriations in Pennsylvania were about $65,000,000, and at that time we had twelve departments and commissions in our Commonwealth. At the close of the 1921 session, of which I was a member, we had ninety-two departments and the appropriations were $116,000,000. My constituents in Cambria County object seriously to any additional taxation. The taxes in Pennsylvania at this time are unbearable and I want to go home to the people and be able to look them in the eyes and feel certain that I at least endeavored to economize. It seems as though all along, the law-making bodies of the United States, from the council to the Congress of the United States think of nothing else except raising money and spending it like a bunch of drunken sailors. I, for one, will not vote for any new revenue measures, and I hope the members of this House will defeat them all.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WONER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RHODES. Did I understand you to say that it was impossible to apportion this deficiency or appropriation liability over a period of four years?

Mr. WONER. It would not be impossible, but it is absolutely unwise, and I gave my specific reasons therefor. For instance, if you owed me ten thousand dollars, and would come to me and say "Now, Mr. Woner, I will pay you one-half of that in six months and the other half in three or four years," without paying me any interest, I doubt whether I would be interested in your proposal.

Mr. RHODES. Is it not true that the appropriation liabilities of other periods have been just as great as the appropriation liabilities of this period?

Mr. WONER. It may be so; in 1921 the appropriation liability and deficit was $23,000,000, but I do say that we should not continue a situation by which we would be unable to pay our bills.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, of course we all realize that the imposition of new tax levies is a very unpopular proposition, but I think we likewise all recognize the fact that both candidates for governor as well as practically every member of this House went out and campaigned last year on the platform of economy, efficiency and no new taxation. At least that was true in my district, and I am glad to hear it was true in the district of the gentleman from Cambria. If I recall rightly, on January 2, 1923, former Governor Sproul made a speech to this House, wherein he said that the appropriation liabilities at the end of the fiscal period would not be any greater than it had been in many appropriation periods heretofore, and that the entire deficiency could be eliminated if the House so desired, by lessening appropriations, but then he thought it was unwise to do so, because the State was to be considered as a going concern, and therefore we can conclude from what Governor Sproul said that if he had continued to be Governor during this period we would be asked for no new taxation measures. It seems to me that he knew something about what he was talking about, because he had the figures and the data, and so far as I am concerned there has been great confusion in my mind as to the necessity of any new taxes. We were first told that new tax measures were required for educational purposes. Now the Governor comes along and says that taxes must be raised, not for educational purposes, but to pay for the joy rides of the previous administration. And now we are told that the appropriation liabilities to take care of the highways must be met and that we must have new taxation for that purpose. It seems to me that under the present confusion no man here is justified, no member of this House is justified, in voting for new tax measures, because there is such great confusion in our minds as to the real necessity for them, from the Governor down, and we have gotten nothing concrete and nothing tangible as to how this money is required or as to where it is going to go. This appropriation liability, in my mind, is not as real as it may seem to some. It is more or less imaginary, and that is what Governor Sproul's attitude, to my mind, was. Therefore, so far as I am concerned, I am not only opposed to this tax measure, but I am opposed to every other one that may be presented to this House.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the chairman of the Ways and Means committee, Mr. Woner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WONER. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire of the chairman of the Ways and Means committee whether the present

Chief Executive has asked for these taxes or has expressed any desire for them to be passed.

Mr. WONER. The Governor of this Commonwealth has said distinctly, expressly, explicitly, and repeatedly, that there would be required at least $20,000,000.00 in order that all the activities of this state might properly function for the next two years.

Mr. GOLDER. Does the gentleman whom I am addressing know whether that statement is consistent with the statement which was made by the chief executive at the outset of his administration, or whether I misunderstood the statement which he made at that time or the statement which he is now expressing?

Mr. WONER. I cannot read the mind of the Governor of the state of Pennsylvania, I don't know what position he takes now, as compared with a former position. I don't believe that you can read in any of his addresses and direct statements that no new revenues were necessary, but what he said was this: That he could take care of the executive departments on the $90,000,000.00 which he had in his budget, and that he found $21,000,000.00 to take care of the Edmond's Act. Afterwards we passed an act through this assembly and through the Senate which allowed under the Edmond's Act $38,806,000.00 for expenditures for the next biennium, with the result that $17,800,000.00 has to be raised under the Edmond's Act in order that the school districts may be paid within the next two years.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the gentleman further. Does the Chairman of the committee on Ways and Means know whether the tax program which is indicated in the three bills which were set for special order for tonight will take care of the hospitals in the manner indicated by the committee on Appropriations.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, as chairman of the Ways and Means committee I have been fairly soliticious concerning the very matter which my good colleague, Mr. Golder, from Philadelphia expresses. In my opinion there is no object for which this state can spend money which is so worthy, and so needful as the caring of the poor, the caring of the unfortunate and the sick and the injured. I believe that if the $20,000,000.00 is raised that there will be ample funds to take care of the needed additions to the Governor's budget in his appropriation calculation for the hospitals of the state.

Mr. GOLDER. I thank you.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish that my mind was definitely set along the lines I would like to speak to you tonight. I have given this question a great deal of consideration, so much in fact, that it is like reading a newspaper which is very close to your nose, it is difficult indeed to make out the print. I am in favor of increased taxation, and I will not run from an increase tax, whether the newspapers of this State like it, or whether they don't like it, whether the newspapers print our position here honestly or dishonestly, whether they try to give their readers the true facts as they exist on State Capital Hill, or whether they try, for the purpose of increasing their circulation or other reasons to lie to their constituents, to lie to their readers and give the facts distorted and not in accordance with the true facts, but I would like further to know for what I am voting in increased taxation. I am not satisfied in my own mind and my conscience is not entirely at rest. If I voted for a tax which makes it harder upon any industry in this Commonwealth I would not be satisfied in my own mind if I voted for a tax on tobacco because as I come through from Philadelphia and pass through those beautiful fields of Lancaster, and I have seen the fields in York and Schuylkill and Bucks counties and those workers in the fields of tobacco, I would not be satisfied, because I am not satisfied in my own mind, that I know just how much money is needed, and for what it is going to be used. I agree with the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means that there is no more laudible objects which should be framed in our work here than to take care of the sick and the needy. I was very much supprised on last Saturday when I read in the public press of this state statements by the Commissioner of Public Health, that the politicians are robbing the State Treasury to take care of their pet hobbies and their pet charities, mind you members, a doctor appointed by the chief executive of this commonwealth coming out in public print, and saying that you and I, people like Miss Bentley, men and women in this House, introduce bills for the care of the sick and the needy, if you please, men like Adam Schaeffer. Men there are that work and toil in the mines of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Schaeffer told me that last week when there was an explosion up in his county there was not room up in that state hospital to take care of the men who were burned, who were dying and who were suffering, and then the commissioner of Public Welfare tells you that we are robbing the state to take care of the step chldren and to take care of institutions which are not ours. Can you men, as much as you wish, vote for further taxation, assuming that we believe it is absolutely necessary to vote for taxation, can we vote for more taxation if we don't know that the money for which we are voting is going to be devoted to the purposes in which we are interested. I would vote for this bill, I would not vote for the other two, but I would vote for this bill, and I would vote for a bill which would increase the license for motor vehicles. I say to you members in the outlying district if that bill was so amended, irrespective of what happens tonight, I would say to you members, in all fairness to yourselves vote for that bill. I speak only for myself, I speak only from my own experience, and I submit that if Philadelphia should come to you men, on tomorrow, we will say, you men of other counties, you men of Berks county, you men from rural districts and say, "We don't ask you to vote for a tax on tobacco, we don't ask you to vote for a luxury tax, which might possibly interfere with your dairy interests, which is turned into ice cream and chocolate, we don't want to interfere with you, but if we in Philadelphia who have more automobiles than any other district in the state, if Philadelphia that has more automobiles than every body else put together, if we come to you and say we are willing to carry the greater part of this burden, we know that this money has to be used for the sick and the helpless, the crippled and the blind and the lame, won't you men and women be fair enough to go along with us, and knowing that any tax bill is unpopular, they never have been popular, would you men in the goodness of your hearts, the dignity of your position and the honesty of your motives, whether you be members of the Republican party or the Democratic party, if we are willing to assume the greater part of that burden, and assuming that we are, would you not go along and play fair with Pennsylvania?" I believe you would. I don't believe that the tax program which is laid out for us tonight, and I say it with due respect to the committee on Ways and Means, I don't believe we can take one bill away from the other bills and have them stand or fall as a whole tonight. I would like to see action on these bills deferred, all of these bills, and while we are deferring action on these bills, let us pass our appropriations bills, let us see what will be done for the hospitals, let us pass these bills to the Senate and see how the Senate will treat our institutions, let us, if necessary, see how the chief executive will treat our hospitals let us get the knowledge, let us be sure and as sure as we can be that the money for which we are voting will be used for the purposes that we want, the hospitals. I am not against the chief executive on this proposition. I am glad he finally came out and stated that he needed more taxes I was always under the impression, and so were many people that his inaugural address meant that he had enough money, I am genuinely, honestly and sincerely glad that the chief executive has come out and is willing to assume part of the responsibility at least for a tax program. But let us be sure that it is a tax program that is fair, that it is reasonable, and above all a tax program which will take care of your hospital and my hospital, and when we do that, I will vote for it, and I believe that you men, Mr. Sarig, I believe just as sure as I am here, that if a sensible, reasonable program is put here, and the money is to be used honestly for hospitals, that we are not to be considered robbers for taking care of the blind, the deaf and the dumb and the insane, that you and your friends will vote for it and I and my friends will vote for it, and we will have enough money. Let us analysize and see why the $29,000,000.00 cannot be spread over a period of years. For years and years Pennsylvania has been passing a deficiency over a period of years, and I never met anybody who was not satisfied to do business with Pennsylvania.

Members of the House and Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDER. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Do I understand, in the spirit of fairness, that it is the purpose of the gentelman to make a similar motion, if this motion prevails for the other two bills?

Mr. GOLDER. Yes, and I might say further, in the same spirit of fairness, that not only will I vote for these motions, but I will vote for the motion to take any one of these bills or combination of these bills on the calendar and vote for them just as soon as I am satisfied, and I want to be satisfied, and I am anxious to be satisfied, that these taxes will be used for the purpose that the members of this House desire them to be used for.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, how he would feel regarding other bills that are in the Ways and Means Committee, revenue measures?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I would be very glad to vote for any bill which I feel will do the greatest good to the greatest number with the least harm to the greatest number. I don't wish to confine myself to any one or all three of these bills, but any bill which is in the Committee on Ways and Means which will meet the purposes that I desire, I shall vote for.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDER. Gladly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WHITEMAN. I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, if it is his intention to await action on all revenue measures until the Governor has signed, or approved, or vetoed the hospital bills?

Mr. GOLDER. I would say to the gentleman from Westmoreland that is my real desire, but I shall accede to the wishes of the members of the House in carrying that out. I should very much like to have every one of those hospital bills, go to the Governor, let him sign them in full, or reduce or veto them, I should very much like to do so and if that be done, if in the opinion of the House it should be done, we could be positive that the money which we are raising would be used for the purpose for which we vote for it to be used.

Mr. WHITEMAN. I should like to ask the gentleman how long a time that would take in his estimation?

Mr. GOLDER. It may, Mr. Speaker, possibly take two or three weeks, perhaps one-twentieth or one-sixteenth of the time it has taken the committe on Ways and Means to report these bills out.

Mr. WHITEMAN. If the gentleman will permit a personal question, I should like to ask it, and that is, upon what authority do you base your reflection on the Welfare Department?

Mr. GOLDER. May I take the pleasure of reading from the public press of Philadelphia.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Now, Mr. Speaker, that is all that is necessary. I simply would like to ask the gentleman, next week, when he gets the record of the House, to read there what he had to say about the newspapers in general before he makes the reflection.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. GOLDER. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I would like to ask the gentleman if he thinks it is a business proposition to appropriate money that has not been raised by this House.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, ordinarily, I woud say not, but in a case of this kind, Mr. Speaker, when I don't have confidence in those people who are going to spend the money which I am going to raise, I shoud like so far as possible to see that the money will be used for the purposes that I most desire, that could be carried out to the fullest possible extent as I said before If I could carry out my own wish an suggested by Mr. Whiteman.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Don't this House have control of these appropriations if they go to the Senate and they amend them, or cut out some of the appropriations which we have already placed in them, we still have control of it when it comes back?

Mr. GOLDER. My good friend and colleague from Delaware knows that I have no apprehension as to what will happen to the bills that go in that direction, but when they go in that direction I have.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, there was placed in my hands this afternoon a letter which I would like to read for the comfort of my colleague from Philadelphia, who has just taken his seat.

"My dear Mr. Edmonds: I saw in one of the morning newspapers quotations attributed to me which were not mine and I am enclosing you certain carbons which may be of interest to you. One rather hates to be misrepresented at a time like this when good feeling needs to be cultivated rather than destroyed. Very sincerely yours, Ellen C. Potter."

The letter is as follows: "Mr. David E. Smiley, Executive Editor, Public Ledger, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. My dear Mr. Smiley: It has been called to my attention that in the morning Ledger I was quoted as saying 'The State is starving its own to feed its step children.......it is wrong to rob State institutions in order to fatten treasuries of private charities...... We are forced to pare down so closely in order to keep up some politicians' pet charities, etc."

These quotations I am sure are unintentionally inaccurate. I did not say nor do I consider private charities "step children" of the State. Long customs has made them children of the State by adoption and they must be cared for in order that hardships may not result; the State's first obligation is, however, to State-owned institutions and care must be exercised that an undue proportion of the State budget does not go to the support of private charity while the State's own child is not properly cared for.

No treasury of a private charity has ever "fattened" on State appropriations. Large as appropriations may have been the amount was rarely enough to cover the service rendered.

I did give the historical background of State appropriations going back long before the Civil War and did show that one of the reasons which brought about the revision of the State Constitution in 1874 was the abuse by the politicians of that day of the State subsidy system and also attempted to show that the lump sum appropriation with compensation on a per diem rate for service rendered would eliminate the risks of unfair favoritism and would take care of adequately the State's adopted children,—the private charities.

Very often a turn of a phrase is quite enough to cause great irritation and do serious damage when a precise quotation would not in any sense cause offense and I am sure you will be glad to correct any misunderstanding. Very truly yours, Ellen C. Potter, M. D., Commissioner of Public Welfare."

With the reading of these two letters, I hope that the apprehensions to which my friend has given voice are somewhat allayed. As I take it, this is a clear cut business proposition. My friend from Philadelphia thinks we ought to pass the appropriation bills and have the Governor sign them before he knows what the revenue is going to be. I confess I cannot imagine a more absurd course of action for a legislative assembly than just that. The appropriations must of course come within the revenue, and obviously it is the duty of the Legislature to provide the revenue as it is its duty to appropriate it. It seems to me that realizing the unpopularity of the taxing question, we are tempted sometimes to postpone what we must inevitably regard as an unpleasant duty, and yet if it is a duty, we must face it. To my mind it is clear from the action of this Legislature that the decisions of the Legislature have been that we stand by the program of advancement in the State. Call it public schools if you will, the public school bill passed the House unanimously. Call it highway if you will, I have not heard a word in criticism of suporting the State system of public roads, and I rejoice in the information from the Ways and Means Committee that the plans of the State involve the spending of $56,000,000 in the next biennium on the State roads. Call it, if you will, the proper care of the poor and indigent, those treated in the State institutions and those treated in private institutions, but for which the State pays, call it any of these, I have not heard a word of protest of that kind. It seems to be recognized that our State program is a consistent, honorable program, honorable to the State and to those taking part in it. That being so, if the program is to continue as it is, is there not a duty upon us to provide the funds? I take it, the question will not be any more pleasant to vote on two weeks hence than it is now, and therefore, I am prepared to vote for the measure tonight and to vote against the motion to postpone the bill.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HARER. My point of order is, that a motion to postpone is not debatable.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we pride ourselves as being the representatives of a great Commonwealth, and I have no doubt that every member, during their campaign, while they are candidates, are placing that before the people continally, that we belong to one of the greatest states and commonwealths in the United States. And as such, we today, should straighten up our backbone a little bit and take our responsibilities as they come, not flinching when a responsibility meets us, but as men and women, face that responsibility as we should face it. When I take into consideration what has been said here tonight about the raising of taxes, and I look to our sister state, the great state of New York, and I see the action of their legislature and then compare it with us here tonight, I confess that I am almost ashamed of myself. The great state of New York not only appropriated $158,000,000 for one year, but they have, like men and women, raised that $158,000,000 and weren't afraid of that responsibility. And here we are, hesitating at the present time upon raising $140,000,000 for two years instead of one. Now let our differences go. I agree with a great deal of what my friend from Philadelphia has said when he told us that the waters have been muddied and muddied much by the actions of the newspapers who pretend to be friends to the Administration, and instead of befriending the Governor, they are placing him into a hole, perhaps, where he should not be placed, and if those newspapers want to be a benefit to not only the Administration but also to this grand Commonwealth of ours, they had better change their tactics and as they should be, not vilifiers but upholders of the truth and the cause which is right. I have no word here for them, but I say, as men and women, that we should meet our responsibilities and vote for tax raisers when we see that they should be raised. It has already been said that our schools need money, our charitable institutions need money, and there is no use in talking about the appropriations. As has been said by our friend from Monroe, at first we heard that all we needed money for was education. I believe that the Chief Executive stills says that, and that is for the reason the $29,500,000 he proposes to pay in two years is a deficiency of the past administrations, for which you and I are not responsible; but he proposes to pay that deficiet out of the revenues as we get them, and then to make up for our present needs, he proposes these taxes for the educational program. I don't see that it makes any difference whether this money is raised for education or to pay a deficiency. You will notices that on the bill here, of which I am sponsor, it contains the earmarks of a loan for deficiencies, and I think this bill and all other emergency bills should be for deficiencies. So, let us earmark them so that the people will know that it is not your fault nor my fault that this deficiency was here, but let me say, too, in defending past administrations, that it wasn't altogether as the newspapers would have you believe it was, for taking care of some friend in office. No, but it was because the Legislatures in the past haven't met the issue, have been afraid to perform their duties and raise extra revenues, and there haven't been enough revenues, as has already been stated, to take care of our poor and our sick and our hospitals. Now, don't let us be mean and miserly; let us represent the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as we should, and let us, all of us, be great in our representation as well as the State which we represent. Now, there has been something said about this unfair tax. I don't suppose there is a man in this House that will pay more gasoline tax, perhaps, than I will if this goes on, and I want to show you the fairness of this tax on automobiles which my friend stressed awhile ago. Let us take two men who own automobiles, with thirty horsepower motors. Each of them pays $13.60 for their licenses, and I have in mind two instances: A friend of mine has an automobile that he runs one hundred miles a month. During three months of the year, the winter months, he doesn't use it. I use an automobile an average of one thousand miles a month the year around. As I burn up the road and use the gasoline, so I will pay the tax, and my idea is that this is one of the fairest taxes that can be placed on the automobile, and I say the man that can own an automobile ought to be ashamed of himself to come here and say that he is not in favor of helping to pay the burden. I say there isn't a spark of patriotism in that man, and he is the last man in the world who should object. I was speaking today to a gentleman who says he is here representing the physicians, a number of physicians in this State and he says that they are oposing it. They ought to be the last men in the world to opose it. They are the men who are more interested today in the hospitals of this State than any other men living. And think of it, the institutions in which they have the greatest interest are the ones that will be cut first if we don't get the revenue, and we received letters day after day from the physicians in these hospitals asking you to appropriate money to this hospital or the other, and how are we going to appropriate it if we don't have the money? I say again, in closing, "Let us be real men and women, let us be the big men and women representing the big Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and vote for all of these tax measurers."

Mr. CHAPLIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHAPLIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he thinks the affairs of the State can be arranged so that they can function on the present revenues.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I am told by those men who know better than I profess to know that it cannot. I might say, however, in further answer to the gentleman from Cambria, that if we had the $2,500,000 that he voted to do away with, that it might help us to save this taxation.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the members can keep quiet while the chaplain is praying. I distinctly remember in 1922 when certain politicians came into my district and made certain statements, statements which I am not likely for awhile to forget. When I announced myself as a candidate for this office I had 2000 cards printed, and every card had this sentence on it, "I am opposed to any and all increases in taxation." I had 333 votes more at the primaries than any other man in the field. That held good at the primaries, it held good at the election, and it holds good now if this House should stay in session until the crack of doom. I shall not vote for any measure increasing the taxes of the people. When a call for new taxes is made, it is assumed to be due to actual need or for new projects or for a deficiency then existing, but so far as I can learn, there is no deficit existing. If there is, I would like someone to come and tell me just where this deficit is. No new projects have been attempted, and no deficit seems to exist. This state ought not to resort to additional taxation for a deficit, whether real or imaginery, until every other means has been tried. Now what means have been tried? We are talking manufacturers tax, and that is the most unfair of them all. It has been said here on the floor of this House this evening that the manufacturing interests should be compelled to bear their share of the taxation. I do not know what conditions are in the districts of some of the other members, but in my district we have a very active secretary in our chamber of commerce, and whenever he heard that somewhere in some other state someone had gotten sufficient funds together to incorporate to go into the manufacturing business, he was Johnny on the Spot and brought them to Easton and showed them the locations and the railroad facilities and the clever people there that he might employ at reasonable wages, and then the big inducement was that in the State of Pennsylvania there is no tax on the capital stock of manufacturing corporations. Now while it might appear that there are many corporations in the state of Pennsylvania that are rolling in wealth, let me tell you that I know from personal experience that there are hundred of corporations in the state that are today skating on mighty thin financial ice. There is an old saying that he whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad, and I believe it. Here is a man who has been Governor of the state of Pennsylvania for five months, has been preaching economy month in and month out before election, and what has he done to curtail the expenses of our state government? If what he had done is called economy, it is a mighty peculiar brand, one I have never yet come across. The great state of Pennsylvania has been heralded all over this broad land as having a mess on its hands, when it has the funds to meet its obligations, it is held up to ridicule by a reformer, by an iconoclast, who is not a native of Pennsylvania, but a man who came into this State and raises the hammer of destruction to smite the ideals of the people. Assuming there is upwards of $20,000,000 for State purposes, together with the increase in State taxes as a result of better business conditions, will not this wipe out this mess? Most undoubtedly it will. There is today somewhere in the State Treasury $18,000,000. Cannot that amount be applied to wipe out this mess? And then all of this comes from a man who himself, as Forester, sat at the very mess table. One word more about the newspapers: The tendency the world over it to decrease taxes instead of increasing them. Now, there is an old saying of Sir Edmund Burke, who said that "if you still the hand of the tax collector, you can take the coat off an Englishman's back, the bread out of his basket." Now you gentlemen think that if we put a tax on tobacco or a tax on gasoline, that the manufacturer is going to pay it. Is the man who runs a ten thousand dollar palace car going to pay it? Who pays for it, in the last analysis? It must be apparent to every member of this House that there are only two taxpayers, the one the man who works and lives in rent, and the other is the man who works and lives in his own house. He owns no other, for the minute a man owns two houses he rents one and fixes the rental charges on the other at a sufficient figure that it pays the taxes on both. I said not over two weeks ago that in this country it was the popular pastime to pass the buck.

If we increase the tax on tobacco, who will pay that tax? Today the poor man in his package of chewing tobacco gets one and one-third ounces. You put a tax on tobacco, and what is he going to get? He will get one ounce. He pays that tax, and if you put a tax on gasoline, who pays the tax? Not the man that operates the car, but in the last analysis the man who never rode in one pays for it. Take for instance, that I am in the grocery business and have several delivery cars and a pleasure car. I add to the price of my goods a sum sufficient to pay that tax. There was a time in the history of this government when it was believed that the aim of the government was the good of all, but today it seems as though the aim of the government, State and national, was no longer the good of all but the goods of all. Get it. Now, one more word about the newspapers. The North American reported me not long ago, in a recent issue, as the funny man of this House. The more I read the newspapers of the North American type, the more convinced I am that when Thomas Jefferson said in his day, that the newspapers were a disgrace to civilization, the more I believe that he was right, but heaven knows that in the days of Thomas Jefferson, the newspapers were prayer books and Holy Bible compared with sheets like the North American. The vilest trash of Cassanova, the most salacious writings of Boccacio and of Flaubert and Guy de Maupassant are Holy Writs compared with the public press of today. Newspapers like the North American are the servile tools of the manufacturers of great wealth, and the supreme corrupters of public morals. Whenever the police of Philadelphia make a raid, whenever a raid is ordered in Philadelphia of gambling houses and bawdy houses, that paper comes out with the most disgraceful details, every single feature of it is vividly portrayed. The more I read the papers of that type, the more I am convinced that the editors of those papers are nothing more or less than the yellow vessels of dishonor, who discharge their filth in the daily slop jar called the daily press, and spill the nauseating mess of slimy contents like the vomit of a dog. The sooner the people stop reading trash of that kind, the sooner we begin not to believe that trash published in subsidized newspapers, whether it be on these taxation measures, or whether it be on coal bills, no matter what it is, the better we are off. I thank you.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Dunn, Heyburn, Craig, Baker, Hetrick, Earley, Eaches, Haws, Orr, Burd P. Evans, Lafferty, Joshua Evans, Howard Smith, Disheimer, Ludlow, McDaniels, Henderson, Edmonds, Connor, Bromley, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than 20 members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.
(SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House, the special order set for this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 972, as follows:

Section 9 This act shall remain in effect as to each tax hereby imposed until the date herein specified for each and no longer The expiration of this act as to any of such taxes shall not affect or impair the lieu of any taxes assessed due owing or payable before such expiration or any remedies for the collection of the same nor shall it surrender any remedies powers rights or privileges acquired by the Commonwealth under this act or relieve any person association copartnership or corporation from any tax or penalty imposed by this or any other act of asembly

Section 10 The provisions of this act shall be independent of each other and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act nor prevent the collection of any of the taxes imposed by this act It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 11 The provisions of this act shall be independent of each other and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act nor prevent the collection of the tax imposed by this act It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been requested as a member of the sub-committee of the Ways and Means Committee, which had something to do with this bill, to explain it. I shall therefore confine my remarks to a statement of fact, omitting exhortations. This bill in the first place represents the honest effort of the Ways and Means Committee to distribute the burden of emergency taxation, so it would not fall solely upon one class of subjects. When the bill was considered further it was discovered that the original idea of placing any surtax—which is a misnomer, it should be an increased levy on certain subjects of taxation, it was found that that put certain inequalities in our system of state taxation. It would hardly be fair to apply the additional levy to all those subjects, there being also questions such as the opposition at this time of those corporations engaged in transportation. The final result was the bill that you have before you, amended in line with the suggestion of my friend from Philadelphia, to do the least harm to the least number. In other words, it represents an attempt at least to recognize the ability to pay, that question being one of the cardinal principals which should govern any taxation measure. The bill at present selects several classes of taxable subjects and increases the levy on those taxable subjects, a process with which you are familiar in local taxation. It amounts to an increase in millage. The bill before you tonight, due to a certain amount of haste in meeting the requirements of a special order for tonight, was not thoroughly uniform. Therefore amendments have been prepared, which, if the unexpected should happen and this bill passed, would then be inserted in the Senate. I shall therefore, in my explanation, assume the passage of the bill and the amendments, which are as follows: Now under the provisions of the capital stock tax, the common carrier is at present exempt entirely, and that includes the railroads, electric railroads and other common carriers, in the broad sense of the term, telegraph and telephone companies, express companies, pipe line companies and one or two others, the increased levy would not be 10 percent, but 25 percent. Under the second clause of corporate loans, common carriers would be exempt again and the tax would fall upon manufacturing corporations and would amount to a 25 percent increase, and on all corporations except common carriers 10 percent. In the third clause on bank stock, the increase would be 10 percent; and the two clauses affecting insurance would be stricken out, (d) and (f). Clause (c) on the values of the shares of stock of banks, there would be an increase of 10 percent, and on the bonuses of charters the increase to manufacturing companies would be 25 percent, and to all other corporations, ten percent. The result would be a revenue of $4,510,340, based on the figures of the Auditor General for 1920-22. Of this amount of $4,510,000. the manufacturing corporations would be paying $1,873,500. In addition to what they already pay, they would then be paying in state taxes slightly over $8,000,000. coming next then to the railroads as payers of state taxes. Now that would amount to over $4,000,000 and it was merely taken up by the Ways and Means Committee in conjunction with these other two bills before us. $4,000.000 would provide for a great many hospitals, probably all the hospital program, and I would only like to say to the House that to avoid the issue now would be merely to re-enact the drama of which the Ways and Means Committee has already been accused, probably with justice, the drama showing an inability or unwillingness to face the problem of new taxes, which we are informed are necessary. To pass any appropriation measure without sufficient taxes is simply an empty gesture.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Dunn, Lucas, Heyburn, Spangler, Diehm, Haslett, Stark, Whitehouse, George W. Williams, Eaches, Armstrong, Himes, Connor, Howard Smith, Orr, Burd P. Evans, Joshua Evans, Bromley, Dilsheimer, Golder, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.
(SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order set for this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 521, as follows:

An Act imposing an emergency State luxury tax providing for its collection restricting the use of the revenue derived therefrom and fixing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That an emergency State tax is hereby imposed on the articles hereinafter named sold in this Commonwealth for any purpose whatsoever except for the purpose of re-sale The tax hereby provided for shall be paid by the person association co-partnership or corporation selling any such article to purchasers who purchase for purposes other than re-sale and shall be paid in the manner hereinafter specified

Section 2 All money derived from the tax hereby imposed shall be applied to the payment of appropriations made prior to the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one and for the payment of appropriations for deficiencies existing prior to the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three Any balance remaining may be applied to any other deficiencies or may be expended for such other purposes as the General Assembly may prescribe

Section 3 There shall be paid upon the following articles sold or leased except for the purpose of re-sale a tax equivalent to the following per centum of the price for which so sold or leased

Cigars and cigarettes five per centum

Plug tobacco smoking tobacco cigarette paper snuff and other tobacco products three per centum

Chewing gum five per centum

Payment of the tax imposed upon any article by the provisions of this act shall be evidenced by an adhesive stamp attached to the package box or container in which or from which the article is sold or if not sold in or from a package box or container then to the article itself Such stamps shall be purchased from the Auditor General of the Commonwealth or any of his duly appointed agents and shall be attached to the package box or container or to the article sold by the person making the sale before the article leaves the possession of the seller except in the cause of cigars sold separately from a box or container where the stamp shall be attached to the box or container when the same is placed on sale and at that time a stamp equal to the tax as ascertained by the value of the cigars in such box or container when sold shall be attached thereto in such manner that when the box or container is opened the stamp will be defaced The seller shall also in the case of cigars cancel such stamp when the same is attached by writing across the face thereof his initials and the date the stamp was attached In all other cases stamps shall be defaced by writing or otherwise in such manner that the same cannot again be used

The Auditor General shall prepare and place on sale at his office or any agency by him appointed adhesive stamps of such denomination as shall be deemed necessary to evidence the payment of the tax herein imposed and such stamp shall plainly show the value thereof which shall be the amount paid therefor as a tax to the Commonwealth

Whenever the Auditor General shall appoint an agent for the sale of stamps for the purpose of paying the State tax herein provided and shall sell consign or deliver to such agent any such stamps for sale or use such agent shall be entitled to receive as compensation for his services and expenses as agent and to retain out of the moneys to be paid by him for such stamps a commission of one percentum of the par value thereof and the Auditor General and State Treasurer are hereby directed and required to allow such commission or compensation in the settlement of the accounts of such agent

Section 5 The Auditor General or any agent appointed in writing by him is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and effects of any person association co-partnership or corporation pertaining to the business made taxable by this act to verify the accuracy of the payments of taxes by the purchase and use of stamps under the provisions of this act and in the collection of said tax the Auditor General and State Treasurer shall have all the powers now vested in them by the laws of the Commonwealth for the collection of State taxes but any information gained by the Auditor General or any other person as a result of the reports investigations or verifications herein required to be made shall be confidential and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or to undergo an imprisonment of not more than one year or both

Section 6 Any person association co-partnership or corporation or the officers directors trustees or members of any association co-partnership or corporation who refuses to permit the Auditor General or any agent appointed by him in writing to examine the books papers or effects of such person association co-partnership or corporation pertaining to the business made taxable by this act or who fails or refuses to attach any adhesive stamp to any article package box or container required to be stamped by this act or attaches any false or fraudulent stamp or who fails to cancel any stamps as required by this act or who does or attempts to do anything whatsoever to avoid a full disclosure of the amount of business done or to avoid the payment of the whole or any part of the tax due shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or in the case of an individual to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six months or both

Section 7 All fines collected under this act shall be paid to the State Treasurer and by him credited and paid as provided in section two hereof

Section 8 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of the act It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

Section 9 This act shall remain in effect until the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five and no longer The expiration of this act shall not relieve any person association co-partnership or corporation from any tax or penalty imposed by this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SPANGLER, Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the motion of the gentleman from Delaware by moving that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion of the gentleman from Delaware not having been seconded, the motion is not in order and cannot be amended.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I call for the order of the day.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the order of the day is this bill, and in support of this ruling will read the decision of a former speaker. On Page 1307, of the 1921-22 edition of Smull's handbook, in the session of 1909, "the consideration of a House Bill was resumed on second reading, as a special order of business. The point of order was raised that the special hour of eight-thirty fixed for the consideration of this bill, having passed, there is now nothing in order but the regular order of business. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken." The Chair rules that the point of order raised by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, is not well taken.

On the question recurring,

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, on the question of the bill then, if the House will not agree to postpone this bill and place us in a position where in the future we might at least have something to hang to, I appeal to the members that in all fairness to this bill we ought to vote for it. I was in hopes that the motion to postpone might prevail. I recognized the fact that the gentleman from York and the gentleman who seconded his motion awhile ago to drop it from the calendar come from two counties in this state, which, I understand manufacture 5 cent cigars and are very much interested in this bill. Practically the only opposition to this bill comes from those two counties. I was in hopes, however, until this House came to some understanding with itself and got down from the frivolous to the real, got down from the comic side to reality, we might be able to put this bill on the postponed calendar and thereby save something that we might have in the future, a bill which we might pass in order to get some revenue. I do not understand how this House can take away from the needy, can take away from the hospitals and schools the money which is needed for these purposes. I cannot understand for the life of me what we are thinking about tonight. In the appropriations Committee at any time when the appropriation bills were voted upon I believe that there were not less than 40 members present. They were all asking for appropriations more than had been recommended, yet at the same time I do not know of anyone who was asking for more than was absolutely necessary, because I do not believe there has been sufficient money recommended, but how are we going to pay unless we raise revenue, I cannot see that there is anything left for us to do if we defeat all of these revenue raisers except to vote down the appropriation bills, because it surely is not good business, it surely does not show a sensible mind to appropriate $140,000,000 and at the same time can only show $112,000,000 with which to pay it. That surely is not what your constituents ask you to do, that surely is not what they elected you to do. It is all right to talk about economy but at the same time we ought to talk a little common sense with it. I, therefore, move you that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar for the present.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Alexander and Mr. Craig and were as follows:

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this perhaps is the most objectionable of any of the tax measures we have to consider this evening, because if this bill is passed it will very materially affect one section of the state including York county, Lancaster county and Philadelphia county, I feel that the House is entirely with me in my opposition to this measure. As it stands on the files today it is indefensible. It would practically ruin one of the important industries of the state and has no reason for being here at such a time as this, and for that reason, Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the Chair will take up the second reading calendar at this time. Are there objections? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 602, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania for the Veterinary School of Medicine

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania for the maintenance and equipment of the School of Veterinary Medicine for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three

Provided however That this appropriation is made upon the condition that any resident of this Commonwealth who shall have resided within the Commonweatlh continuously for a period of two years and who shall be qualified to comply with the entrance requirements of said school and who shall observe the general rules and regulations of the school shall be permitted to attend said school without charge for tuition

Provided further however That no student shall be admitted after the full capacity of the said School of Veterinary Medicine has been reached

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1131, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Board of Trustees of The Philadelphia Museum

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Board of the Trustees of the Philadelphia Museums for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three for the following purposes

For the further distribution of geographical collections and educational material among the public and other free schools of this Commonwealth the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary

For the preparation and installation of exhibits the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1171, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Appropriation Acts two hundred and forty-six) entitled "An Act making an appropriation to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania or the Department of Conservation for the purpose of cooperation with the Government of the United States in making investigations examinations and surveys and in preparing plans and estimates of cost with a view of devising and carrying into effect plans for controlling the flood waters of rivers and their tributaries being either in whole or in part within this Commonwealth" saving said appropriation from lapsing

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Appropriation Acts two hundred and forty-six) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania or the Department of Conservation for the purpose of cooperating with the Government of the United States in making investigations examinations and surveys and in preparing plans and estimates of cost with a view of devising and carrying into effect plans for controlling the flood waters of rivers and their tributaries being either in whole or in part within this Commonwealth" is hereby amended to read as follows

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 7, by striking out the word "officers" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "officer."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the course of my remarks tonight I quoted from a newspaper article which, in turn, was supposed to be a quotation of the remarks of the Commissioner of the Department of Welfare of Pennsylvania. I have since learned from a letter, which was read here by my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmunds, that the Commissioner of Welfare was misquoted in the newspapers. I am genuinely sorry for the remarks which I made in good faith and so far as my remarks have done an injustice to the Commissioner of Welfare, I desire at this time to offer the Commissioner a public apology.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until 11:00 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The motion was agreed to and at 11:59 P. M. the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 11:00 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 15, 1923. No. 57.

SENATE

TUESDAY, MAY 15, 1923.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father: We thank Thee for Thy protecting care which has been round about us during the past night. While we slept, Thou didst watch over us, shielding us from all harm, We thank Thee for the health and strength that enable us to take up the duties of a new day. Be with the members of this body. Bless their homes; bless their business; prosper them in all the affairs of life. Grant them Thy special favor in their legislative work, and may they be guided by heavenly wisdom. Bless our State and Nation, and extend Thy divine blessing to all the peoples of earth. We ask it in the Redeemer's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BALDWIN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTIONS OF ERIE CITY COUNCIL PRAYING FOR RELIEF FROM PRESENT SUGAR SITUATION.

The CHAIR laid before the Senate the following communication which was referred to Committee on Judiciary General.

COUNCIL CHAMBERS

Erie, Pennsylvania, May 4th, 1923.

Resolved, by the Council of the City of Erie, That copies of the resolution protesting against the high prices of sugar this day passed are hereby ordered forwarded by the City Clerk to the Mayors and Presidents of Council of first and second class cities and Mayors and Councilmen of third class cities in Pennsylvania, with a copy of this resolution and that the officials receiving these resolutions are hereby requested to give this subject serious consideration and to take similar action if in their judgment it seems right and proper.

COUNCIL CHAMBERS

Erie, Pennsylvania, May 4th, 1923.

Whereas, the price of sugar has risen until now it is and has been for some time past unreasonable and prohibitive and burdensome to the great majority of our people and threatens to become even more distressing since the annual season for canning and preserving fruits and vegetables is fast approaching; and

Whereas, the prohibitive and exhorbitant prices are beyond the control of any local dealers and are the result of a national condition either brought about by the high tariff or the operations of speculators and gamblers, which condition should not be tolerated further and must be corrected by the force of the government;

Therefore, Be it Resolved by the Council of the City of Erie, That His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, and the Legislature of the Commonwealth are hereby petitioned and implored to adopt every means within their powers to bring prompt relief and to transmit to the proper federal officials and bodies and official protest and demand for immediate relief and legal prosecution of guilty persons; and

Be it further Resolved, That the City Clerk is hereby directed to send copies of this resolution, properly certified, to the Governor of the Commonwealth and to the officials of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State Legislature.

May 4, 1923. City Council adopt by yeas Messrs. Eichhorn, Kinney, Mehaffey, Schmelzer and Kitts. 5. Nays. 0.

May 4, 1923. Signed by the Mayor. Attested by the City Clerk.

City Clerk's Office, Erie, Pa., May 7, 1923.

I hereby certify the foregoing to be a full, true and correct copy of original resolution remaining on file in this office.

F. HANLON.
City Clerk.
